British Labor Direction Plan Wins Support

Employers, Unions Approve Program

LONDON, Aug. 13—(AP)—The Labor government moved swiftly tonight under its new and sweeping powers to deal with Britain's economic crisis as a conference of employers' and trade unionists stamped approval on the government draft of an order providing for limited direction of labor in most fields of industry.

Under terms of the order, to take effect October 1, labor direction will be achieved by channeling all job applicants through government-established labor exchanges. These agencies will be given the power to direct them into essential industries.

The approval was given at a conference of Labor Minister George Isaacs with representatives of the British Employers' Confederation and the powerful British Trade Union Congress.

Many Workers Exempted

Men and women employed in a professional, administrative, executive or managerial capacity were exempted, as were dock workers and merchant seamen, whose hiring already is regulated by industrial agreements. Employment in coal mining, agriculture and the building and civil engineering industries is already subject to government control.

Men 18 through 50 and women 18 through 40 — except women with children under 15 living with them—are covered by the order.

The conferees also agreed that there should be increased working hours, when fuel supplies permit, in essential industries.

The adjournment tonight of the House of Commons left the Labor government free to cope with the economic crisis under practically unlimited emergency powers.

In another phase of the economic picture a British delegation prepared to fly to Washington for talks on revising the British-American loan agreement.

House Of Lords Breaks Tradition

The Labor-dominated House of Commons voted adjournment until October 20, but the strongly Conservative House of Lords broke tradition by adjourning only until September 9 so that it can review—if not take action upon—whatever the government does with it strengthened authority. The Lords gave reluctant agreement to the emergency powers.

The 198 to 84 vote in the House of Commons to take the customary nine-week recess came after Acting Conservative Leader Anthony Eden, declaring that the American loan would be exhausted during the long vacation, urged that the house reassemble on September 16.

"We cannot be spectators while the government do the splits over an ever-widening abyss," he asserted.

Opposition Leader Winston Churchill took no vacation. His impending broadcast to the nation was put forward from next Sunday to Saturday night, indicating that it would be of a political character and an attack on the government's announced crisis plans.

Bob Allen Pinch-Hits For Drew Pearson

Yesterday Drew Pearson left his readers up in the air by announcing that he was going on his vacation and that the column would be written during his absence by the "best reporter in Washington."

Today if you turn to page 4 you will discover who is batting for Pearson—Robert S. Allen, for many years Pearson's partner in writing the Washington Merry-Go-Round.

We think you will agree with Drew's description of Bob Allen's writing, and that you will enjoy Bob's vacation pinch-hitting. Read his column regularly in the Cumberland News.

NO WEDDING BELLS?—Sally Wilson, 48, (left), refused yesterday to believe a police report that Bobbie Dameworth (right), her 20-year-old bridegroom-to-be, had left her to return to his Kentucky home and would not be on hand for their marriage Saturday. Police Lt. Walter Clinton said Bobbie apparently had been spirited back home by relatives opposed to his marriage with red-haired Sally, which would have been her fifth.

Scores Are Slain As India Prepares For Independence

Bodies Of 105 Dead Counted In Lahore

LAHORE, India, Aug. 13, (AP)—With the partition of the Punjab into Indian and Pakistan zones only a little more than 24 hours away, the vast northern province experienced tonight its bloodiest orgy of violence and fire in five months of communal rioting.

Lahore counted its casualties in the hundreds and reports of serious rioting poured into the capital from the west and east Punjab countryside.

At 8 p. m. (9 a. m., Eastern Standard Time), an Associated Press correspondent counted the bodies of 105 persons killed since dawn and taken to Lahore's Mayo Hospital.

Communal registers kept by volunteers at the hospital showed there were 99 Sikhs and Hindus killed in knife attacks and six Moslems killed by military and police gunfire. Sixty wounded persons also were admitted to the Mayo Hospital.

Several times during the day, the police and military units opened fire on the rioters. Eyewitnesses said many bodies still were lying in the streets.

Buildings along several central Lahore streets were burning fiercely tonight, among them the famous Anarkali Bazaar where quantities of valuable merchandise had been kept.

Welcome For Freedom

NEW DELHI, Aug. 13, (AP) — The last stroke of midnight tomorrow night will find the Constituent Assembly already in session, determined not to waste a minute of India's August 15 independence day and prepared to function as the chief legislative body of a land of free men.

The birth of freedom finds terrorists still stalking sections of Punjab, Bengal and elsewhere in demonstrations of fury over certain phases of the division of those provinces between Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan.

But the sufferers from such violence, though numerous, still represent only a tiny fraction of this broad sub-continent's 400,000,000 people, and officials have taxed their ingenuity trying to devise something wonderful enough to celebrate the end of British rule.

Karachi, new capital of Pakistan, where the big show will be tomorrow, and New Delhi, capital of India, where independence comes Friday, will be the two hubs about which will revolve impressive and colorful ceremonies.

Bashful Boy "Skips Out" On Divorcee

DETROIT, Aug. 13—(AP)—Plump, 48-year-old Sally Wilson refused today to believe a police report that her 20-year-old bridegroom - to - be had left her to return to his old Kentucky home.

They had planned to be married Saturday, she said.

But Police Lt. Walter Clinton said bashful Bobbie Dameworth apparently had been spirited back to Kentucky by relatives opposed to his marriage with red-haired Sally, who prefers the dance floor to the kitchen.

Mrs. Wilson told police that Bobbie, an Army veteran, had been placed "under lock and key" by his brother to prevent their marriage, which would have been her fifth.

Will Give Him Another Chance

She said she would seek police permission to search the brother's house for the missing youth, who is younger than her youngest child.

Sally, who admitted that "I've had my best days already," indicated that she was ready to give Bobbie another chance if he wants it.

"If he gets away from his brother," she announced, "we'll thrash it out. Then I'll make him stay away for two or three weeks and if he still wants to marry me, I'll marry the boy."

She said she met Dameworth at a dance and that, for six months, he "pestered" her to marry him, "getting on his hands and knees and begging for hours at a time."

Divorced Three Times

"He wouldn't take no for an answer," she continued. "It wasn't my idea. I think he's too young. After all he is a nice boy. I told him I didn't love him and tried to discourage him. But he said 'I'll make you love me.'"

Mrs. Wilson, who came to Detroit from Tennessee in 1947, was divorced three times after her first husband died.

"I don't know why these fellows keep pestering me to marry them," she mused. "I can't cook. I guess it's because I like to dance. I go dancing every night. That's how I meet my men."

Death Runs Down High Tension Line

HAWKINS, Wis., Aug. 13 (AP) — Death ran down a 33,000-volt electric power line today, killing one man instantly, setting fire to his helper's house and then climaxing the day by claiming the wife of the coroner investigating the electrocution.

Dead were Clarence Wall, 65, a prominent farmer, and Mrs. Elmer Peterson.

Wall and a neighbor, Kenneth Willis, were repairing a telephone line blown down by a storm near their home. Willis mounted a telephone pole, planning to secure the broken ends when Wall handed them to him. Wall, on the ground, tightened the lines, causing them to snap against the high tension wires of the Lake Superior District Power Company passing overhead. He was killed instantly.

Simultaneously, the wall telephone in Willis' home a mile down the road burst into flames, caused apparently by the high voltage skimming down the wires.

Coroner Elmer Peterson, of Bruce, called following Wall's death, was summoned home during his investigation by word his wife had died.

$3,000 For $11,800

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(AP)—Frank Wortenberg lost $11,800 in cash today when he left his briefcase containing the money in a subway. Here from Sacramento, Calif., to buy used cars, Wortenberg has offered $3,000 reward for return of the money.

Jaffa Clashes Of Arabs, Jews Bring Curfew

Repetition Of 1936 Uprising Is Feared

JERUSALEM, Aug. 13—(AP)—The Palestine government imposed a rigid night-time curfew on two predominantly Arab quarters of Jaffa in an effort to sheath the knife of a racial outbreak which brought a sporadic rock battle and death and stab wounds today to 18 Jews and Arabs.

The curfew was the first clamped on any Arab area since the 1936-39 Arab revolt, and veteran police officers expressed fear that events of this week presaged racial strife such as bathed the Holy Land in blood a decade ago.

11 Killed In Four Days

One police inspector declared, "it began just this way in 1936, only this time you can bet it will be tougher."

In the four days since Sunday, Arab-Jewish clashes have brought death to 11 persons, including seven Jews and four Arabs, and wounds to 26 Jews and 12 Arabs.

Two Arabs and one Jew were killed, and nine Arabs and six Jews suffered stab wounds today in 10 incidents which aggravated the already tense situation in the Manshief and Carton quarters of Jaffa.

Later in the day the body of an Arab was found propped against a tree in an orange grove near Givat Ramban, between Tel Aviv and Ramat Gan. He had been shot to death. A police source said the man had been identified tentatively as one of a group of robbers which raided a Tel Aviv cafe Sunday. Four Jews and one other Arab were killed in the cafe.

Streets Are Patrolled

Mixed military and police squads tonight patrolled the squalid, narrow streets of the two quarters—a virtual no-man's land between all-Arab Jaffa and all-Jewish Tel Aviv.

About 22,000 Arabs and 5,500 Jews live in this area, a "finger" of Jaffa 600 yards wide and half a mile long which reaches into Tel Aviv.

The series of clashes was set off by an attack on a bicycling Jewish news vendor who was beaten and stabbed. An Armed Jewish band fired about 30 shots into the Carton quarter, and when police arrived all street lights had been extinguished.

About dawn groups of young Jews began picketing the markets on Carmel Street, the "border street" between Jaffa and Tel Aviv, to prevent Jewish housewives from patronizing Arab dealers.

Stones Hurled For Hours

Stores hastily put up their shutters and Arabs and Jews arranged hemselves in groups on opposite sides of the "border" street,.

British and Jewish police tried to disperse the threatening groups, but skirmishes flared up. Stones were hurled back and forth sporadically for hours. A Jewish truck driver was fatally stabbed by members of an Arab crowd who stopped his truck and dragged him from behind the wheel on King Feisal Street. His two Jewish helpers were wounded.

One Arab was killed in a border clash between Jews and Arabs after Arabs had attacked two Jews in the Yemenite quarter of Tel Aviv. The second Arab was found dead on the sidewalk near the Mediterranean shore, his body slashed with a long knife.

The clashes, like the tension, spread deeper into both Tel Aviv and Jaffa.

Goodrich Will Bargain On Company-Wide Basis

AKRON, O., Aug. 13 (AP) — A strike of 30,000 workers in B. F. Goodrich Company plants across the nation apparently was averted today when the company agreed to bargain on a company-wide basis with the CIO-United Rubber Workers.

L. S. Buckmaster, the union's international president, requested locals to call off their scheduled walkout. The Akron local numbers some 15,000 workers.

The stoppage was scheduled to start tomorrow and affect all Goodrich plants by August 19 as contracts expired.

Plants that would have been involved are at Akron; Los Angeles; Cadillac, Mich.; Miami, Okla.; Oaks, Pa., and Clarksburg, Tenn.

U. S. Delegation Leaves For Rio

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13, (AP) — This country's leaders in foreign affairs took off for the Rio de Janeiro defense conference today hoping to set the world an example in international co-operation—a hope in which President Truman joined.

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressed the hope as he boarded the plane with Secretary of State Marshall and Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the United Nations, and Mr. Truman said, "I agree with that."

"I anticipate," Vandenberg said, "that Rio will restore active Pan American unity—all for one and one for all against any Western hemisphere aggression.

"I also anticipate that Rio will set an excellent example to our parent organization, the United Nations, as to how peace-living neighbors, big or little, should co-operate."

Similarly Austin declared that the "United Nations needs this spirit of the Western Hemisphere."

Mr. Truman, who drove to the airport to wish the delegation "good luck," expressed wishes for "a happy and successful trip and a successful conference."

The conference of hemisphere foreign ministers, opening Friday, is to write a treaty for military defense against aggression. The American delegates were optimistic over its prospects.

United States Counters Marshal Tito's Blast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13, (AP) — The United States today countered a blast from Marshal Tito with a reminder of more than $320,000,000 of assistance given Yugoslavia.

An unusual statement by the State Department noted that Yugoslavia's share of the UNRRA program was more than $400,000,000 and that the United States paid over 72 per cent of UNRRA's expenses.

In addition the United States supplied Yugoslav wartime forces at home and abroad with $32,000,000 worth of lend-lease materials, it was noted.

Tito on August 7 had charged the United States with trying to build "some kind of economic blockade" against Yugoslavia and asserted his country could not expect "unselfish, sincere" help.

Legitimate Profits Not Target Of Probe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The government reported a big jump in corporate cash dividends today as newly-declared war on high prices is not aimed at "legitimate profits."

But his order for an investigation of food, clothing and housing prices brought him heavy kicks and warm congratulations.

The Commerce Department said dividends publicly reported by corporations in June climbed to $609,400,000—18 per cent over June, 1946. For the second quarter of the year—April-May-June — they pushed up to $1,157,500,000, a 16 per cent increase over last year.

And dividends from the retailers and wholesalers soared 42 per cent for the quarter.

The for-and-against comment on the Justice Department's price inquiry rolled along like this:

1. Rep. Crawford (R-Mich) blamed administration policies for high prices. He called it "fantastic" for Clark to order his anti-trust division to see whether "conspiracies" exist to hold up or inflate prices.

Not Enough, Rieve Says

2. Emil Rieve, chairman of the CIO's Full Employment Committee, welcomed the Justice Department probe but said it isn't enough. So he called again in a statemqent for President Truman to arrange a national conference to try for voluntary price cuts, and for restoration of price controls and rationing by Congress.

3. The Georgia and Texas agriculture commissioners challenged Rieve's statement that labor may have to press for higher pay. High wages for labor, they said in a statement issued here through the Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture, are the big factor in high food costs.

4. W. O. Swanson, president of he National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, urged the mills to reconsider "all the elements involved" in an attempt to keep prices of men's suits from rising next spring.

5. C. Wilson Harder, president of the National Federation of Small Business, wired Clark "congratulations" and an offer of "complete co-operation" in the Justice Department's price probe.

Thrust At Rieves

6. The master of the National Grange, Albert S. Goss, said in a statement that it doesn't take an anti-trust division lawyer to determine that wages are the main item in increased costs. And, in an obvious thrust at Rieve, he said those demanding food prices be rolled back to June, 1946, "would be the first to oppose a similar roll-back of wages."

U. S. Cigaret Smokers Set All-Time Record

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—(AP)—Americans smoked 327,000,000,000 cigarets in the year ending June 30, a new all-time record—and an average consumption of 6.34 daily for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Disclosing this today, the Agriculture Department said total United States production soared to 360,000,000,000 cigarets, including exports, or nearly twice the prewar figure. In 1940, the last prewar year, United States production totalled 189,371,258,000.

Vessel Sinks After Crash; Crew Saved

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Aug. 13 —(AP)—Struck a mortal blow in a collision in a night fog, the Alaskan motorship Diamond Knot sank today as tugs pulled it near shore, carrying back to the ocean depths a rich cargo of salmon caught only a few weeks ago in Alaska waters.

An Alaska Steamship Company spokesman estimated the value of the 154,000 cases of canned salmon lost at upwards of $3,000,000.

The Diamond Knot and the 10,681-ton freighter Fenn Victory collided shortly after 1 a. m. (PST) but none of the 38 crew members of the Diamond Knot nor the Fenn Victory's crew of 46 was lost.

The master of the Fenn Victory, which plowed eight feet into the Diamond Knot amidship, held his bow against the stricken Alaska vessel to keep it from sinking and the vessels were carried along in the strong tide and ocean current about 10 miles from the cohision scene.

Finally, tugs and other small vessels arrived and after daybreak the ships were pulled apart and two tugs and the big Salvage Chieftain put lines on the Diamond Knot to pull it to shore. It sank about a mile off shore, off Crescent Bay west of here.

Capt. C. N. Goodwin and his crew reached here early this afternoon on the Salvage Chieftain but declined to talk with newsmen about the crash.

The 321-foot Diamond Knot, operated jointly by the Alaska Steamship Company, and the Maritime Commission, was valued by the commission at $694,000 in 1946. It was listed as a 5,525-ton ship.

It sank in approximately 15 fathoms of water, the Coast Guard said. At Seattle, insurance brokers said crews would attempt to see if part of the salmon cargo could be salvaged.

The Fenn Victory, little harmed, was to return to Seattle today.

Preliminary Recount Of Ballots Completed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13 (AP) — A preliminary recount of ballots cast in Maryand's senatorial contest of last November has been completed, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections announced today.

The investigation was ordered after Col. D. John Markey, Republican candidate, charged irregularities in a contest which resulted in a victory for Sen. O'Conner (R-Md) by a narrow margin.

Jenner said approximately 190,000 ballots had been reviewed since June 2.

Talks To Ease Terms Of Loan To Britain Set

Will Begin Monday; London Parley Due

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP) — Britain tapped its dwindling American loan for an additional $150,000,000 today as the United States accelerated moves to prevent the European economic crisis from becoming a collapse.

Underscoring the gravity of the situation came this series of developments:

1. The United States and Britain agreed to begin talks here Monday on modifying the terms of the British loan.

2. Arrangements virtually were completed for a conference of the United States, Britain and France in London next week on increasing Germany's industrial production to aid in European reconstruction.

3. British withdrawal of another $150,000,000 of the loan left only $850,000,000 of the original $3,750,000,000. Treasury officials estimated that continuance of the withdrawal at the present rate would mean exhaustion of the loan by October 1, where the British had expected it to last until next June 30.

Ruhr Coal Output Rises

4. The Anglo-American search for means of increasing vital coal production in Germany's Ruhr Valley, in its second day here, had one cheery note—word that the output had gone up there last week.

5. Both the United States Treasury and British financial circles pooh-poohed reports in London that this country, in a move to increase the flow of dollars in foreign exchange, was planning to boost the price paid for gold from $45 to $50 an ounce.

The closely-linked nature of the three conferences—on the British loan, the Ruhr coal and the level of German industrial production — made it probable that they would be followed by a larger get-together later to put together the piecemeal findings.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, in announcing next week's talks with British treasury officials, said they will be limited to discussion on modifying the terms of the loan.

This will deal with two features in particular: First, a provision which requires Britain to provide dollars for pounds in some current trade transactions, and second, a clause which prevents Britain from reducing purchases in the United States in order to buy in the dominions where she can use pounds instead of dollars.

Talks May Be Widened

The British delegation, under the direction of Second Treasury Secretary Sir William Eady, already was on its way from London, and there was no guarantee that an attempt would not be made—as in the case of the Ruhr coal production — to widen the talks.

The British might seek to have them include the possibility of revising the present 50-50 agreement for sharing occupation costs in the British and American zones of Germany.

The United States will be represented at the conference by the powerful National Advisory Council, headed by Snyder and including officials of the State and Commerce Departments and the heads of the Export-Import Bank and the Federal Reserve System.

Roxas Calls For Speedy Peace Treaty With Japan

MANILA, Thursday, Aug. 14—(AP) —The Filipino people as well as other peoples of Asia "are clamoring for speedy conclusion of a peace treaty with Japan," President Roxas declared today in a V-J anniversary speech.

"They cannot understand why it should be further delayed."

Roxas' message, prepared for broadcast to the American people, was recorded here by the Philippine Broadcasting Company and flown to the United States for release through the ABC network.

Speedy conclusion of the treaty "is essential to restoration of mutually beneficial economic relations and will prove a stabilizing influence in this part of the world," Roxas argued.

Heat, Humidity Hold Steamy Grip On East; Mercury Drops In Midwest

[By The Associated Press]

Heat and its ally, humidity, held a steamy grip on the eastern seaboard area Wednesday as cooler air and scattered showers began breaking up a four-day heat wave in the Midwest.

As the mercury shot up into the high nineties in some eastern areas, scores of workers walked out of mills in Woonsocket, R. I., complaining of the heat and humidity, and many government departments in Washington sent their employes home early.

At Portland, Me., the temperature went up to 98, one degree higher than the all time record for the date set in 1944. One heat death was reported in East Boston, Mass., where the temperature rose to 97 degrees shortly after noon.

However, in the sun-baked Midwest where hundred degree plus temperatures have been common during the last 10 days, the main corn belt states began experiencing cooler weather.

The cool air mass from Canada and the Dakotas will spread eastward by tomorrow night to Central Illinois and Northern Indiana, forecasters said. Widely scattered showers accompanying the cooler air will bring some local benefit but no lasting relief to the thirsting corn and garden crops, they added.

The cooler air, however, was not expected to extend as far as Southern Illinois and Southern Indiana, in the parched Ohio River Valley.

Maryland cities recorded new high temperatures for the year yesterday as the weather man promised more to come.

Frederick suffered its hottest day since July 19, 1946, with the mercury at 97 degrees.

The same level prevailed at Hagerstown, marking a new record for the current year.

Insurgents Report Decisive Battle For Paraguayan Capital Is Raging

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 13—(AP)—Paraguayan insurgent sources in Argentina said today rebel and government troops were fighting a decisive battle for possession of Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital, in the northern part of the city around the foreign embassies and the famous botanical garden.

Other reports from Rebel quarters said the Insurgents, locked in civil war with government troops for the past five months, were bolstering their northern attack with a major assault on the southeast sector of Asuncion—the slum and workingmen's district—and a waterborne slash at Puerto Sajonia, in the southern part of the city on the Paraguay River.

News dispatches from Formosa, Argentina, on the Paraguay frontier, said the Rebels captured the private residence of Higinio Morinigo, president of Paraguay, in the northern part of the city, and that the house later was destroyed by fire. Morinigo's official dwelling is part of the innermost redoubt in the center of the city.

The Insurgent radio claimed Rebel planes sank three small government vessels in the Paraguay River.

The government radio in Asuncion, heard in Buenor Aires, said a rebel plane dropped four bombs on Asuncion this morning and that two of them exploded, causing no damage. The only casualty was a woman who suffered minor injuries.

The United States embassy in Asuncion, presumably near the scene of the heaviest fighting, notified American authorities here that 30 American citizens, mostly women and children, were living under embassy protection in an Asuncion hotel.

British Labor Direction Plan Wins Support

Employers, Unions Approve Program

LONDON, Aug. 13—(AP)—The Labor government moved swiftly tonight under its new and sweeping powers to deal with Britain's economic crisis as a conference of employers' and trade unionists stamped approval on the government draft of an order providing for limited direction of labor in most fields of industry.

Under terms of the order, to take effect October 1, labor direction will be achieved by channeling all job applicants through government-established labor exchanges. These agencies will be given the power to direct them into essential industries.

The approval was given at a conference of Labor Minister George Isaacs with representatives of the British Employers' Confederation and the powerful British Trade Union Congress.

Many Workers Exempted

Men and women employed in a professional, administrative, executive or managerial capacity were exempted, as were dock workers and merchant seamen, whose hiring already is regulated by industrial agreements. Employment in coal mining, agriculture and the building and civil engineering industries is already subject to government control.

Men 18 through 50 and women 18 through 40 — except women with children under 15 living with them—are covered by the order.

The conferees also agreed that there should be increased working hours, when fuel supplies permit, in essential industries.

The adjournment tonight of the House of Commons left the Labor government free to cope with the economic crisis under practically unlimited emergency powers.

In another phase of the economic picture a British delegation prepared to fly to Washington for talks on revising the British-American loan agreement.

House Of Lords Breaks Tradition

The Labor-dominated House of Commons voted adjournment until October 20, but the strongly Conservative House of Lords broke tradition by adjourning only until September 9 so that it can review—if not take action upon—whatever the government does with it strengthened authority. The Lords gave reluctant agreement to the emergency powers.

The 198 to 84 vote in the House of Commons to take the customary nine-week recess came after Acting Conservative Leader Anthony Eden, declaring that the American loan would be exhausted during the long vacation, urged that the house reassemble on September 16.

"We cannot be spectators while the government do the splits over an ever-widening abyss," he asserted.

Opposition Leader Winston Churchill took no vacation. His impending broadcast to the nation was put forward from next Sunday to Saturday night, indicating that it would be of a political character and an attack on the government's announced crisis plans.

Bob Allen Pinch-Hits For Drew Pearson

Yesterday Drew Pearson left his readers up in the air by announcing that he was going on his vacation and that the column would be written during his absence by the "best reporter in Washington."

Today if you turn to page 4 you will discover who is batting for Pearson—Robert S. Allen, for many years Pearson's partner in writing the Washington Merry-Go-Round.

Bodies Of 105 Dead Counted In Lahore

LAHORE, India, Aug. 13, (AP)—With the partition of the Punjab into Indian and Pakistan zones only a little more than 24 hours away, the vast northern province experienced tonight its bloodiest orgy of violence and fire in five months of communal rioting.

Lahore counted its casualties in the hundreds and reports of serious rioting poured into the capital from the west and east Punjab countryside.

At 8 p. m. (9 a. m., Eastern Standard Time), an Associated Press correspondent counted the bodies of 105 persons killed since dawn and taken to Lahore's Mayo Hospital.

Communal registers kept by volunteers at the hospital showed there were 99 Sikhs and Hindus killed in knife attacks and six Moslems killed by military and police gunfire. Sixty wounded persons also were admitted to the Mayo Hospital.

Several times during the day, the police and military units opened fire on the rioters. Eyewitnesses said many bodies still were lying in the streets.

Buildings along several central Lahore streets were burning fiercely tonight, among them the famous Anarkali Bazaar where quantities of valuable merchandise had been kept.

Welcome For Freedom

NEW DELHI, Aug. 13, (AP) — The last stroke of midnight tomorrow night will find the Constituent Assembly already in session, determined not to waste a minute of India's August 15 independence day and prepared to function as the chief legislative body of a land of free men.

The birth of freedom finds terrorists still stalking sections of Punjab, Bengal and elsewhere in demonstrations of fury over certain phases of the division of those provinces between Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan.

But the sufferers from such violence, though numerous, still represent only a tiny fraction of this broad sub-continent's 400,000,000 people, and officials have taxed their ingenuity trying to devise something wonderful enough to celebrate the end of British rule.

Karachi, new capital of Pakistan, where the big show will be tomorrow, and New Delhi, capital of India, where independence comes Friday, will be the two hubs about which will revolve impressive and colorful ceremonies.

Bashful Boy "Skips Out" On Divorcee

DETROIT, Aug. 13—(AP)—Plump, 48-year-old Sally Wilson refused today to believe a police report that her 20-year-old bridegroom - to - be had left her to return to his old Kentucky home.

They had planned to be married Saturday, she said.

But Police Lt. Walter Clinton said bashful Bobbie Dameworth apparently had been spirited back to Kentucky by relatives opposed to his marriage with red-haired Sally, who prefers the dance floor to the kitchen.

Mrs. Wilson told police that Bobbie, an Army veteran, had been placed "under lock and key" by his brother to prevent their marriage, which would have been her fifth.

Will Give Him Another Chance

She said she would seek police permission to search the brother's house for the missing youth, who is younger than her youngest child.

Sally, who admitted that "I've had my best days already," indicated that she was ready to give Bobbie another chance if he wants it.

"If he gets away from his brother," she announced, "we'll thrash it out. Then I'll make him stay away for two or three weeks and if he still wants to marry me, I'll marry the boy."

She said she met Dameworth at a dance and that, for six months, he "pestered" her to marry him, "getting on his hands and knees and begging for hours at a time."

Divorced Three Times

"He wouldn't take no for an answer," she continued. "It wasn't my idea. I think he's too young. After all he is a nice boy. I told him I didn't love him and tried to discourage him. But he said 'I'll make you love me.'"

Mrs. Wilson, who came to Detroit from Tennessee in 1947, was divorced three times after her first husband died.

"I don't know why these fellows keep pestering me to marry them," she mused. "I can't cook. I guess it's because I like to dance. I go dancing every night. That's how I meet my men."

Death Runs Down High Tension Line

HAWKINS, Wis., Aug. 13 (AP) — Death ran down a 33,000-volt electric power line today, killing one man instantly, setting fire to his helper's house and then climaxing the day by claiming the wife of the coroner investigating the electrocution.

Dead were Clarence Wall, 65, a prominent farmer, and Mrs. Elmer Peterson.

Wall and a neighbor, Kenneth Willis, were repairing a telephone line blown down by a storm near their home. Willis mounted a telephone pole, planning to secure the broken ends when Wall handed them to him. Wall, on the ground, tightened the lines, causing them to snap against the high tension wires of the Lake Superior District Power Company passing overhead. He was killed instantly.

Simultaneously, the wall telephone in Willis' home a mile down the road burst into flames, caused apparently by the high voltage skimming down the wires.

Coroner Elmer Peterson, of Bruce, called following Wall's death, was summoned home during his investigation by word his wife had died.

$3,000 For $11,800

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(AP)—Frank Wortenberg lost $11,800 in cash today when he left his briefcase containing the money in a subway. Here from Sacramento, Calif., to buy used cars, Wortenberg has offered $3,000 reward for return of the money.

Jaffa Clashes Of Arabs, Jews Bring Curfew

Repetition Of 1936 Uprising Is Feared

JERUSALEM, Aug. 13—(AP)—The Palestine government imposed a rigid night-time curfew on two predominantly Arab quarters of Jaffa in an effort to sheath the knife of a racial outbreak which brought a sporadic rock battle and death and stab wounds today to 18 Jews and Arabs.

The curfew was the first clamped on any Arab area since the 1936-39 Arab revolt, and veteran police officers expressed fear that events of this week presaged racial strife such as bathed the Holy Land in blood a decade ago.

11 Killed In Four Days

One police inspector declared, "it began just this way in 1936, only this time you can bet it will be tougher."

In the four days since Sunday, Arab-Jewish clashes have brought death to 11 persons, including seven Jews and four Arabs, and wounds to 26 Jews and 12 Arabs.

Two Arabs and one Jew were killed, and nine Arabs and six Jews suffered stab wounds today in 10 incidents which aggravated the already tense situation in the Manshief and Carton quarters of Jaffa.

Later in the day the body of an Arab was found propped against a tree in an orange grove near Givat Ramban, between Tel Aviv and Ramat Gan. He had been shot to death. A police source said the man had been identified tentatively as one of a group of robbers which raided a Tel Aviv cafe Sunday. Four Jews and one other Arab were killed in the cafe.

Streets Are Patrolled

Mixed military and police squads tonight patrolled the squalid, narrow streets of the two quarters—a virtual no-man's land between all-Arab Jaffa and all-Jewish Tel Aviv.

About 22,000 Arabs and 5,500 Jews live in this area, a "finger" of Jaffa 600 yards wide and half a mile long which reaches into Tel Aviv.

The series of clashes was set off by an attack on a bicycling Jewish news vendor who was beaten and stabbed. An Armed Jewish band fired about 30 shots into the Carton quarter, and when police arrived all street lights had been extinguished.

About dawn groups of young Jews began picketing the markets on Carmel Street, the "border street" between Jaffa and Tel Aviv, to prevent Jewish housewives from patronizing Arab dealers.

Stones Hurled For Hours

Stores hastily put up their shutters and Arabs and Jews arranged themselves in groups on opposite sides of the "border" street.

British and Jewish police tried to disperse the threatening groups, but skirmishes flared up. Stones were hurled back and forth sporadically for hours. A Jewish truck driver was fatally stabbed by members of an Arab crowd who stopped his truck and dragged him from behind the wheel on King Feisal Street. His two Jewish helpers were wounded.

One Arab was killed in a border clash between Jews and Arabs after Arabs had attacked two Jews in the Yemenite quarter of Tel Aviv. The second Arab was found dead on the sidewalk near the Mediterranean shore, his body slashed with a long knife.

The clashes, like the tension, spread deeper into both Tel Aviv and Jaffa.

Goodrich Will Bargain On Company-Wide Basis

AKRON, O., Aug. 13 (AP) — A strike of 30,000 workers in B. F. Goodrich Company plants across the nation apparently was averted today when the company agreed to bargain on a company-wide basis with the CIO-United Rubber Workers.

L. S. Buckmaster, the union's international president, requested locals to call off their scheduled walkout. The Akron local numbers some 15,000 workers.

The stoppage was scheduled to start tomorrow and affect all Goodrich plants by August 19 as contracts expired.

U. S. Delegation Leaves For Rio

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13, (AP) — This country's leaders in foreign affairs took off for the Rio de Janeiro defense conference today hoping to set the world an example in international co-operation—a hope in which President Truman joined.

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressed the hope as he boarded the plane with Secretary of State Marshall and Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the United Nations, and Mr. Truman said, "I agree with that."

"I anticipate," Vandenberg said, "that Rio will restore active Pan American unity—all for one and one for all against any Western hemisphere aggression.

"I also anticipate that Rio will set an excellent example to our parent organization, the United Nations, as to how peace-living neighbors, big or little, should co-operate."

Similarly Austin declared that the "United Nations needs this spirit of the Western Hemisphere."

Mr. Truman, who drove to the airport to wish the delegation "good luck," expressed wishes for "a happy and successful trip and a successful conference."

The conference of hemisphere foreign ministers, opening Friday, is to write a treaty for military defense against aggression. The American delegates were optimistic over its prospects.

United States Counters Marshal Tito's Blast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13, (AP) — The United States today countered a blast from Marshal Tito with a reminder of more than $320,000,000 of assistance given Yugoslavia.

An unusual statement by the State Department noted that Yugoslavia's share of the UNRRA program was more than $400,000,000 and that the United States paid over 72 per cent of UNRRA's expenses.

In addition the United States supplied Yugoslav wartime forces at home and abroad with $32,000,000 worth of lend-lease materials, it was noted.

Tito on August 7 had charged the United States with trying to build "some kind of economic blockade" against Yugoslavia and asserted his country could not expect "unselfish, sincere" help.

Legitimate Profits Not Target Of Probe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The government reported a big jump in corporate cash dividends today as newly-declared war on high prices is not aimed at "legitimate profits."

But his order for an investigation of food, clothing and housing prices brought him heavy kicks and warm congratulations.

The Commerce Department said dividends publicly reported by corporations in June climbed to $609,400,000—18 per cent over June, 1946. For the second quarter of the year—April-May-June — they pushed up to $1,157,500,000, a 16 per cent increase over last year.

And dividends from the retailers and wholesalers soared 42 per cent for the quarter.

The for-and-against comment on the Justice Department's price inquiry rolled along like this:

1. Rep. Crawford (R-Mich) blamed administration policies for high prices. He called it "fantastic" for Clark to order his anti-trust division to see whether "conspiracies" exist to hold up or inflate prices.

Not Enough, Rieve Says

2. Emil Rieve, chairman of the CIO's Full Employment Committee, welcomed the Justice Department probe but said it isn't enough. So he called again in a statemqent for President Truman to arrange a national conference to try for voluntary price cuts, and for restoration of price controls and rationing by Congress.

3. The Georgia and Texas agriculture commissioners challenged Rieve's statement that labor may have to press for higher pay. High wages for labor, they said in a statement issued here through the Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture, are the big factor in high food costs.

4. W. O. Swanson, president of he National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, urged the mills to reconsider "all the elements involved" in an attempt to keep prices of men's suits from rising next spring.

5. C. Wilson Harder, president of the National Federation of Small Business, wired Clark "congratulations" and an offer of "complete co-operation" in the Justice Department's price probe.

Thrust At Rieves

6. The master of the National Grange, Albert S. Goss, said in a statement that it doesn't take an anti-trust division lawyer to determine that wages are the main item in increased costs. And, in an obvious thrust at Rieve, he said those demanding food prices be rolled back to June, 1946, "would be the first to oppose a similar roll-back of wages."

U. S. Cigaret Smokers Set All-Time Record

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—(AP)—Americans smoked 327,000,000,000 cigarets in the year ending June 30, a new all-time record—and an average consumption of 6.34 daily for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Disclosing this today, the Agriculture Department said total United States production soared to 360,000,000,000 cigarets, including exports, or nearly twice the prewar figure. In 1940, the last prewar year, United States production totalled 189,371,258,000.

Vessel Sinks After Crash; Crew Saved

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Aug. 13 —(AP)—Struck a mortal blow in a collision in a night fog, the Alaskan motorship Diamond Knot sank today as tugs pulled it near shore, carrying back to the ocean depths a rich cargo of salmon caught only a few weeks ago in Alaska waters.

An Alaska Steamship Company spokesman estimated the value of the 154,000 cases of canned salmon lost at upwards of $3,000,000.

The Diamond Knot and the 10,681-ton freighter Fenn Victory collided shortly after 1 a. m. (PST) but none of the 38 crew members of the Diamond Knot nor the Fenn Victory's crew of 46 was lost.

The master of the Fenn Victory, which plowed eight feet into the Diamond Knot amidship, held his bow against the stricken Alaska vessel to keep it from sinking and the vessels were carried along in the strong tide and ocean current about 10 miles from the cohision scene.

Finally, tugs and other small vessels arrived and after daybreak the ships were pulled apart and two tugs and the big Salvage Chieftain put lines on the Diamond Knot to pull it to shore. It sank about a mile off shore, off Crescent Bay west of here.

Capt. C. N. Goodwin and his crew reached here early this afternoon on the Salvage Chieftain but declined to talk with newsmen about the crash.

The 321-foot Diamond Knot, operated jointly by the Alaska Steamship Company, and the Maritime Commission, was valued by the commission at $694,000 in 1946. It was listed as a 5,525-ton ship.

It sank in approximately 15 fathoms of water, the Coast Guard said. At Seattle, insurance brokers said crews would attempt to see if part of the salmon cargo could be salvaged.

The Fenn Victory, little harmed, was to return to Seattle today.

Preliminary Recount Of Ballots Completed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13 (AP) — A preliminary recount of ballots cast in Maryand's senatorial contest of last November has been completed, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections announced today.

The investigation was ordered after Col. D. John Markey, Republican candidate, charged irregularities in a contest which resulted in a victory for Sen. O'Conner (R-Md) by a narrow margin.

Jenner said approximately 190,000 ballots had been reviewed since June 2.

Talks To Ease Terms Of Loan To Britain Set

Will Begin Monday; London Parley Due

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP) — Britain tapped its dwindling American loan for an additional $150,000,000 today as the United States accelerated moves to prevent the European economic crisis from becoming a collapse.

Underscoring the gravity of the situation came this series of developments:

1. The United States and Britain agreed to begin talks here Monday on modifying the terms of the British loan.

2. Arrangements virtually were completed for a conference of the United States, Britain and France in London next week on increasing Germany's industrial production to aid in European reconstruction.

3. British withdrawal of another $150,000,000 of the loan left only $850,000,000 of the original $3,750,000,000. Treasury officials estimated that continuance of the withdrawal at the present rate would mean exhaustion of the loan by October 1, where the British had expected it to last until next June 30.

Ruhr Coal Output Rises

4. The Anglo-American search for means of increasing vital coal production in Germany's Ruhr Valley, in its second day here, had one cheery note—word that the output had gone up there last week.

5. Both the United States Treasury and British financial circles pooh-poohed reports in London that this country, in a move to increase the flow of dollars in foreign exchange, was planning to boost the price paid for gold from $45 to $50 an ounce.

The closely-linked nature of the three conferences—on the British loan, the Ruhr coal and the level of German industrial production — made it probable that they would be followed by a larger get-together later to put together the piecemeal findings.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, in announcing next week's talks with British treasury officials, said they will be limited to discussion on modifying the terms of the loan.

This will deal with two features in particular: First, a provision which requires Britain to provide dollars for pounds in some current trade transactions, and second, a clause which prevents Britain from reducing purchases in the United States in order to buy in the dominions where she can use pounds instead of dollars.

Talks May Be Widened

The British delegation, under the direction of Second Treasury Secretary Sir William Eady, already was on its way from London, and there was no guarantee that an attempt would not be made—as in the case of the Ruhr coal production — to widen the talks.

The British might seek to have them include the possibility of revising the present 50-50 agreement for sharing occupation costs in the British and American zones of Germany.

The United States will be represented at the conference by the powerful National Advisory Council, headed by Snyder and including officials of the State and Commerce Departments and the heads of the Export-Import Bank and the Federal Reserve System.

Roxas Calls For Speedy Peace Treaty With Japan

MANILA, Thursday, Aug. 14—(AP) —The Filipino people as well as other peoples of Asia "are clamoring for speedy conclusion of a peace treaty with Japan," President Roxas declared today in a V-J anniversary speech.

"They cannot understand why it should be further delayed."

Roxas' message, prepared for broadcast to the American people, was recorded here by the Philippine Broadcasting Company and flown to the United States for release through the ABC network.

Speedy conclusion of the treaty "is essential to restoration of mutually beneficial economic relations and will prove a stabilizing influence in this part of the world," Roxas argued.

Heat, Humidity Hold Steamy Grip On East; Mercury Drops In Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

Heat and its ally, humidity, held a steamy grip on the eastern seaboard area Wednesday as cooler air and scattered showers began breaking up a four-day heat wave in the Midwest.

As the mercury shot up into the high nineties in some eastern areas, scores of workers walked out of mills in Woonsocket, R. I., complaining of the heat and humidity, and many government departments in Washington sent their employes home early.

At Portland, Me., the temperature went up to 98, one degree higher than the all time record for the date set in 1944. One heat death was reported in East Boston, Mass., where the temperature rose to 97 degrees shortly after noon.

However, in the sun-baked Midwest where hundred degree plus temperatures have been common during the last 10 days, the main corn belt states began experiencing cooler weather.

The cool air mass from Canada and the Dakotas will spread eastward by tomorrow night to Central Illinois and Northern Indiana, forecasters said. Widely scattered showers accompanying the cooler air will bring some local benefit but no lasting relief to the thirsting corn and garden crops, they added.

The cooler air, however, was not expected to extend as far as Southern Illinois and Southern Indiana, in the parched Ohio River Valley.

Maryland cities recorded new high temperatures for the year yesterday as the weather man promised more to come.

Frederick suffered its hottest day since July 19, 1946, with the mercury at 97 degrees.

The same level prevailed at Hagerstown, marking a new record for the current year.

Insurgents Report Decisive Battle For Paraguayan Capital Is Raging

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 13—(AP)—Paraguayan insurgent sources in Argentina said today rebel and government troops were fighting a decisive battle for possession of Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital, in the northern part of the city around the foreign embassies and the famous botanical garden.

Other reports from Rebel quarters said the Insurgents, locked in civil war with government troops for the past five months, were bolstering their northern attack with a major assault on the southeast sector of Asuncion—the slum and workingmen's district—and a waterborne slash at Puerto Sajonia, in the southern part of the city on the Paraguay River.

News dispatches from Formosa, Argentina, on the Paraguay frontier, said the Rebels captured the private residence of Higinio Morinigo, president of Paraguay, in the northern part of the city, and that the house later was destroyed by fire. Morinigo's official dwelling is part of the innermost redoubt in the center of the city.

The Insurgent radio claimed Rebel planes sank three small government vessels in the Paraguay River.

The government radio in Asuncion, heard in Buenor Aires, said a rebel plane dropped four bombs on Asuncion this morning and that two of them exploded, causing no damage. The only casualty was a woman who suffered minor injuries.

The United States embassy in Asuncion, presumably near the scene of the heaviest fighting, notified American authorities here that 30 American citizens, mostly women and children, were living under embassy protection in an Asuncion hotel.

Marshall Acts To Get Korean Regime Set Up

U. S.-Soviet Report By Aug. 21 Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The United States acted today to get a united Korean government set up by other means than the deadlocked negotiations with Russia.

Secretary of State Marshall wrote Foreign Minister Molotov that "there cannot be further delay" and proposed that the Russian-American commission which has been trying to negotiate the matter deliver a report by August 21 on "the status of its deliberations." This necessarily would be a report of a stalemate.

Writes Of "Further Steps"

Then, Marshall wrote, "Each government may immediately consider what further steps may usefully be taken to achieve the aims of the Moscow agreement, namely, the establishment of an independent, united Korea which can take its place among the United Nations."

Marshall's letter, made public by the State Department after he had left for the inter-American defense conference at Rio de Janeiro, did not indicate what the "further steps" might be.

But State Department officials noted that Britain and China, as well as the United States and Russia, were parties to the 1945 Moscow agreement which provided for the joint Russo-American commission as the means of establishing an independent Korea.

These officials, declining to be quoted by name, suggested the United States now might take the issue back to a four-power conference and seek some other means of proceeding. Copies of Marshall's letter were sent to Britain and China.

Talks Once Collapsed

In any case, they said, Marshall's move could be interpreted as a step toward gaining the initiative and greater freedom of action for the United States.

The deliberations of the Russo-American commission in Seoul, which once before broke down, were resumed after an exchange of letters in May between the United States and Russia. But they have been deadlocked again since early July by Russian refusal to allow participation of what it has termed reactionary Korean parties.

Meanwhile, Korea has remained divided, with Russia in control north of the 38th parallel and the United States in occupation in the south.

Dividend Payments

in 1935-39, Gosws said, would take only 19 per cent today—but "people are eating more and better."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics meanwhile reported union wages in the building trades jumped 15 per cent in the past year. That was the largest advance in a single year since 1920. It meant about 25 cents an hour more for 500,000 workers.

Justice Department officials indicated they will plow right ahead on the basis of complaints already on file here and in other cities.

Tobin Says He'll Resign If Salary Is Increased

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13—(AP)—Daniel J. Tobin, president of the AFL Teamsters, told delegates to the union's international convention today he would resign if the convention approved a move to increase his present $30,000 yearly salary.

"I would like to resign now," the 71-year-old teamster chief added, "but we have been strangled by the Taft-Hartley Act and I feel it my duty to stay on and fight to show the people that labor is decent and clean—and a little unselfish."

Coupled with Tobin's salary stand was an effort by J. F. English, Boston, international secretary-treasurer, to have his own salary reduced from $30,000 to $20,000.

Delegates shouted him down on grounds it was a bad precedent for future wage bargaining with employers.

Occupation Entering "Last Phase"--MacArthur

TOKYO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur today messaged his occupation forces that they were bringing to "a successful conclusion. . . the vital campaign to secure the peace" in Japan.

In a general order dated August 15—the Japanese anniversary of the day in 1945 when Emperor Hirohito ordered his people to stop fighting—MacArthur told his troops and civilian workers that they were now entering "the last phase" of the occupation.

Negro Veteran Says He'll Try To Enroll At U. Of Md.

SALISBURY, Md., Aug. 13—(AP)—A negro veteran who flew with the Army Air Forces in the Mediterranean war theater said today he would attempt to register for graduate study at the University of Maryland. His action may bring about a new test of the state's "bi-racial" education policy.

Wilmore B. Leonard, 31-year-old former Air Forces major, said he would appear at College Park on registration day September 15 and attempt to enroll for graduate courses in chemistry.

Leonord said he had received some indication from College Park that he would be accepted but later was advised to withdraw his application.

He said he has no intention of withdrawing his application.

"I'll be there registration day," he declared.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the university, said at College Park that no student is accepted for study until he actually appears on registration day.

"We receive literally thousands of applications from graduate students," Dr. Byrd said. "What we do is take the cream. I discussed this applicant with Dr. Edgar F. Long, director of admissions. The record of the applicant is bad.

"The University of Maryland follows a bi-racial policy. That word 'bi-racial' means racial segregation. The university heretofore has confined its student body to white persons. I foresee no change in this policy."

Dr. Long declined to comment on whether Leonard had been given any indication that he would be accepted. The director of admissions referred all inquiries to Dr. Byrd, and Dr. Byrd said he does not know. He said it "may have been".

Leonard said admission authorities at the university apparently first were unaware that he was a negro, although he listed Hampton Institute in Virginia as his undergraduate school. He suggested that university authorities might have confused Hampton Institute with Hampden-Sydney, a Virginia school for white students.

Leonard insisted that he had been advised his record is acceptable for admission.

Md. Sales Tax Division Does Not Want Stamps

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13, (AP)—The Maryland Sales Tax Division today asked retailers not to remit their collections in the form of stamps.

James J. Lacy, state comptroller, pointed out the division stamps all its mail mechanically.

At the same time, he warned merchants that it is risky to make their monthly remittances in bills and coin. The collection division will accept the money all right, but it assumes no responsibility for losses in the mails.

Some 10,000 returns by retailers on their first month of operation under the new two per cent levy already have been received by the collection division.

The 43,143 who took out licenses to collect the tax are supposed to make their July returns by Friday.

Cambridge To Observe V-J Day Anniversary

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Aug. 13. (AP)—Drum corps, fire companies from almost every shore town large enough to have one, the Naval Academy Band, three Army bands, early-arriving regatta contestants and plain spectators will converge here tomorrow about 50,000 strong.

Their reason: To remind everybody in a two-hour parade starting at 7:45 p. m. that it's the second anniversary of V-J Day.

Veterans groups will predominate in the parade, sponsored by Dorchester Post 91, American Legion, which has 700 members. William H. Robbins is chairman of events.

Gov. Lane will come to the festivities in the official yacht "Potomac."

A Marine color guard from Washington and the Army Air Forces Band will be in the parade, along with 55 floats and 54 other individual units.

Marshall Acts To Get Korean Regime Set Up

U. S.-Soviet Report By Aug. 21 Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The United States acted today to get a united Korean government set up by other means than the deadlocked negotiations with Russia.

Secretary of State Marshall wrote Foreign Minister Molotov that "there cannot be further delay" and proposed that the Russian-American commission which has been trying to negotiate the matter deliver a report by August 21 on "the status of its deliberations." This necessarily would be a report of a stalemate.

Writes Of "Further Steps"

Then, Marshall wrote, "Each government may immediately consider what further steps may usefully be taken to achieve the aims of the Moscow agreement, namely, the establishment of an independent, united Korea which can take its place among the United Nations."

Marshall's letter, made public by the State Department after he had left for the inter-American defense conference at Rio de Janeiro, did not indicate what the "further steps" might be.

But State Department officials noted that Britain and China, as well as the United States and Russia, were parties to the 1945 Moscow agreement which provided for the joint Russo-American commission as the means of establishing an independent Korea.

These officials, declining to be quoted by name, suggested the United States now might take the issue back to a four-power conference and seek some other means of proceeding. Copies of Marshall's letter were sent to Britain and China.

Talks Once Collapsed

In any case, they said, Marshall's move could be interpreted as a step toward gaining the initiative and greater freedom of action for the United States.

The deliberations of the Russo-American commission in Seoul, which once before broke down, were resumed after an exchange of letters in May between the United States and Russia. But they have been deadlocked again since early July by Russian refusal to allow participation of what it has termed reactionary Korean parties.

Meanwhile, Korea has remained divided, with Russia in control north of the 38th parallel and the United States in occupation in the south.

Dividend Payments

in 1935-39, Gosws said, would take only 19 per cent today—but "people are eating more and better."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics meanwhile reported union wages in the building trades jumped 15 per cent in the past year. That was the largest advance in a single year since 1920. It meant about 25 cents an hour more for 500,000 workers.

Justice Department officials indicated they will plow right ahead on the basis of complaints already on file here and in other cities.

Tobin Says He'll Resign If Salary Is Increased

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13—(AP)—Daniel J. Tobin, president of the AFL Teamsters, told delegates to the union's international convention today he would resign if the convention approved a move to increase his present $30,000 yearly salary.

"I would like to resign now," the 71-year-old teamster chief added, "but we have been strangled by the Taft-Hartley Act and I feel it my duty to stay on and fight to show the people that labor is decent and clean—and a little unselfish."

Coupled with Tobin's salary stand was an effort by J. F. English, Boston, international secretary-treasurer, to have his own salary reduced from $30,000 to $20,000.

Delegates shouted him down on grounds it was a bad precedent for future wage bargaining with employers.

Occupation Entering "Last Phase"--MacArthur

TOKYO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur today messaged his occupation forces that they were bringing to "a successful conclusion. . . the vital campaign to secure the peace" in Japan.

In a general order dated August 15—the Japanese anniversary of the day in 1945 when Emperor Hirohito ordered his people to stop fighting—MacArthur told his troops and civilian workers that they were now entering "the last phase" of the occupation.

Negro Veteran Says He'll Try To Enroll At U. Of Md.

SALISBURY, Md., Aug. 13—(AP)—A negro veteran who flew with the Army Air Forces in the Mediterranean war theater said today he would attempt to register for graduate study at the University of Maryland. His action may bring about a new test of the state's "bi-racial" education policy.

Wilmore B. Leonard, 31-year-old former Air Forces major, said he would appear at College Park on registration day September 15 and attempt to enroll for graduate courses in chemistry.

Leonord said he had received some indication from College Park that he would be accepted but later was advised to withdraw his application.

He said he has no intention of withdrawing his application.

"I'll be there registration day," he declared.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the university, said at College Park that no student is accepted for study until he actually appears on registration day.

"We receive literally thousands of applications from graduate students," Dr. Byrd said. "What we do is take the cream. I discussed this applicant with Dr. Edgar F. Long, director of admissions. The record of the applicant is bad.

"The University of Maryland follows a bi-racial policy. That word 'bi-racial' means racial segregation. The university heretofore has confined its student body to white persons. I foresee no change in this policy."

Dr. Long declined to comment on whether Leonard had been given any indication that he would be accepted. The director of admissions referred all inquiries to Dr. Byrd, and Dr. Byrd said he does not know. He said it "may have been".

Leonard said admission authorities at the university apparently first were unaware that he was a negro, although he listed Hampton Institute in Virginia as his undergraduate school. He suggested that university authorities might have confused Hampton Institute with Hampden-Sydney, a Virginia school for white students.

Leonard insisted that he had been advised his record is acceptable for admission.

Md. Sales Tax Division Does Not Want Stamps

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13, (AP)—The Maryland Sales Tax Division today asked retailers not to remit their collections in the form of stamps.

James J. Lacy, state comptroller, pointed out the division stamps all its mail mechanically.

At the same time, he warned merchants that it is risky to make their monthly remittances in bills and coin. The collection division will accept the money all right, but it assumes no responsibility for losses in the mails.

Some 10,000 returns by retailers on their first month of operation under the new two per cent levy already have been received by the collection division.

The 43,143 who took out licenses to collect the tax are supposed to make their July returns by Friday.

Cambridge To Observe V-J Day Anniversary

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Aug. 13. (AP)—Drum corps, fire companies from almost every shore town large enough to have one, the Naval Academy Band, three Army bands, early-arriving regatta contestants and plain spectators will converge here tomorrow about 50,000 strong.

Their reason: To remind everybody in a two-hour parade starting at 7:45 p. m. that it's the second anniversary of V-J Day.

Veterans groups will predominate in the parade, sponsored by Dorchester Post 91, American Legion, which has 700 members. William H. Robbins is chairman of events.

Gov. Lane will come to the festivities in the official yacht "Potomac."

A Marine color guard from Washington and the Army Air Forces Band will be in the parade, along with 55 floats and 54 other individual units.

Burlington Man Heads W. Va. Farm Bureau

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va., Aug. 13. (AP)—Clyde Bonar, Burlington, Mineral County, was re-elected president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau today as it concluded its 28th annual convention with the largest membership in its history.

Leland Booth, Morgantown, who was re-elected secretary-treasurer, said the bureau now has 15,918 members in 50 of the state's 55 counties. There were 110 voting delegates, representing 44 counties, among the 400 persons attending the three-day meeting here.

Tabling Of Engineers' Offer On Smoke Control Was Wise

Mayor Post acted wisely Monday when he ordered tabled the letter from Burill and Gwin, Baltimore engineers, who offered to undertake smoke control work for Cumberland.

The engineering firm informed the City Council it would undertake the job for $3,000 yearly, plus traveling and living expenses. This is the firm which proposed to do the job on a part-time basis —that is to send an employe here, probably once a month. A job, such as Cumberland hopes for, cannot be done under any such arrangement.

Mayor Post does not believe hiring of the firm "advisable at this time." Unless the firm has something more substantial and promising to offer, the City Council should forget all about the proposal for good.

Mayor Post is in agreement with our opinion that the city should have a full-time engineer so that all the provisions of the recently enacted ordinance can be carried out to the best interests of the people of Cumberland.

It would be a mistake to engage an engineer for this job from a firm which, at the very outset, is pessimistic as to the results hoped for. We do not consider the task of eliminating smoke from Cumberland will be any more difficult than has been experienced in much larger and less favorably located cities. The "narrow valleys and high mountains" this firm cites as complicating the conditions, and making "the complete elimination of smoke rather difficult," should be dismissed without further thought. Controlling smoke at its source is the task confronting the engineer who is ultimately chosen. When that is accomplished it will make little difference whether Cumberland is within narrow valleys and high mountains or a city of the Plains.

Fred T. Small, plant manager of the Celanese Corporation of America, is displaying a civic interest in this undertaking which others could easily emulate. Although the Celanese plant will not be subjected to the provisions of the city ordinance (being located beyond the city limits), Mr. Small recognizes, we feel certain, the filthy conditions, created by excessive smoke and flyash, which exist within the city, and his proposal to endeavor to secure the names of engineers who may be interested in working here on this most important undertaking is to be admired.

End Of Credit Control And Truman's Reasoning

"The credit situation is sound enough to permit the continuance of the present rate of increase for the remainder of the year, and the demand for durable goods, especially automobiles, may be expected to induce such expansion." That was the view of President Truman in his recent mid-year economic report to the country.

A day or so ago Mr. Truman sharply rebuked Congress for not carrying on restraints against installment buying and appealed to the nation to steer clear of an "easy payment inflationary orgy."

"Self restraint on the part of those who use credit as well as upon the part of those who extend it, will reduce the danger of over-expansion of installment credit which would inevitably be followed by severe contraction, thereby contributing to unemployment and to reduce production."

All of that was said by Mr. Truman when he signed the Congressional resolution ending on November 1 the remaining controls on consumer installment credit. In the face of the two views outlined it is hard to follow the President's line of reasoning. His optimism contained in his economic report and the dire predictions he now expresses simply don't make sense. But then little of his reasoning ever does.

The ending of restricted credits on November 1, will not, in our opinion, bring about an "easy payment inflationary orgy." Of course, there probably will be an increase in credit volume, but there are many things involved that will tend to keep us from being swallowed up economically as result of it. We need only look at the price level. It is still high on consumers' durable goods. In fact, it is so high that the purchasing public is not going to buy simply because credit might be liberal. The dwindling savings of buyers is going to put restraint on them. Then, there is still such a scarcity of consumer items like automobiles and home appliances. All this will tend to prevent a wild derangement of the installment system, because merchants are not likely to court the disfavor of potentially permanent customers by booking orders they cannot fill.

The removal of the credit curbs will do some good, Mr. Truman to the contrary notwithstanding. It will make possible a more equitable distribution of the amount of consumer goods among all income levels, because the present requirements for minimum down payments have been so strict that they have tended to limit distribution to the middle and better income groups, and have driven others to finance such down payments through firms offering money at high interest rates. Still others, as economists have pointed out, have been cashing war bond reserves and using up their assets at a dangerous pace to enable them to meet the heavy down-payments on this or that.

So, the ending of credit controls on November 1 can have many good advantages, as Congress believed. It does remove the chains on economic freedom. The argument for continuing credit restrictions was that, in this period of rising prices and plenty of money, it would be a bulwark against inflation. The same bulwark can be supplied if merchants and manufacturers will use their heads and not let the nation's credit system get out of hand. Used wisely, the time-payment is beneficial.

Away From It All

Harry Pidgeon, 78-year-old former Iowa farmer, has set sail in a 34-foot yawl on his third attempt to circumnavigate the world. Both previous times he went alone and didn't make it. This time his wife and another companion are sailing with him.

Pidgeon may not make it this time, either. He'll have to contend with plenty of wind and weather and with problems of navigation and supply. But apparently he has wherewithal and a sound vessel. At least he won't have to worry about the housing shortage, strikes and international tensions.

He may not make it, but many an American and many a citizen of many another country will envy him the opportunity to try.

OVERACTIVE SWEAT GLANDS

SOME persons perspire too much; others, too little. Fortunately, most of us are between the two extremes and an excess secretion is not present except when overheated. This is a normal phenomenon and the outpouring means that our cooling system is functioning.

If sweating does not occur during hot spells, the subject is in for trouble. Lacking an "air conditioner," the internal temperature rises. Unless a cool spot can be found, the skin becomes parched and red and fainting may ensue. Many so afflicted flee to the north woods for the summer or spend much of their time in an air conditioned room or bathtub filled with cold water.

The opposite condition can be equally distressing. The secretion may be so profuse under ordinary circumstances that it drips off the body and saturates the clothes that are worn. In others, the epidermis always feels moist and clammy. This may be noted over the entire surface or confined to the palms, soles, between the toes or fingers, in the armpits, or beneath the breasts. Obese individuals are more likely to be bothered. Involvement of the hands is a disadvantage to artists, hand workers, and tradespeople.

In many instances, the skin becomes irritated, painful, and tender. This is true particularly over areas that are not aerated and, if continued for some time, may lead to maceration of the tissues.

Since the sweat glands are controlled by the nervous system, the condition is seen frequently in those who are highstrung and have a rapid heart. It often follows overindulgence in alcohol, tobacco, and coffee. Heredity may play a role. Occasionally it appears after the ingestion of certain foods such as tomatoes, cheese, pickles, onions, and apples. Fallen arches may be responsible when the abnormality is confined to the feet. Now and then a nerve lesion is present. Sometimes fever exists as in tuberculosis, malaria, and rheumatic fever. If the metabolism is too high, as in overactive thyroid, the symptom is observed.

When hyperhidrosis is generalized, internal remedies such as tonics, sulfur, quinine, belladonna, and atropine are usually recommended. Although worthy of trial, the outcome is not always satisfactory. Solutions or salves applied externally are more effective especially when only one part of the body is affected. The skin should be wiped dry and the preparation applied. Various powders are available including those made with talc, salicylic acid, boric acid, or starch.

The numerous anti-perspirants on the market contain tannic acid, ferrous sulfate, naphthol, zinc sulfate, turpentine, alum, or aluminum chloride. Formaldehyde (1 to 10 per cent) in alcohol is helpful especially if the disturbance is odorous. X-rays have proved of value in the severe forms but are rarely advised.

Sweaty feet are particularly troublesome and many plans have been suggested varying from simple foot baths to hide removing preparations. Diachylon, an example of the latter, is an old form of treatment. After using it for a week or more, the outer layers fall off, leaving a drier skin.

ROSY CHEEKS

J. K. writes: Why do so few adults have the red cheeks of childhood?

REPLY

Too much work and not enough play is a part of the answer. The texture of the skin changes with age, which means that it is less likely to be affected by the elements.

RESISTS ACID

E. R. writes: What are acid fast bacilli?

REPLY

In order to determine the species of an organism, the laboratory worker stains it with a dye. An attempt is then made to decolorize it with an acid wash. Certain germs such as the tubercle bacillus, are not affected by the acid. In the circumstances, they are referred to as "acid fast."

REPLY

They are not always successful, especially if the eye muscles have been paralyzed.

THERE GO SOME OF THE CRITICS

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

War Department May Be Embarrassed By Congressional Probe Of High Living Of Lt. Gen. Lee And Staff; Kaiser Gives Somervell Shaking

Says ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—One of the Congressional committees going to Europe has an unpublicized special mission that may prove very embarrassing to the high brass in the War Department.

The Committee will look into the activities of Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, Commander of the Mediterranean Theater and his high-living staff.

Reason for the committee's check-up are numerous complaints received by members of Congress from GI's serving in the theater, and their parents. The latter have been particularly indignant.

Burden of these complaints is that while Lee and his staff are living in lavish luxury, the enlisted men are ill-housed and ill-fed and subjected to un-American personal indignities and a Prussian form of discipline. The following are some of the charges contained in the letters.

That Lee has three private residences—in Rome, Florence, and Viareggio, the last place, a resort town, out of bounds for GI's; that he also has for his exclusive personal use a small fleet of automobiles, a specially equipped C-47 transport plane, and a special train. The latter—in charge of an officer who does nothing else—among other luxuries, has a special car for showing movies.

That more than 500 GI's are jam-packed in quarters equipped with fewer than 15 showers, some of which don't work; that there is no "day room" (lounge) or other recreational facilities for the men; that their food is poorly prepared and unappetizingly served; that GI's are required to act as drivers for officers' wives and take care of officers' children, including a nursery; that Lee and his staff are "salute crazy," imposing heavy fines for the slightest infraction of this rule; and that a disciplinary camp is running full-blast at Pisa.

This last charge is particularly serious. The Army denies it is operating any more of these notorious camps. But the committee is in possession of considerable evidence not only proving the existence of the Pisa camp, but certain very unsavory things that have taken place there.

"God-Almighty" Lee

Aside from the question of Lee's alleged antics, the matter is very serious because of its possible adverse repercussions on the universal military training issue here.

The fate of this urgently needed defensive measure is very much in doubt. To further its enactment, the Army last year announced far-reaching changes in its traditional caste system, and set up a model training camp at Ft. Knox. This camp has won high praise from numerous outstanding civilian leaders.

If the reports of what is transpiring in Lee's theater are confirmed by the Congressional committee, it will provide devastating ammunition to UMT foes.

Lee was chief supply in the European Theater during the war. He was not a popular figure. He was widely known as "God-almighty" Lee because of his high-handedness and luxurious living. In Paris, where his headquarters were located, he took over one of the best hotels which he publicly announced had to be considered as his private residence.

The late great General Patton repeatedly clashed with Lee over the failure of the Third Army to get adequate supplies, among them winter-warfare clothing. It was not until the Third Army had turned the tide in the Battle of the Bulge, that it finally began to get some of this equipment.

On one occasion, Patton bluntly demanded of Eisenhower that he crack down on Lee.

Note—A detailed account of Patton's behind-the-scenes warring with Lee over supplies is told in LUCKY FORWARD, bare-knuckled history of the Third Army soon to be published. (Allen, writer of the above report on General Lee, was a colonel on General Patton's staff during the war.—Ed. note).

Fighting Men

Charles Potter, Seventh Army veteran who lost both legs in heroic fighting near Colmar, France, has won the Republican nomination for the Michigan seat held by the late Representative Fred Bradley . . . Loss of a leg in the assault on Guam is not keeping ex-Marine Tommy Breen from realizing his ambition to be a movie actor. He has just won a stellar role in MGM's new super-musical, "Luxury Liner." . . . Col. Oscar Koch, who fought his way back from a death's-edge illness due to rigorous combat service, has been made head of the Army's crack intelligence school at Ft. Riley. The greatest G-2 in the Army, Koch was Patton's intelligence chief from Africa to V-E Day.

K. O. Kaiser

Howard Hughes had a good example on how to treat Washington officials when he clashed head-on with the Senate War Investigating Committee. The example was his friend and former business associate, Henry J. Kaiser.

The story has never been told before but the redoubtable builder on one occasion administered a physical roughing to none other than Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, former War Department Chief of Supply.

The encounter occurred over Kaiser's proposal that the Government finance the construction of cargo planes to lick the U-boat menace. This issue is one of the subjects now being probed by the Senate Committee. Word reached Kaiser that Somervell not only was opposing the project, but had stated he would "run Kaiser out of town."

Kaiser invited General "Hap" Arnold, then chief of the AAF, to lunch to discuss the matter. Arnold accepted. Later, he called back to ask if he could bring a friend and if the luncheon could be held in the Army-Navy club. Kaiser agreed.

To Kaiser's surprise, Arnold appeared with Somervell, the late Gen. Leslie J. McNair, then head of Army Ground Forces, and Ferdinand Eberstadt, of the War Production Board. The luncheon started off pleasantly, but soon Kaiser and Somervell were engaged in a heated exchange.

This was ended abruptly by Kaiser. Jumping from his chair, he dashed around the table seized Somervell by the shoulders and shook him violently.

"You've been saying you're going to run me out of town," blazed Kaiser. "I'd like to see you or any other blankety-blank try it."

Somervell also rose and in trying to free himself from Kaiser sent dishes flying in all directions. The others finally restored peace and the luncheon was resumed. Kaiser, thereafter, had no more trouble with Somervell.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

Wrong Start

Many employers and many labor leaders are approaching the Taft-Hartley Bill from the wrong side. Instead of trying to make the law of the land work, they are doing everything possible to curcumvent it. Usually that makes a lot of good business for lawyers, but it is not good for the country. In effect, they are trying to make a Volstead Act of the Taft-Hartley Bill.

Some employers regarded the Taft-Hartley Bill as a club with which to beat out the brains of labor leaders. I have been reading advertisements in newspopers which give the impression that the strike, as an instrument of collective bargaining, has been outlawed more or less. This is nonsense, as it is equal nonsense that the Taft-Hartley Bill eliminates the union as an instrument of collective bargaining. The Taft-Hartley Bill corrects and implements the Wagner Act which so encouraged strikes of major dimensions that since its passage the country has been cursed by arbitrary and unnecessary cessation of work. But the right to strike is inalienable among the free people and no legislation has yet been passed in this country abolishing that right.

I recently saw an advertisement which read:

"The new labor law specifically states that the employee is protected from coercion by labor unions and their agents or the employer . . . that he is protected from losing his job even if there is a union shop contract . . . that now unions may be charged with an unfair labor practice if they use physical or economic forces, like mass picketing, to stop a man from going to work."

I suppose all this is a correct statement of the case as far as it goes, but it totaliy misrepresents the intent of the Taft-Hartley Bill and it is very doubtful if the Courts will uphold any such interpretation. For what this advertisement, in effect, tells the worker is that he may and ought to ignore his union altogether, to take his job as an individual, to deal with his boss as an individual, to ignore the disciplines of any union to which he may belong. It is a renunciation of collective bargaining through unions. But one of the criticisms of the Wagner Act was that it limited collective bargaining by imposing the government as the final arbiter of industrial conduct.

Carried to its logical conclusion, the attitude of this advertisement would eliminate the trade union from American life altogether. The Taft-Hartley Bill was never intended to do that. Its objective is to make the union an orderly institution, to refit it into the American scheme of balanced responsibilities and rights, obligations and liberties. In time, it will actually strengthen the American trade union by eliminating the crook, the racketeer, the arbitrary labor baron from it.

Employers who assume that they can use this measure to abolish the trade union do not understand the role that that institution plays in the development of mass production industries and in the maintenance of free institutions. They are rejecting the capitalistic concept of the partnership of labor and management and are accepting the communist idea of the class struggle. The inevitable outcome of the latter is revolution.

On the other hand, the labor lawyers, who seek to introduce clauses in contracts circumventing the act, lay themselves and the companies that do business open to litigation, possibly to the criminal charge of conspiracy. For obviously, men may not combine to evade the law and whereas one Attorney-General may regard such conduct as practical and politically wise, another might, as Mr. Biddle did, file suit even in matters to which government officials had given consent. Any firm that plays with that firebrand is liable to burn its fingers badly.

The Taft-Hartley Bill is the law of the land and should be enforced. If it achieves its purposes, it is sound legislation; if, as propagandists of the Wagner Act say, it is impossible to administer, it will in time be amended to make it work. Bootlegging is not the solution; it is never the solution for anything. Obedience to law, passed by Congress, alone can safeguard and maintain democratic government.

Workers May Contribute To Any Political Party They Desire

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Philip Murray, president of the CIO, is to be commended for his frank statement that "there is nothing in the Taft-Hartley law which prevents voluntary contributions from labor unions in connection with political campaigns."

Whenever any labor-union leader makes a statement that assists in removing the misrepresentations that have been circulated about the Taft-Hartley law, he is to be applauded.

For the last several weeks an impression has been broadcast to the effect that union members or leaders cannot participate in political campaigns or support the candidates of their choice. This impression has been disseminated primarily by those who are hostile to the whole law and wish to prevent its effective operation.

Mr. Murray is absolutely right when he says there is nothing in the law to prevent unions from raising funds and using them in the elections. But the method of raising and the manner of expenditure must be according to the accepted rules which have been in effect in the past in connection with election expenses.

From the time of the first Corrupt Practices Act and continuing through wartime when the Smith-Connally Act was passed with some provisions governing election contributions, it has always been clearly set forth that any group of citizens can organize a "political committee" and make any contributions and incur any expenses that their funds will permit. Nor is it necessary for these separate "political committees" to be connected with or tied to the Republican or Democratic national or state committees.

Must Conform To Law

Thus, in the 1944 campaign the CIO set up a national political action committee to which union members contributed funds. This particular "Political Action Committee" came within the provisions of the existing laws which require that a record be kept of contributions and expenditures and that these be filed with the proper authorities as has always been provided by the laws governing elections.

As a matter of fact, there is no law to prevent a political committee today from collecting hundreds of millions of dollars from labor-union members provided the process of collection conforms to the methods prescribed in the law.

Thus, the federal laws governing elections have stipulated that "political committees" must keep an accurate accounting of what they do and register the names of their contributors with the clerk of the House of Representatives. Also, under the new law, they must keep an account of what expenditures are made.

The only new thing that the Taft-Hartley law prohibits is the direct "expenditure" of union funds or corporation funds in connecton with federal elections.

Mr. Murray is right when he says that separate treasuries can be set up for this purpose through separate committees. It would be a violation of law for union officers to spend their time collecting campaign contributions when they are being paid salaries for regular union activities. But a separate system of collection, with canvassers paid for by the "political committee" can be set up.

It is a violation of law to take union funds which are collected from members for the specific purposes of union organization or union maintenance and to use those funds by contributing them to political committees.

Emphasis on Word "Voluntary"

The emphasis is on the word "voluntary." Consent must be given by the individual union member for the use of his money for a political purpose.

Thus the Taft-Hartley law protects the union member who does not believe in a particular party and yet may be forced by union locals to join that political party or contribute to its success. When a worker contributes his regular dues to a union, he does so with the understanding that the money is to be used for the union and not for some purposes which the officers may decide might be desirable, especially in the matter of politics.

Workers in this country divide according to their political beliefs or affiliations. All that the Taft-Hartley law does, in prohibiting corporation or union "expenditures," is to prevent the abuse by labor-union leaders of the right of the individual worker to contribute to whatever political party he desires.

Condition Of Europe And Impact On This Nation Holds Attention

By MARK SULLIVAN

What most engages the attention of official Washington today, including both the Administration and Congress even though it is not now in session, may be condensed into something like this: The condition of Europe, the impact of that condition on us, and what we can do to ameliorate it.

To state it thus involves to an extreme degree the inadequacy of any attempt to condense an infinitely complex condition into a single sentence. And to say that the condition "engages the attention" of Washington fails utterly to convey the sober anxiety that pervades the Capital. A faint suggestion of the seriousness of feeling, and of the scope of action called for, may be conveyed by mentioning some of the official activities that are under way. All cohere and focus toward a program expected to become concrete in the late fall.

A Committee of European Nations, set up as the outcome of Secretary of State Marshall's proposal for the restoration of Europe is preparing a report upon what they can do for themselves in self-help, and upon the help they will need from the United States.

Committee At Washington

At Washington is a committee which is the counterpart of the European one. As the European committee is to say what is needed from America, the American committee is to say what we can do and how to do it. It is composed of officials headed by Secretary of the Interior Krug. Its function is to survey our national resources in relation to our ability to provide foreign aid. (Parallel with this are two other official committees: one, the official Council of Economic Advisers; the other a committee set up under Secretary of Commerce Harriman).

Corresponding to the committees set up by authority of the Administration, and for the same purpose, are similar bodies set up in Congress. A Select Committee on Foreign Affairs appointed by Speaker of the House Martin, is made up of 19 key men from the standing committees on Foreign Affairs, Agriculture, Appropriations, and several others. In addition to this and cooperating with it, Representative Dirksen has been appointed to go to Europe as a special representative of the Appropriations Committee. The House Foreign Relations Committee has sent representatives to Europe and elsewhere

The Select Committee on Foreign Aid expects to leave for Europe about the first of September and return early in October. Thereafter and following completion of the work of all the groups, will be a comparison and checking up, as between what Europe needs and what we can provide. Following that, action must come from Congress, for the need comes down to money and other material aid, which only Congress has power to authorize. Whether Congress will come together in a special session, or wait until the regular one in January, is not now decided. The speed with which events are moving suggests that the need of a special session will be apparent.

To list these official bodies and outline the mechanism at work fails to suggest the seriousness with which the work is being done or the gravity of the condition. Excepting that any comparison with apprehension of war would be misleading, for that does not enter any thought, the atmosphere of Washintgon recalls that which existed during an August eight years ago. In 1939 there was tension and anxiety because of apprehension of war in Europe. Today the anxiety is about impending economic crises in Europe.

Economical Collapse Feared

Our apprehension is that Europe may collapse economically, that as a result Communism might engulf the continent, and that if this should occur it would create difficulty for us as a country with free government and a free economic system.

The purpose of the aid we propose for Europe, in addition to the broad purpose of bringing about recovery in Europe and the rest of the world, is to enable free governments in Europe to survive. Some of these, including France and Britain, are Socialist or semi-Socialist. But the policy of our government includes willingness to aid such countries on the ground that their systems preserve many political freedoms which Communism denies.

In all authoritative statements of what is being done in Washington, the purpose of the present phase is described as determining how much aid we can give to Europe without too serious damage to our own economic structure and system. Always it is borne in mind that we must maintain our own economic integrity and national solvency. Any irreparable damage to that, through inflation or otherwise, would be as fatal as any consequence of collapse in Europe.

Today's Talk

Always Expect Best

I once read somewhere that it is better to aim for something that you want—even though you may not get it—than to aim for something that you don't want — and get it!

It's the striving that counts in a genuine success. Results are often misjudged by the outside world. There is a saying by Will Rogers that went something like this, though I may not quote it exactly, but I give you the soul of the meaning: "So live that even though you fail, you are ahead!"

I have always tried to expect the best, even though I have often been given the opposite. To live hopefully is an inspiration in itself. I know of no greater asset to have than a never changing faith. Always expect the best—even though you may not get it.

If judgment passed upon you does not sound reasonable, just don't accept it! Look ahead and always believe that better things are bound to be. There are far more good days in life than bad days.

I used to go visiting with my father, who was a minister, and I have never forgotten one old lady that he called upon with me many times, and always the story was the same. My father would inquire after her health, and her reply would always be: "Quite miserable, Pastor, quite miserable!"

We are no better than we think. We can have so much greater happiness out of expectation than almost anything else—always expecting the best. And, strange to say, it usually turns out best for people who set their minds and hearts on an even keel and who look straight forward.

Tabling Of Engineers' Offer On Smoke Control Was Wise

Mayor Post acted wisely Monday when he ordered tabled the letter from Burill and Gwin, Baltimore engineers, who offered to undertake smoke control work for Cumberland.

The engineering firm informed the City Council it would undertake the job for $3,000 yearly, plus traveling and living expenses. This is the firm which proposed to do the job on a part-time basis —that is to send an employe here, probably once a month. A job, such as Cumberland hopes for, cannot be done under any such arrangement.

Mayor Post does not believe hiring of the firm "advisable at this time." Unless the firm has something more substantial and promising to offer, the City Council should forget all about the proposal for good.

Mayor Post is in agreement with our opinion that the city should have a full-time engineer so that all the provisions of the recently enacted ordinance can be carried out to the best interests of the people of Cumberland.

It would be a mistake to engage an engineer for this job from a firm which, at the very outset, is pessimistic as to the results hoped for. We do not consider the task of eliminating smoke from Cumberland will be any more difficult than has been experienced in much larger and less favorably located cities. The "narrow valleys and high mountains" this firm cites as complicating the conditions, and making "the complete elimination of smoke rather difficult," should be dismissed without further thought. Controlling smoke at its source is the task confronting the engineer who is ultimately chosen. When that is accomplished it will make little difference whether Cumberland is within narrow valleys and high mountains or a city of the Plains.

Fred T. Small, plant manager of the Celanese Corporation of America, is displaying a civic interest in this undertaking which others could easily emulate. Although the Celanese plant will not be subjected to the provisions of the city ordinance (being located beyond the city limits), Mr. Small recognizes, we feel certain, the filthy conditions, created by excessive smoke and flyash, which exist within the city, and his proposal to endeavor to secure the names of engineers who may be interested in working here on this most important undertaking is to be admired.

End Of Credit Control And Truman's Reasoning

"The credit situation is sound enough to permit the continuance of the present rate of increase for the remainder of the year, and the demand for durable goods, especially automobiles, may be expected to induce such expansion." That was the view of President Truman in his recent mid-year economic report to the country.

A day or so ago Mr. Truman sharply rebuked Congress for not carrying on restraints against installment buying and appealed to the nation to steer clear of an "easy payment inflationary orgy."

"Self restraint on the part of those who use credit as well as upon the part of those who extend it, will reduce the danger of over-expansion of installment credit which would inevitably be followed by severe contraction, thereby contributing to unemployment and to reduce production."

All of that was said by Mr. Truman when he signed the Congressional resolution ending on November 1 the remaining controls on consumer installment credit. In the face of the two views outlined it is hard to follow the President's line of reasoning. His optimism contained in his economic report and the dire predictions he now expresses simply don't make sense. But then little of his reasoning ever does.

The ending of restricted credits on November 1, will not, in our opinion, bring about an "easy payment inflationary orgy." Of course, there probably will be an increase in credit volume, but there are many things involved that will tend to keep us from being swallowed up economically as result of it. We need only look at the price level. It is still high on consumers' durable goods. In fact, it is so high that the purchasing public is not going to buy simply because credit might be liberal. The dwindling savings of buyers is going to put restraint on them. Then, there is still such a scarcity of consumer items like automobiles and home appliances. All this will tend to prevent a wild derangement of the installment system, because merchants are not likely to court the disfavor of potentially permanent customers by booking orders they cannot fill.

The removal of the credit curbs will do some good, Mr. Truman to the contrary notwithstanding. It will make possible a more equitable distribution of the amount of consumer goods among all income levels, because the present requirements for minimum down payments have been so strict that they have tended to limit distribution to the middle and better income groups, and have driven others to finance such down payments through firms offering money at high interest rates. Still others, as economists have pointed out, have been cashing war bond reserves and using up their assets at a dangerous pace to enable them to meet the heavy down-payments on this or that.

So, the ending of credit controls on November 1 can have many good advantages, as Congress believed. It does remove the chains on economic freedom. The argument for continuing credit restrictions was that, in this period of rising prices and plenty of money, it would be a bulwark against inflation. The same bulwark can be supplied if merchants and manufacturers will use their heads and not let the nation's credit system get out of hand. Used wisely, the time-payment is beneficial.

Away From It All

Harry Pidgeon, 78-year-old former Iowa farmer, has set sail in a 34-foot yawl on his third attempt to circumnavigate the world. Both previous times he went alone and didn't make it. This time his wife and another companion are sailing with him.

Pidgeon may not make it this time, either. He'll have to contend with plenty of wind and weather and with problems of navigation and supply. But apparently he has wherewithal and a sound vessel. At least he won't have to worry about the housing shortage, strikes and international tensions.

He may not make it, but many an American and many a citizen of many another country will envy him the opportunity to try.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

OVERACTIVE SWEAT GLANDS

SOME persons perspire too much; others, too little. Fortunately, most of us are between the two extremes and an excess secretion is not present except when overheated. This is a normal phenomenon and the outpouring means that our cooling system is functioning.

If sweating does not occur during hot spells, the subject is in for trouble. Lacking an "air conditioner," the internal temperature rises. Unless a cool spot can be found, the skin becomes parched and red and fainting may ensue. Many so afflicted flee to the north woods for the summer or spend much of their time in an air conditioned room or bathtub filled with cold water.

The opposite condition can be equally distressing. The secretion may be so profuse under ordinary circumstances that it drips off the body and saturates the clothes that are worn. In others, the epidermis always feels moist and clammy. This may be noted over the entire surface or confined to the palms, soles, between the toes or fingers, in the armpits, or beneath the breasts. Obese individuals are more likely to be bothered. Involvement of the hands is a disadvantage to artists, hand workers, and tradespeople.

In many instances, the skin becomes irritated, painful, and tender. This is true particularly over areas that are not aerated and, if continued for some time, may lead to maceration of the tissues.

Since the sweat glands are controlled by the nervous system, the condition is seen frequently in those who are highstrung and have a rapid heart. It often follows overindulgence in alcohol, tobacco, and coffee. Heredity may play a role. Occasionally it appears after the ingestion of certain foods such as tomatoes, cheese, pickles, onions, and apples. Fallen arches may be responsible when the abnormality is confined to the feet. Now and then a nerve lesion is present. Sometimes fever exists as in tuberculosis, malaria, and rheumatic fever. If the metabolism is too high, as in overactive thyroid, the symptom is observed.

When hyperhidrosis is generalized, internal remedies such as tonics, sulfur, quinine, belladonna, and atropine are usually recommended. Although worthy of trial, the outcome is not always satisfactory. Solutions or salves applied externally are more effective especially when only one part of the body is affected. The skin should be wiped dry and the preparation applied. Various powders are available including those made with talc, salicylic acid, boric acid, or starch.

The numerous anti-perspirants on the market contain tannic acid, ferrous sulfate, naphthol, zinc sulfate, turpentine, alum, or aluminum chloride. Formaldehyde (1 to 10 per cent) in alcohol is helpful especially if the disturbance is odorous. X-rays have proved of value in the severe forms but are rarely advised.

Sweaty feet are particularly troublesome and many plans have been suggested varying from simple foot baths to hide removing preparations. Diachylon, an example of the latter, is an old form of treatment. After using it for a week or more, the outer layers fall off, leaving a drier skin.

ROSY CHEEKS

J. K. writes: Why do so few adults have the red cheeks of childhood?

REPLY

Too much work and not enough play is a part of the answer. The texture of the skin changes with age, which means that it is less likely to be affected by the elements.

RESISTS ACID

E. R. writes: What are acid fast bacilli?

REPLY

In order to determine the species of an organism, the laboratory worker stains it with a dye. An attempt is then made to decolorize it with an acid wash. Certain germs such as the tubercle bacillus, are not affected by the acid. In the circumstances, they are referred to as "acid fast."

EYES AFTER APOPLEXY

Mrs. D. writes: Will glasses help defective vision caused by a stroke?

REPLY

They are not always successful, especially if the eye muscles have been paralyzed.

Says ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—One of the Congressional committees going to Europe has an unpublicized special mission that may prove very embarrassing to the high brass in the War Department.

The Committee will look into the activities of Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, Commander of the Mediterranean Theater and his high-living staff.

Reason for the committee's check-up are numerous complaints received by members of Congress from GI's serving in the theater, and their parents. The latter have been particularly indignant.

Burden of these complaints is that while Lee and his staff are living in lavish luxury, the enlisted men are ill-housed and ill-fed and subjected to un-American personal indignities and a Prussian form of discipline. The following are some of the charges contained in the letters.

That Lee has three private residences—in Rome, Florence, and Viareggio, the last place, a resort town, out of bounds for GI's; that he also has for his exclusive personal use a small fleet of automobiles, a specially equipped C-47 transport plane, and a special train. The latter—in charge of an officer who does nothing else—among other luxuries, has a special car for showing movies.

That more than 500 GI's are jam-packed in quarters equipped with fewer than 15 showers, some of which don't work; that there is no "day room" (lounge) or other recreational facilities for the men; that their food is poorly prepared and unappetizingly served; that GI's are required to act as drivers for officers' wives and take care of officers' children, including a nursery; that Lee and his staff are "salute crazy," imposing heavy fines for the slightest infraction of this rule; and that a disciplinary camp is running full-blast at Pisa.

This last charge is particularly serious. The Army denies it is operating any more of these notorious camps. But the committee is in possession of considerable evidence not only proving the existence of the Pisa camp, but certain very unsavory things that have taken place there.

"God-Almighty" Lee

Aside from the question of Lee's alleged antics, the matter is very serious because of its possible adverse repercussions on the universal military training issue here.

The fate of this urgently needed defensive measure is very much in doubt. To further its enactment, the Army last year announced far-reaching changes in its traditional caste system, and set up a model training camp at Ft. Knox. This camp has won high praise from numerous outstanding civilian leaders.

If the reports of what is transpiring in Lee's theater are confirmed by the Congressional committee, it will provide devastating ammunition to UMT foes.

Lee was chief supply in the European Theater during the war. He was not a popular figure. He was widely known as "God-almighty" Lee because of his high-handedness and luxurious living. In Paris, where his headquarters were located, he took over one of the best hotels which he publicly announced had to be considered as his private residence.

The late great General Patton repeatedly clashed with Lee over the failure of the Third Army to get adequate supplies, among them winter-warfare clothing. It was not until the Third Army had turned the tide in the Battle of the Bulge, that it finally began to get some of this equipment.

On one occasion, Patton bluntly demanded of Eisenhower that he crack down on Lee.

Note—A detailed account of Patton's behind-the-scenes warring with Lee over supplies is told in LUCKY FORWARD, bare-knuckled history of the Third Army soon to be published. (Allen, writer of the above report on General Lee, was a colonel on General Patton's staff during the war.—Ed. note).

Fighting Men

Charles Potter, Seventh Army veteran who lost both legs in heroic fighting near Colmar, France, has won the Republican nomination for the Michigan seat held by the late Representative Fred Bradley . . . Loss of a leg in the assault on Guam is not keeping ex-Marine Tommy Breen from realizing his ambition to be a movie actor. He has just won a stellar role in MGM's new super-musical, "Luxury Liner." . . . Col. Oscar Koch, who fought his way back from a death's-edge illness due to rigorous combat service, has been made head of the Army's crack intelligence school at Ft. Riley. The greatest G-2 in the Army, Koch was Patton's intelligence chief from Africa to V-E Day.

K. O. Kaiser

Howard Hughes had a good example on how to treat Washington officials when he clashed head-on with the Senate War Investigating Committee. The example was his friend and former business associate, Henry J. Kaiser.

The story has never been told before but the redoubtable builder on one occasion administered a physical roughing to none other than Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, former War Department Chief of Supply. The encounter occurred over Kaiser's proposal that the Government finance the construction of cargo planes to lick the U-boat menace. This issue is one of the subjects now being probed by the Senate Committee. Word reached Kaiser that Somervell not only was opposing the project, but had stated he would "run Kaiser out of town."

Kaiser invited General "Hap" Arnold, then chief of the AAF, to lunch to discuss the matter. Arnold accepted. Later, he called back to ask if he could bring a friend and if the luncheon could be held in the Army-Navy club. Kaiser agreed.

To Kaiser's surprise, Arnold appeared with Somervell, the late Gen. Leslie J. McNair, then head of Army Ground Forces, and Ferdinand Eberstadt, of the War Production Board. The luncheon started off pleasantly, but soon Kaiser and Somervell were engaged in a heated exchange.

This was ended abruptly by Kaiser. Jumping from his chair, he dashed around the table seized Somervell by the shoulders and shook him violently.

"You've been saying you're going to run me out of town," blazed Kaiser. "I'd like to see you or any other blankety-blank try it."

Somervell also rose and in trying to free himself from Kaiser sent dishes flying in all directions. The others finally restored peace and the luncheon was resumed. Kaiser, thereafter, had no more trouble with Somervell.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

Wrong Start

Many employers and many labor leaders are approaching the Taft-Hartley Bill from the wrong side. Instead of trying to make the law of the land work, they are doing everything possible to curcumvent it. Usually that makes a lot of good business for lawyers, but it is not good for the country. In effect, they are trying to make a Volstead Act of the Taft-Hartley Bill.

Some employers regarded the Taft-Hartley Bill as a club with which to beat out the brains of labor leaders. I have been reading advertisements in newspopers which give the impression that the strike, as an instrument of collective bargaining, has been outlawed more or less. This is nonsense, as it is equal nonsense that the Taft-Hartley Bill eliminates the union as an instrument of collective bargaining. The Taft-Hartley Bill corrects and implements the Wagner Act which so encouraged strikes of major dimensions that since its passage the country has been cursed by arbitrary and unnecessary cessation of work. But the right to strike is inalienable among the free people and no legislation has yet been passed in this country abolishing that right.

I recently saw an advertisement which read:

"The new labor law specifically states that the employee is protected from coercion by labor unions and their agents or the employer . . . that he is protected from losing his job even if there is a union shop contract . . . that now unions may be charged with an unfair labor practice if they use physical or economic forces, like mass picketing, to stop a man from going to work."

I suppose all this is a correct statement of the case as far as it goes, but it totally misrepresents the intent of the Taft-Hartley Bill and it is very doubtful if the Courts will uphold any such interpretation. For what this advertisement, in effect, tells the worker is that he may and ought to ignore his union altogether, to take his job as an individual, to deal with his boss as an individual, to ignore the disciplines of any union to which he may belong. It is a renunciation of collective bargaining through unions. But one of the criticisms of the Wagner Act was that it limited collective bargaining by imposing the government as the final arbiter of industrial conduct.

Carried to its logical conclusion, the attitude of this advertisement would eliminate the trade union from American life altogether. The Taft-Hartley Bill was never intended to do that. Its objective is to make the union an orderly institution, to refit it into the American scheme of balanced responsibilities and rights, obligations and liberties. In time, it will actually strengthen the American trade union by eliminating the crook, the racketeer, the arbitrary labor baron from it.

Employers who assume that they can use this measure to abolish the trade union do not understand the role that that institution plays in the development of mass production industries and in the maintenance of free institutions. They are rejecting the capitalistic concept of the partnership of labor and management and are accepting the communist idea of the class struggle. The inevitable outcome of the latter is revolution.

On the other hand, the labor lawyers, who seek to introduce clauses in contracts circumventing the act, lay themselves and the companies that do business open to litigation, possibly to the criminal charge of conspiracy. For obviously, men may not combine to evade the law and whereas one Attorney-General may regard such conduct as practical and politically wise, another might, as Mr. Biddle did, file suit even in matters to which government officials had given consent. Any firm that plays with that firebrand is liable to burn its fingers badly.

The Taft-Hartley Bill is the law of the land and should be enforced. If it achieves its purposes, it is sound legislation; if, as propagandists of the Wagner Act say, it is impossible to administer, it will in time be amended to make it work. Bootlegging is not the solution; it is never the solution for anything. Obedience to law, passed by Congress, alone can safeguard and maintain democratic government.

Workers May Contribute To Any Political Party They Desire

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Philip Murray, president of the CIO, is to be commended for his frank statement that "there is nothing in the Taft-Hartley law which prevents voluntary contributions from labor unions in connection with political campaigns."

Whenever any labor-union leader makes a statement that assists in removing the misrepresentations that have been circulated about the Taft-Hartley law, he is to be applauded.

For the last several weeks an impression has been broadcast to the effect that union members or leaders cannot participate in political campaigns or support the candidates of their choice. This impression has been disseminated primarily by those who are hostile to the whole law and wish to prevent its effective operation.

Mr. Murray is absolutely right when he says there is nothing in the law to prevent unions from raising funds and using them in the elections. But the method of raising and the manner of expenditure must be according to the accepted rules which have been in effect in the past in connection with election expenses.

From the time of the first Corrupt Practices Act and continuing through wartime when the Smith-Connally Act was passed with some provisions governing election contributions, it has always been clearly set forth that any group of citizens can organize a "political committee" and make any contributions and incur any expenses that their funds will permit. Nor is it necessary for these separate "political committees" to be connected with or tied to the Republican or Democratic national or state committees.

Must Conform To Law

Thus, in the 1944 campaign the CIO set up a national political action committee to which union members contributed funds. This particular "Political Action Committee" came within the provisions of the existing laws which require that a record be kept of contributions and expenditures and that these be filed with the proper authorities as has always been provided by the laws governing elections.

As a matter of fact, there is no law to prevent a political committee today from collecting hundreds of millions of dollars from labor-union members provided the process of collection conforms to the methods prescribed in the law.

Thus, the federal laws governing elections have stipulated that "political committees" must keep an accurate accounting of what they do and register the names of their contributors with the clerk of the House of Representatives. Also, under the new law, they must keep an account of what expenditures are made.

The only new thing that the Taft-Hartley law prohibits is the direct "expenditure" of union funds or corporation funds in connecton with federal elections.

Mr. Murray is right when he says that separate treasuries can be set up for this purpose through separate committees. It would be a violation of law for union officers to spend their time collecting campaign contributions when they are being paid salaries for regular union activities. But a separate system of collection, with canvassers paid for by the "political committee" can be set up.

It is a violation of law to take union funds which are collected from members for the specific purposes of union organization or union maintenance and to use those funds by contributing them to political committees.

Emphasis on Word "Voluntary"

The emphasis is on the word "voluntary." Consent must be given by the individual union member for the use of his money for a political purpose.

Thus the Taft-Hartley law protects the union member who does not believe in a particular party and yet may be forced by union locals to join that political party or contribute to its success. When a worker contributes his regular dues to a union, he does so with the understanding that the money is to be used for the union and not for some purposes which the officers may decide might be desirable, especially in the matter of politics.

Workers in this country divide according to their political beliefs or affiliations. All that the Taft-Hartley law does, in prohibiting corporation or union "expenditures," is to prevent the abuse by labor-union leaders of the right of the individual worker to contribute to whatever political party he desires.

Condition Of Europe And Impact On This Nation Holds Attention

By MARK SULLIVAN

What most engages the attention of official Washington today, including both the Administration and Congress even though it is not now in session, may be condensed into something like this: The condition of Europe, the impact of that condition on us, and what we can do to ameliorate it.

To state it thus involves to an extreme degree the inadequacy of any attempt to condense an infinitely complex condition into a single sentence. And to say that the condition "engages the attention" of Washington fails utterly to convey the sober anxiety that pervades the Capital. A faint suggestion of the seriousness of feeling, and of the scope of action called for, may be conveyed by mentioning some of the official activities that are under way. All cohere and focus toward a program expected to become concrete in the late fall.

A Committee of European Nations, set up as the outcome of Secretary of State Marshall's proposal for the restoration of Europe is preparing a report upon what they can do for themselves in self-help, and upon the help they will need from the United States.

Committee At Washington

At Washington is a committee which is the counterpart of the European one. As the European committee is to say what is needed from America, the American committee is to say what we can do and how to do it. It is composed of officials headed by Secretary of the Interior Krug. Its function is to survey our national resources in relation to our ability to provide foreign aid. (Parallel with this are two other official committees: one, the official Council of Economic Advisers; the other a committee set up under Secretary of Commerce Harriman).

Corresponding to the committees set up by authority of the Administration, and for the same purpose, are similar bodies set up in Congress. A Select Committee on Foreign Affairs appointed by Speaker of the House Martin, is made up of 19 key men from the standing committees on Foreign Affairs, Agriculture, Appropriations, and several others. In addition to this and cooperating with it, Representative Dirksen has been appointed to go to Europe as a special representative of the Appropriations Committee. The House Foreign Relations Committee has sent representatives to Europe and elsewhere.

The Select Committee on Foreign Aid expects to leave for Europe about the first of September and return early in October. Thereafter and following completion of the work of all the groups, will be a comparison and checking up, as between what Europe needs and what we can provide. Following that, action must come from Congress, for the need comes down to money and other material aid, which only Congress has power to authorize. Whether Congress will come together in a special session, or wait until the regular one in January, is not now decided. The speed with which events are moving suggests that the need of a special session will be apparent.

To list these official bodies and outline the mechanism at work fails to suggest the seriousness with which the work is being done or the gravity of the condition. Excepting that any comparison with apprehension of war would be misleading, for that does not enter any thought, the atmosphere of Washintgon recalls that which existed during an August eight years ago. In 1939 there was tension and anxiety because of apprehension of war in Europe. Today the anxiety is about impending economic crises in Europe.

Economical Collapse Feared

Our apprehension is that Europe may collapse economically, that as a result Communism might engulf the continent, and that if this should occur it would create difficulty for us as a country with free government and a free economic system.

The purpose of the aid we propose for Europe, in addition to the broad purpose of bringing about recovery in Europe and the rest of the world, is to enable free governments in Europe to survive. Some of these, including France and Britain, are Socialist or semi-Socialist. But the policy of our government includes willingness to aid such countries on the ground that their systems preserve many political freedoms which Communism denies.

In all authoritative statements of what is being done in Washington, the purpose of the present phase is described as determining how much aid we can give to Europe without too serious damage to our own economic structure and system. Always it is borne in mind that we must maintain our own economic integrity and national solvency. Any irreparable damage to that, through inflation or otherwise, would be as fatal as any consequence of collapse in Europe.

Always Expect Best

I once read somewhere that it is better to aim for something that you want—even though you may not get it—than to aim for something that you don't want — and get it!

It's the striving that counts in a genuine success. Results are often misjudged by the outside world. There is a saying by Will Rogers that went something like this, though I may not quote it exactly, but I give you the soul of the meaning: "So live that even though you fail, you are ahead!"

I have always tried to expect the best, even though I have often been given the opposite. To live hopefully is an inspiration in itself. I know of no greater asset to have than a never changing faith. Always expect the best—even though you may not get it.

If judgment passed upon you does not sound reasonable, just don't accept it! Look ahead and always believe that better things are bound to be. There are far more good days in life than bad days.

I used to go visiting with my father, who was a minister, and I have never forgotten one old lady that he called upon with me many times, and always the story was the same. My father would inquire after her health, and her reply would always be: "Quite miserable, Pastor, quite miserable!"

We are no better than we think. We can have so much greater happiness out of expectation than almost anything else—always expecting the best. And, strange to say, it usually turns out best for people who set their minds and hearts on an even keel and who look straight forward.

Paper Firm Terms Offer Unmatched By Competitors

Labor rates proposed for employes of the Luke, Md., Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa., plants of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company would be unmatched in any competitive paper mill in the three states in which these plants operate, a company spokesman in yesterday in reiterating the company denial that wage increase was the issue which prompted a breakdown in negotiations last Friday.

Under the proposed wage schedule the lowest labor rates would be $1.02 an hour at the Covington and Luke plants and $1.03½ an hour at the Williamsburg plant. On V-J Day, two years ago, the labor rates were 65 cents an hour at Covington, 67 cents an hour at Luke and 68½ cents an hour at Williamsburg.

The company representative said that payment of high wages to employes is part of the company's basic philosophy, just as is the company attitude toward job security, the privilege of the employes to organize and bargain collectively and the development and maintenance of friendly and understanding relations with the union selected by its employes.

Would Keep Other Benefits

In addition to the wage increase, which ranges from five to 12 cents an hour, the company has proposed to retain in the contract all other employe benefits, including vacations with pay, Christmas gifts and holidays with pay, the company representative explained.

The company's present vacation plan, which it proposes to include in the terms of the new agreement, provides for vacations of one week and an allowance of 40 hours pay for employes with one to five years mill seniority, and two weeks and 80 hours pay for employes with five or more years mill seniority.

The present holiday plan gives all hourly employes pay at the rate of time and one half for six holidays, New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas, if worked, and in addition provides for eight hours straight time pay for three holidays, Fourth of July, Labor Day and Christmas if not worked.

The company gives each of the 4,200 employes of the three plants a Christmas gift and proposes to continue this gift in the forthcoming agreement. The Christmas gift for employes with six months to one year mill seniority is $10 and for all employes with more than one year mill seniority, $15.

The company pointed out that its offer for a wage increase of 13 per cent over the rate paid prior to March 17 guarantees a minimum net increase of five cents an hour and that rates in the skilled classification would rise as much as 12 cents an hour.

The company also proposed to equalize the labor rates at the Covington and Luke plants, giving additional increases up to two cents an hour in the lower paid classifications at Covington.

The spokesman pointed out that in negotiations of the past it was customary for the union to make high wage demands and for the company to counter with low offers until the two parties finally got together on a reasonable compromise.

He explained that in the present negotiations the company considered both the union and company experienced and realistic enough to do away with such time consuming haggling. As a result the company made what it termed a "firm" offer.

Wages Not Issue

"Because the company wage offer was unchallenged," the spokesman said, "we do not feel that the wage increase is the issue which prompted any breakdown in present negotiations."

The negotiations were ended unexpectedly last Friday night at Frostburg, when the union announced it would adjourn to discuss company offers with the local unions.

In a local newspaper the union announced that negotiations had been broken off and that the union committee would recommend unanimously that local unions reject the company offer.

One of the principal discussions at the Frostburg meeting concerned a company proposal to include a statement, either in the dues check-off authoriztion form or in the contract, pointing out that under the Virginia law an employe is free to revoke at any time any written authorization to the company to deduct union dues from his pay. The union refused to agree to inclusion or such information either in the form of an authorization or the contract.

In explaining the company stand on this issue, the company spokesman said that the concern tries to live up to all laws and will not knowingly be a party to any attempt to evade, circumvent, avoid or violate any laws.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Paper Firm Terms Offer Unmatched By Competitors

Labor rates proposed for employes of the Luke, Md., Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa., plants of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company would be unmatched in any competitive paper mill in the three states in which these plants operate, a company spokesman in yesterday in reiterating the company denial that wage increase was the issue which prompted a breakdown in negotiations last Friday.

Under the proposed wage schedule the lowest labor rates would be $1.02 an hour at the Covington and Luke plants and $1.03½ an hour at the Williamsburg plant. On V-J Day, two years ago, the labor rates were 65 cents an hour at Covington, 67 cents an hour at Luke and 68½ cents an hour at Williamsburg.

The company representative said that payment of high wages to employes is part of the company's basic philosophy, just as is the company attitude toward job security, the privilege of the employes to organize and bargain collectively and the development and maintenance of friendly and understanding relations with the union selected by its employes.

Would Keep Other Benefits

In addition to the wage increase, which ranges from five to 12 cents an hour, the company has proposed to retain in the contract all other employe benefits, including vacations with pay, Christmas gifts and holidays with pay, the company representative explained.

The company's present vacation plan, which it proposes to include in the terms of the new agreement, provides for vacations of one week and an allowance of 40 hours pay for employes with one to five years mill seniority, and two weeks and 80 hours pay for employes with five or more years mill seniority.

The present holiday plan gives all hourly employes pay at the rate of time and one half for six holidays, New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas, if worked, and in addition provides for eight hours straight time pay for three holidays, Fourth of July, Labor Day and Christmas if not worked.

The company gives each of the 4,200 employes of the three plants a Christmas gift and proposes to continue this gift in the forthcoming agreement. The Christmas gift for employes with six months to one year mill seniority is $10 and for all employes with more than one year mill seniority, $15.

The company pointed out that its offer for a wage increase of 13 per cent over the rate paid prior to March 17 guarantees a minimum net increase of five cents an hour and that rates in the skilled classification would rise as much as 12 cents an hour.

The company also proposed to equalize the labor rates at the Covington and Luke plants, giving additional increases up to two cents an hour in the lower paid classifications at Covington.

The spokesman pointed out that in negotiations of the past it was customary for the union to make high wage demands and for the company to counter with low offers until the two parties finally got together on a reasonable compromise.

He explained that in the present negotiations the company considered both the union and company experienced and realistic enough to do away with such time consuming haggling. As a result the company made what it termed a "firm" offer.

Wages Not Issue

"Because the company wage offer was unchallenged," the spokesman said, "we do not feel that the wage increase is the issue which prompted any breakdown in present negotiations."

The negotiations were ended unexpectedly last Friday night at Frostburg, when the union announced it would adjourn to discuss company offers with the local unions.

In a local newspaper the union announced that negotiations had been broken off and that the union committee would recommend unanimously that local unions reject the company offer.

One of the principal discussions at the Frostburg meeting concerned a company proposal to include a statement, either in the dues check-off authoriztion form or in the contract, pointing out that under the Virginia law an employe is free to revoke at any time any written authorization to the company to deduct union dues from his pay. The union refused to agree to inclusion or such information either in the form of an authorization or the contract.

In explaining the company stand on this issue, the company spokesman said that the concern tries to live up to all laws and will not knowingly be a party to any attempt to evade, circumvent, avoid or violate any laws.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Report Advocates Timber, Hauling Safeties At Mine

After being inspected under the Federal Mine Code by Inspector F. E. Riley, safety improvments are commended in the No. 42 Mine of the Davis Coal and Coke Company at Kempton, W. Va., and a report states that further timbering and haulage safeguards are recommended.

The Garrett County mine employed 207 men and produced 1,200 tons of coal daily when inspected.

Beneficial improvements reported were the removal of loose unsupported roof at several locations, use of jacks as safety posts by loading-machine operators and roof testing.

Others noted were examinations for gas immediately before and after blasting, good ventilation, closing of all crosscuts except the last one, safely devices for the manhoist, and shelter holes where needed at track switches.

Inspector Riley also commended the management of the mine for using frame grounds for certain electrical equipment, spragging of undercut coal, short-circuiting of blasting cables in the hand loading section, separation of explosives and detonators in transit, removal of coal-dust accumulations from shuttle-car roads and the availability of rock dust at strategic underground locations for fire-fighting purposes.

The Federal inspector recommended that the adoption of minimum timbering standards for greater protection in the loading machine sections to increase timbering and haulage safety.

He proposed timbering of some doubtful roof throws for several track switches, unobstructed crosscut shelter holes, audible warning device for each locomotive and effective blocking of all standing cars.

Other recommendations were for an additional door to form an airlock at one location, substantial incombustible stoppings in the A-3 section, removal of coal dust from all haulage roads, added electrical safeguards, and the wearing of approved goggles for work hazardous to the eyes.

School children in Rumania were treated with DDT in an effort to control an epidemic of spotted fever, a disease for which science has found no cure.

Three Mineral County Men Enlist In Army

Three Mineral County men enlisted in the Regular Army at the local recruiting station yesterday, Capt. Laurence M. Bairstow, detachment commander announced.

LeRoy Weese, Jr., Elk Garden, W. Va., signed for three years in the Seventh Infantry Division for assignment to the Pacific Theater. Robert Stanley Haines, 78 Lincoln Street, Keyser, W. Va., enlisted in the Regular Army, unassigned, for two years, and Charles Frederick Rader, New Creek, joined the Ordnance Department for three years.

Plants And Porch Equipment Stolen

The theft of plants and flowers from the front porch of Mrs. James E. Dyche, 121 Humbird Street, was reported to police, and Catherine Lewis, a neighbor, declared she saw two women and a man in front of the Dyche home at the time of the alleged theft.

John McGraw, 312 Cumberland Street, has reported the theft of a heavy rubber glider cover and a rubber porch runner from his home.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Girl, 17, Wants To Elope Because Mother Thinks She's Too Young

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 17 and very much in love with a man of 23. He says he loves me and wants me to marry him, but my mother refuses to hear of it and won't even discuss it. She says I am too young.

I realize that 17 may seem young to some people, but I have always passed for an older girl both in mind and looks. Every boy I have been out with has been three years my senior, and a boy my own age seems very immature to me.

Please advise me as to what I can do to make my mother listen, or else I will run away and be married.

"R. A."

Dear "R.A."

I am afraid that you are not nearly as mature as you think you are. No girl who threatens to run away and be married, simply because her mother thinks she is too young, is out of the adolescent stage. So don't delude yourself about that.

If you were 20, or 21, or 22, and the man you wished to marry were six years older than yourself, I wouldn't necessarily think he was too old for you. But at 17 no girl is ready to get married, whether it is to a man of 23, or 20, or 18. Your mother is quite right in her attitude, and if you do anything as foolish as you suggest, you will simply be giving unmistakable proof that she knows what she is talking about.

Their Mothers Disapprove

Dear Miss Fairfax:

There are four of us girls who are hoping to take a trip soon to a far-away state. We intend to stay with a relative of mine. All of us are of age, but our mothers disapprove of our going on this trip. We cannot feel that there is any reason for their objections. All of us have saved the money for our expenses. Do you feel that it is right for our mothers to disapprove?

"THE FOURSOME"

Dear "Foursome":

The important thing in life is not so much to "be of age" as to "be your age." If all of you are girls who behave in a manner suitable to your 21, or 22, or 23 years or whatever, and are not going to make this trip an opportunity for picking people up along the way then I see no reason why you should not take it, particularly if you plan to stay with a relative at the end of your journey. I gather that this is a vacation trip and you will all be returning home at the end of two or three weeks.

The only reason that I can think of why your mothers might have reason to disapprove is if you have ever given them cause for worry over your attitude toward the conventions. Better check yourselves over on this and make sure that you are all in the clear in this regard.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Girl, 17, Wants To Elope Because Mother Thinks She's Too Young

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 17 and very much in love with a man of 23. He says he loves me and wants me to marry him, but my mother refuses to hear of it and won't even discuss it. She says I am too young.

I realize that 17 may seem young to some people, but I have always passed for an older girl both in mind and looks. Every boy I have been out with has been three years my senior, and a boy my own age seems very immature to me.

Please advise me as to what I can do to make my mother listen, or else I will run away and be married.

"R. A."

Dear "R.A."

I am afraid that you are not nearly as mature as you think you are. No girl who threatens to run away and be married, simply because her mother thinks she is too young, is out of the adolescent stage. So don't delude yourself about that.

If you were 20, or 21, or 22, and the man you wished to marry were six years older than yourself, I wouldn't necessarily think he was too old for you. But at 17 no girl is ready to get married, whether it is to a man of 23, or 20, or 18. Your mother is quite right in her attitude, and if you do anything as foolish as you suggest, you will simply be giving unmistakable proof that she knows what she is talking about.

Their Mothers Disapprove

Dear Miss Fairfax:

There are four of us girls who are hoping to take a trip soon to a far-away state. We intend to stay with a relative of mine. All of us are of age, but our mothers disapprove of our going on this trip. We cannot feel that there is any reason for their objections. All of us have saved the money for our expenses. Do you feel that it is right for our mothers to disapprove?

"THE FOURSOME"

Dear "Foursome":

The important thing in life is not so much to "be of age" as to "be your age." If all of you are girls who behave in a manner suitable to your 21, or 22, or 23 years or whatever, and are not going to make this trip an opportunity for picking people up along the way then I see no reason why you should not take it, particularly if you plan to stay with a relative at the end of your journey. I gather that this is a vacation trip and you will all be returning home at the end of two or three weeks.

The only reason that I can think of why your mothers might have reason to disapprove is if you have ever given them cause for worry over your attitude toward the conventions. Better check yourselves over on this and make sure that you are all in the clear in this regard.

Court Petitioned To Sell Real Estate

A suit was filed in equity in Circuit Court yesterday asking the Court to order the sale of a [illegible] real estate and name a guardian for two minor heirs.

Filed by Noel Spier Cook, attorney, the plaintiffs are Harold L. Alderton and Loretta Alderton his wife and the defendants are Dolly M. Bucy and Lloyd Bucy, her husband, and James Alderton, a minor, and Jack Alderton, a minor.

The claimants allege that Minnie A. Alderton died intest te May 1, last owning real estate on the north side of Braddock Way, and left no will. Harold L. Alderton, of Silver Springs, it is stated is a son, Dolly M. Bucy is a daughter and James Alderton 15, and Jack Alderton 12, are sons and legal heirs of E. Clyde Alderton deceased another son.

The petitioners want the property sold and proceeds divided according to the respective interests, and ask the Court to name guardians for the minor boys.

A divorce was filed by Leona Grace Lewis, vs. James Roy Lewis, 359 Bedford Street. The couple, according to the bill, married August 8, 1943, here, and separated August 11, last. They have one child. The defendant was ordered by the Court to pay his wife $10 per week.

CONCRETE
TO MAKE YOUR FARM MORE PRODUCTIVE

Concrete improvements will help you produce more eggs, milk, beef, pork, ——.

It takes very little portland cement to make those needed improvements around the farm. You can haul back enough on your next trip to town to make a good start.

For instance, you need only 20 bags of cement—less than a ton—to build any one of these things:

- 250 sq. ft. of 4-inch floor for feed lot, barn, or hog or poultry house.
- 166 sq. ft. of 6-inch wall.
- Two big, 8-foot long watering troughs.
- 125 sq. ft. of 8-inch thick foundation.
- A 10-can capacity insulated milk cooling tank.

Plan to build up your place now with economical, long-lasting, fire-safe concrete. We'll gladly send free plans and suggestions. If you need help, get in touch with your concrete contractor, ready-mixed concrete producer or building material dealer.

Hyndman Youth Is Held In Thefts

A youth, identified as Michell Norris, 17, Hyndman, Pa., is one of four youths being held by Hagerstown police in connection with a series of robberies, according to authorities.

Detective Wayne Sellman said the larceny cases involve taking all types of goods "from doughnuts and chocolate syrup to men's suits and cigarets."

At the Hershey Ice Cream plant, police said they found a joker playing card with the following note scribbled on it:

"Ha, Ha, Ha, ye haven't caught me yet. Please give this to Wayne Sellman and tell him and the rest of his dicks to try and get me."

Mill Workers Take First Aid Course

Ten employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, who recently completed a standard American Red Cross First Aid course, will form the nucleus for a first aid and safety detachment in the Luke plant, H. Board Grants Building Permit To H. S. Athey

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night granted to Herman S. Athey, 106 Arch Street, a permit to erect on the northeast corner of Laing Avenue and Springdale Street a building to be used as a garage and for storage in connection with a service station at Laing and Virginia Avenues.

The city engineer's office recently had denied the permit for the building, to be erected in a Residential B. section. Athey recently purchased the lot from the city.

He plans to erect a one-story 50 by 30-foot concrete block building with built up roof.

Twin Dairy Calves To Feature 4-H Club Fair Exhibit

Four Breeds Listed Among 20 Entries

A score or more entries have been made for the 4-H Club dairy calf exhibit at the Cumberland Fair, August 26 to 30, including two sets of twin calves, according to Joseph M. Stegar, assistant county farm agent.

Members of boys 4-H Clubs in the county have been interested in dairy calf breeding and raising for several years, and the calf show this year promises to be better than ever before, Stegar predicted.

Entries include Aryshires, Guernseys, Jerseys and Holsteins, and include only calves actually bred and raised in this county. All are from registered herds.

Guernseys are to be entered by Robert and James Greise, Mason Road, Jan Siehler, Union Grove, and George Michael Raines, Baltimore Pike.

Holsteins will be entered by Fred and James Miltenberger, RFD here, and Edward and Robert Miller, Midland.

Russell Yokum, Rawlings and Billy Greise, Valley Road are entering Jerseys.

Dale Harvey, Frostburg, Harry Johnson, here and John Hafer, Jr., Frostburg are entering Aryshires

Twin Aryshires are to be entered by Hafer and twin Guernseys by James Greise.

Dr. C. M. Foose, LaVale, is testing the calves this week for Bangs disease and tuberculosis. Under the rules of entry, all calves must come from accredited herds and those animals not vaccinated must be tested within 60 days of the Fair, or come from a supervised herd, not yet accredited, in which all animals are tested and negative within 90 days of the Fair.

All cattle must originate in a herd which is negative on the tuberculosis test, and if the herd has not been tested in 12 months, entries must pass a negative test within 30 days of the exhibition.

A direct violation of the Constitution of Maryland in that it attempts to clothe said Board of Managers with not only legislative but also judicial and executive powers.

That it is inoperable, vague, indefinite, incapable of enforcement and vicious in its provisions.

That the treasurer of said Board of Managers would serve without being bonded.

No Manager Board

The title so states, but no where in said act is it provided for incorporation of Board of Managers, and it is impossible to determine if board is or is not a corporation, and if board is not a corporation, so such powers and authority as provided in said Act could be exercised under the Constitution of Maryland.

The act provides that all persons over 21 years of age residing in Bowling Green area can vote at yearly meeting, which would permit persons who are not citizens or not qualified voters of the state to vote contrary to the Constitution of Maryland.

Act is vague as to who should fix tax rate for community, the Board of Managers, County Commissioners or tax collector for district.

Act permits Board of Managers to condemn private property by an unincorporated, non-municipal or governmental body of individuals contrary to the Fifth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Charges Denied

Cobey and Gilchrist filed a demurrer and an answer in which all of Robb's allegations were denied, and both sides joined in a stipulation as to the facts involved, indicating that actually residents of Bowling Green realized the referendum was being held at the time set, and that they knew generally the contents of the act and its over-all purpose.

Robb said in court yesterday there was no intent to claim fraud, but to challenge the legality and validity of the cat itself.

Dies After Crackup

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 13 (AP) — Marvin (Shorty) Miller of Lansdale, Pa., midget auto driver died today at DePaul Hospital without regaining consciousness after suffering head injuries in a crackup last night at Princess Anne Speedway.

Miller was taken to the hospital in an ambulance soon after his car clipped on the seventh lap of the opening 10-lap qualifying heat.

The accident occurred, track officials explained, when Miller "broadsided" the guard rail on the backstretch as he came out of the turn. The Pennsylvanian, product of a midget driving school, was racing this year for the first time.

Farewell Dinner Given For Morris Ceitlin

A farewell dinner was held last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club in honor of Morris Ceitlin, manager of the Darling Shop, Baltimore Street, who is being transferred to Anderson, Ind.

The toastmaster for the evening was Meyer Abrahmson and impromptu speeches paying tribute to the honor guest were made by a number of those who attended. Several gifts, including a traveling case, were presented to Ceitlin.

Robert Friedland and Louis Taxier headed the committee in charge of arrangements and guests included Charles Spear, George Ossip, Louis Yankelevitz, Harry Stein, William Stein, Aaron Lazurus, Lou Seder, Alec Green, Morris Fram, Jack Harris, Moe Sachs, Harry Lichtenstein, Sam Borsky, Robert Gerson, Jack Hendricks and Jessie Miller, Baltimore.

Mapleside Group Plans Festival

The first festival sponsored by the newly organized Mapleside Playground Association for the benefit of the playground on New Hampshire Avenue, will be held Friday from 6 to 9 p. m. according to Mrs. Robert J. Bealky, president.

Final plans for the festival were considered last night at a meeting of the association in Mapleside Methodist Church and will include among other things games for children and a baked goods sale.

Proceeds of the festival will be used to obtain equipment for the playground.

Mrs. Bealky said cash donations for the playground fund are approaching $150 and added that lumber for a sandbox was donated by the South Cumberland Planing Mill and the Cumbberland Cement and Supply Company.

Yesterday, City Commissioner William V. Keegan turned over to Mrs. Bealky a considerable amount of equipment for use on the playground. This equipment includes two pair of horseshoes, two banking boards for basketball, two basketballs, one volleyball, two soccer balls, eight utility balls and a volley ball net.

Regular meetings of the association will be held the first Tuesday of every month, according to action taken last night.

City Commissioner Myers G. Light attended last night's meeting.

Permit To Build House Is Granted

A permit to build a one and a half story concrete block house with asphalt shingle roof on Mary Street was granted to Hubert D. Dyer yesterday in the office of the city engineer.

The five-room house is expected to cost $3,500.

Richard E. Runion was granted a permit to build an open rear porch 7 by 14 feet on the house at 29 Mullin Street. Cost is estimated at $100.

Ten Little Servants

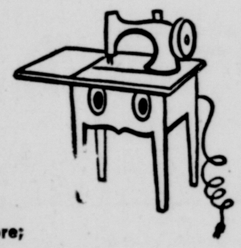
Ten little servants; waiting in a line;
Call one to do the wash—and still you have nine!

Nine little servants; working long and late;
Ask one to cook your meals—and still you have eight!

Eight little servants—working like eleven!
Call on one to clean for you, and still you have seven!

Seven little servants—you don't need candlesticks
When this one lights the house for you—and still you have six!

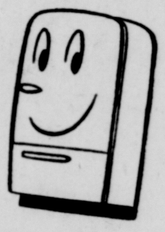
Six little servants, electrically-alive;
This one sews a handy seam—and still you have five!



Five little servants to help with every chore;
One can iron all the shirts—and still you have four!

Four little servants—such activity!
One breathes a little breeze—and still you have three!

Three little servants—if you're feeling blue,
One will entertain you—and still you have two!



Two little servants, whose work is never done!
One keeps the food fresh, and thinks it's rather fun—

One tells the proper time from sun to setting sun.
(Dependable electric service makes these servants run—
And saves you lots of elbow grease. Suppose you had none?)

Yes, electricity is always ready to take the work out of housework. And it costs so little! Matter of fact, if yours is the average family, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money as you did 20 years ago. What other item in your budget does so much for so little?

Herbert Gaither, 76, 420 South Allegany Street, was pronounced dead last night at 9:20 o'clock upon admittance to Allegany Hospital, after he suffered a heart attack at the corner of Beall and Smallwood Streets, police said.

Mr. Gaither, a retired Western Maryland Railway employe, suffered the attack in front of the Moose Home, according to police and Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said he died immediately from a heart condition.

He is survived by three sons, Wilbur R. Gaither, 420 Allegany Street; Frank P. Gaither, 607 Columbia Street, and Herbert C. Gaither, Detroit, Mich., and one daughter, Mrs. Grace E. Emmert, New York City.

The Book of HAPPY STORIES

Were they each chapters in a book, the claims paid by the Woodmen of the World would tell thousands of happy stories of homes saved, families kept together, youths given college training, couples protected from want in old age, etc.

Let the local Woodmen representative put your name on a page of this book of happy stories. Ask him to explain how you can build financial security with safe, sound, legal reserve Woodmen life insurance protection, and also enjoy Woodcraft's fraternal and social benefits.

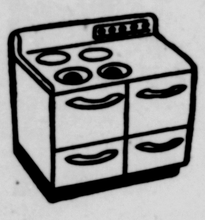
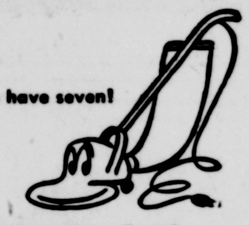
Ten Little Servants

Ten little servants; waiting in a line;
Call one to do the wash—and still you have nine!



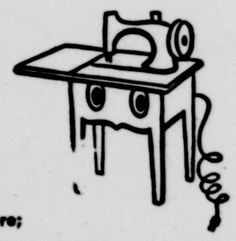
Nine little servants; working long and late;
Ask one to cook your meals—and still you have eight!

Eight little servants—working like eleven!
Call on one to clean for you, and still you have seven!



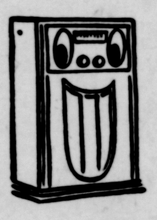
Seven little servants—you don't need candlesticks
When this one lights the house for you—and still you have six!

Six little servants, electrically-alive;
This one sews a handy seam—and still you have five!

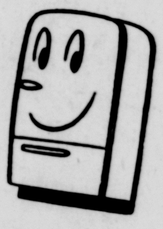


Five little servants to help with every chore;
One can iron all the shirts—and still you have four!

Four little servants—such activity!
One breathes a little breeze—and still you have three!



Three little servants—if you're feeling blue,
One will entertain you—and still you have two!



Two little servants, whose work is never done!
One keeps the food fresh, and thinks it's rather fun—

One tells the proper time from sun to setting sun.
(Dependable electric service makes these servants run—
And saves you lots of elbow grease. Suppose you had none?)

Yes, electricity is always ready to take the work out of housework. And it costs so little! Matter of fact, if yours is the average family, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money as you did 20 years ago. What other item in your budget does so much for so little?

Motorist Acquitted Of Reckless Driving

Forfeiting $11.45 Monday on a reckless driving charge when he failed to appear for a hearing in Trial Magistrates' Court, William J. Logsdon, 108 North Smallwood Street, was tried Tuesday on the charge and was acquitted by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew.

Court attaches stated that Logsdon misunderstood the time set for the trial. He was arrested early Sunday morning after his car struck a mailbox, jumped a curb and ran into the yard of the home of Charles N. Davis, 607 Oldtown Road.

Adelbert L. Smiley, 325 Emily Street, forfeited $6.45 bond yesterday for passing on a curve in the Narrows on Tuesday, and Thomas A. Maloney, Route 3, this city, forfeited the same amount for exceeding 25 miles per hour in a restricted zone on Route 220 on August 2.

JohnA. Groetach, Jr., North Hills, Pa., forfeited $6.45 for failing to display registration plates when apprehended Tuesday by Trooper William McElfish.

Smiley was arrested by State Trooper Harry S. Bosley and Maloney was taken into custody by Trooper Thomas Barton.

William Irving Nutter, Baltimore, will be given a hearing at 10 a. m. Saturday on two motor charges resulting from a three-car collision on Route 40, Flintstone, Monday night. According to Trooper McElfish, Nutter's machine careened from the road and struck the parked cars of Arthur E. Walter and John Keifer, both of Flintstone.

Police said both cars were parked five feet from the shoulder of the road. Damage to the three vehicles was estimated at $650.

Drilling shortly will be renewed in Germany's Emlichheim oil field and a pipe line laid, in the hope of increasing greatly needed production for industry.

Pays $10 Fine

Walter M. Holloway, Ridgeley, was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate C. A. Jewell, Ridgeley, Tuesday on a charge of failing to keep to the right while passing a car coming in the opposite direction.

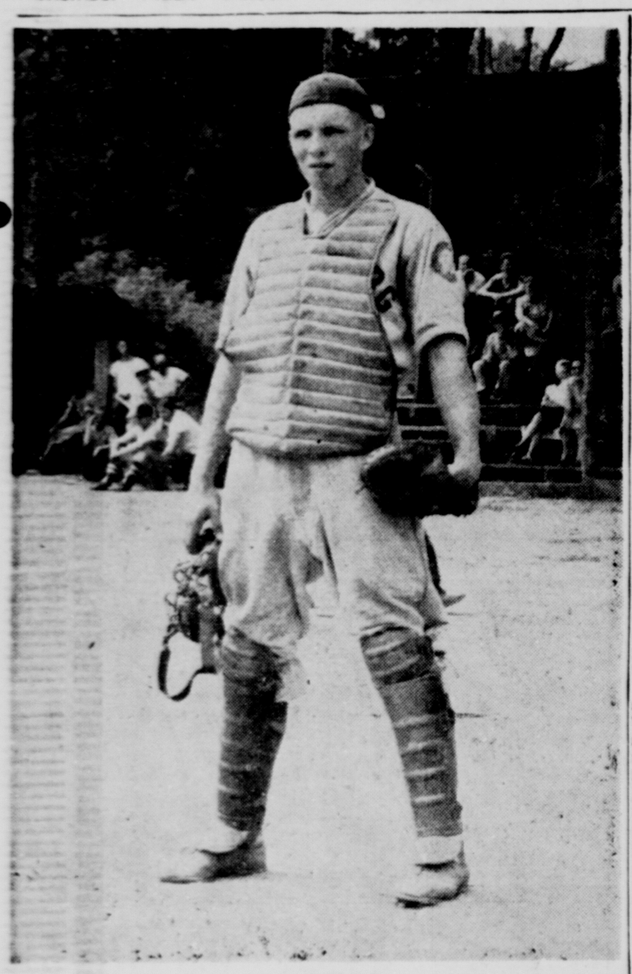
Jack Klosterman Wins Main Go In Keyser



ON HITTING SPREE—Joe Langan, promising catcher of the Frostburg V.F.W. team of the Bi-State Baseball League, is on a record hitting spree at the present time. He's hit safely in 24 consecutive games for a new league record and his batting average is .436 for the 26 contests in which he has played to date. Joe has stepped to the plate 117 times and has banged out 51 hits. He's rated one of the best receivers in the 10-club circuit.

Dodgers Stretch Lead By Beating Boston's Braves

Sain, Taylor Batted Out In 10-5 Contest

BROOKLYN, Aug. 13 (AP)—Brooklyn stretched its National League lead to 3½ games over the idle St. Louis Cardinals today by combining 10 hits with four Boston errors for a 10-5 victory over the surging Braves.

The Dodgers, breaking out of a hitting slump, knocked Johnny Sain, the Braves' ace winner, out of the box in a four run first inning highlighted by Bruce Edkards's two-run double.

Harry Taylor, who had yielded a run in the first inning on Pee Wee Reese's error and Bob Elliott's single, was belted off the hill in the fifth when the Braves went out front on a four-run spree. Box:

BUCS GET FOUR HOMERS

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13, (AP)—Four home runs sparked the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 10-2 win over the Chicago Cubs today before a sparse crowd of 5,111.

Pirate Catcher Dixie Howell belted two of the circuit blows — his first and second of the season—to drive in six of the runs. Ralph Kiner's 29th round-tripper also was the 100th homer of the season for the Bucs. Billy Cox joined the home run parade with his ninth of the season. Box:

PHILS TRIM GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13—(AP)—The forlorn Philadelphia Phillies made it two in a row over the Giants today by whacking four New York hurlers for 14 hits and a 5-2 victory.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman was the Philadelphia hero as he stopped the hard-hitting visitors with six hits. He needed help from Charley Schanz in the ninth, however, after Bobby Thompson belted his 23rd homer of the year. Bill Rigney scored the New Yorkers' other tally with a homer—his 16th—in the second. A photo which showed Leo Reichert, 415 Cumberland Street, displaying a large big-mouth bass, appeared on the NEWS sports page yesterday morning but cut lines failed to mention the weight of the fish hooked out of Lake Koon, Pa.

It weighed seven pounds and was 22½ inches long.

REMEMBER DOC?—In 1942 Rudy "Little Doc" Mobley, of the undefeated Hardin-Simmons College Cowboys of Abilene, Tex., hung up a modern college record when he gained 1,281 net yards rushing for an average of 142.3 yards per game. Returning from the service last year "Little Doc" broke his own record. Mobley will be seen in action tomorrow night at Fort Hill stadium when the Baltimore Colts of the All-America Football Conference play an intra-squad game at 8:15 o'clock

Hagerstown Plans To Ignore Demand For Higher Purses

Cumberland Retains Minimum Of $1,000

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 13—(AP)—The Hagerstown Fair Association voted unanimously today to continue racing Friday and Saturday, thus in effect ignoring a demand of the Horsemens Benevolent Protective Association for larger purses.

J. Richard Rauth, member of the Fair Board, said that only about 40 of the 80 owners and trainers with horses stabled here attended the meeting. Rauth said the board took this to mean that the other 40 would have sufficient entries, regardless of what those who attended the meeting did. Thursday's entry card was filled before the meeting.

Members of the HBPA met yesterday and Rober C. Hershey, Fair president, said they had demanded one $1,500 race Saturday and at lea two $1,200 purses daily. The eight-race program usually is made up of $1,000 purses with an occasional $1,200 event.

Hershey said wagering had fallen off 17 per cent, along with attendance.

Clifton W. White of Cumberland, president of Fairgo track which is scheduled to open for 10 days beginning Tuesday, said his track would retain the $1,000 minimum. Spokesmen for the HBPA indicated similar demands would be made on the Cumberland board. Purses of $1,200 and $1,500 also are offered at Cumberland.

UMPIRES ARE NAMED FOR BI-STATE GAMES

George Layman, umpire-in-chief of the Bi-State Baseball League, announced last night that umpires have been assigned for Sunday games, as follows:

Allen Sheetz notched his 29th victory of the City Softball League season yesterday when he twirled the Amvets to an 11-2 triumph over the Concord Clothiers at Campobello. He has lost seven games.

Doyle George, Lefty Lee and Sheetz paced the Amvets' attack with three hits each while D. Yates hit a homer and single for Concord.

Astor Cab stayed 4½ games back of the Amvets in the second half championship race by winning over Virginia Avenue Merchants via the forfeit route when the latter were unable to field a team.

Get 13 Runs In 3rd

In the wildest game of the day, North End Social and Athletic Club racked up 13 runs in the third inning and swamped Reed's Electricians by the score of 18 to 8 at Stitcher Feld. The victory put North End in a tie with Concord and V.F.W. for third place. Glen Kauffman belted a homer and single and Fradiska hit for the circuit and also got a single for the winners. Minnicks with a double and two singles, Porter with two hits and Elliott with a homer to his credit were the heavy stickers for Reed's.

V.F.W. put on a garrison finish to score four runs in the 7th inning and overcome the American Legion by the score of 6-5 at Community Park. Paul Whitford's triple with the bases loaded knotted the score and the latter came home on Brown's infield out. Pinch Hitter Jack Kreitzburg, John Morrissey and Charley Abe had walked before Whitford teed off. Basilio smashed a homer, double and single for the Legion while Abe and Morrissey of V.F.W. and C. Crabtree of the Legion collected two hits each.

Scaletta Stands Out

Scaletta's hitless and runless pitching after relieving Floyd Athey with the sacks loaded in the 5th highlighted the 9 to 6 victory scored by Lacy's Delicatets over the Maccabees at Taylor Field. Hardy paced the first half champions at the plate with two doubles and a single. Durbin "Pooch" Orndorff and "Sonny" Wilson hammered two-baggers while Cage and Harder of the Bees had two hits each. Washington Is Winner In Legion Tourney

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 13 (AP)—The Bunker Hill Post team from Washington, D. C., cut off an incipient ninth-inning rally at Morgantown by one run today and defeated the West Virginia Champions 4-2 in the opening game of American Legion Regional Junior Baseball play.

Norman Curren of Morgantown made half his team's hits and drove in both runs. Longest drive of the game was a triple to left center by Jack Spicer, Washington centerfielder.

Yankee Rookies Grab Spotlight In 8-2 Conquest

Berra, Clark, Raschi Help Sink Mackmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Jolting Joe DiMaggio joined ailing Tommy Henrich on the bench today but rookies Yogi Berra and Al Clark took up the slack to pace the American League leading New York Yankees to an 8-2 triumph over Philadelphia's Athletics.

The two recruits got three of the Yank's ten hits off a quartet of Philadelphia pitchers and drove in six runs between them to make it easy for another first-year man, Vic Raschi, to hang up his sixth victory without defeat in the majors this season. Clark sent home four tallies and Berra two. Box:

George Godfrey, 50, Former Boxer, Dies

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13 (AP) — George Godfrey, 50, big negro, boxer who told friends he made a half million dollars in the ring, died in a squalid room today of a heart ailment.

His physician and close friend, Dr. Darrington Weaver, said he found the one-time contender for heavyweight fame dead in bed a few hours after Godfrey telephoned to complain of illness.

Big George, six feet, two inches tall and weighing 225 pounds in his prime, fought professionally from 1922 to 1932, winning 72 starts, most of them by knockouts, and losing nine. His peak was a decision victory over Paulino Uzcudun at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, in 1928.

Gridmen To Report

Candidates for Fort Hill High School's football team will report to Coach William P. Hahn at the school tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Hahn indicated last night that drills will get under way on Monday.

Mitchell's .317 Leads American League Rookies

Most Of Headlines Go To Berra, Shea

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Dale Mitchell, Cleveland's brilliant center fielder, tops the American League rookie crop in batting with a fine .317 average although most of the headlines have gone to Yogi Berra and Frank Shea of the pennant-bound New York Yankees.

A graduate of the Oklahoma City Club with which he won the Texas League batting crown at .337 in 1946, Mitchell failed to impress Manager Lou Boudreau in early season. He was shipped back to the Tribe farm for more seasoning but never played a game in the Texas League. It turned out that Mitchell should not have been farmed out according to baseball law and he was recalled by the parent club.

Hit In 22 Straight

When Pat Seerey's strikeout habit became too monotonous, Boudreau inserted Mitchell in the lineup. Although he first was forced to play left field because Cat Metkovich was going like a ball of fire in center, he now has moved over to center, his natural position.

Included in his 80 hits are a 22-game hitting streak, the longest of the major league season. He has played in 68 games and would rate as the sixth hitter in the league if he had been at bat a few more times.

Sam Mele, Boston's right fielder, also is in the running for rookie-of-the-year honors with an average in the vicinity of .290. He has solved Joe Cronin's right field problem. Likewise Sam Dente, the Red Sox new third baseman, recently recalled from Louisville, has been showing to fine advantage.

Fain Hits Around .280

Connie Mack's new first baseman, Ferris Fain, is hitting around .280 and ranks with the cream of the new crop.

The lowly St. Louis Browns, who can find little to cheer about, have come up with two promising outfielders in Paul Lehner and Ray Coleman. Lehner, a consistent hitter and fleet center fielder, has been his own worst enemy, drawing the wrath of Manager Muddy Ruel and a fine and suspension for leaving the club several times without permission. Coleman started the season on the bentch but seems to have taken over the right field job on his batting ability with a .278 average.

Washington's young third baseman Eddie Yost, without previous pro experience, has won a regular job, ousting Cece Travis. Eddie Robinson's hitting has been a disappointment for Cleveland after his fine record at Baltimore but he has been playing first base regularly.

Eddie Bockman of Cleveland has seen occasional action as a fill-in at third base and second and may figure prominently as a replacement for Ken Keltner in another year.

HYNDMAN VETS EDGE BEDFORD ROAD, 8-7; CORRIGANVILLE WINS

The Hyndman V. F. W. eked out an 8-7 decision over Bedford Road at Hyndman, Pa., and Corriganville defeated the Hyndman Firemen 7-3 at Corriganville in a pair of County Softball Legue games played yesterday.

Evans' two-bagger and Robb's single gave the Hyndman Vets their winning run in the seventh and final inning. J. Miller, See and Robb had two hits each for the VFW while Raygor collected three hits and B. Mertens homered for Bedford Road.

Lyle Fleegle walloped a homer with one aboard as Corriganville defeated the Firemen. Scores:

Jake Koelker Cops Decision In 3-Rounder

Vigilant Firemen Stage 7-Bout Card

KEYSER, W. Va., Aug. 13—Jack Klosterman, Cumberland welterweight, added another scalp to his growing list of victims tonight when he decisively defeated Clarence Clark of Keyser, former United States Marine champion, in the main five-round bout of an amateur show presented at the Keyser High School gymnasium by the Vigilant Hose and Reel Company in connection with the celebration of V-J Week here.

Approximately 400 persons witnessed the seven bout card arranged by Matchmaker "Eck" Miers.

3 Judge System Used

Paul "Sparrows" Kesner, former local professional boxer, refereed all of the matches, while the decisions were given by three judges, namely, Charles Miller, Ed Kenney and Fritz Wilderman. Miller is the son of a former boxer while Kenney and Wilderman are ex-scrappers.

Klosterman's experience, better condition, reach and boxing skill proved too much for Clark who was not in shape. It was a dull bout and the Diamond A.C. boxer grabbed the unanimous decision. The weights were: Clark 146, Klosterman 142.

Referee Kesner declared the 7th and last bout "no contest" and stopped Roy Rawlings, 148, St. Mary's A.C., Cumberland, and Denny Malone, 147, Keyser, in the third round for stalling and refusing to fight.

Koelker Wins, Lepley Loses

Jake Koelker, Diamond A.C.'s featherweight ace, decisioned Melvin Washington, 134, of the Royale A.C., of Cumberland; "Bunny" Malone, 137, of Washington-Smith Post, American Legion, Keyser, won the "duke" over Paul Lepley, 135, Diamond A.C., Cumberland; Bob Mendelsohn, 114, Diamond A.C., decisioned Earl Wilson, 115, St. Mary's A.C., Cumberland, and Jimmie Lynn, 110, St. Mary's A.C., Cumberland, scored a T.K.O. over Jack Deetz, of the Diamond A.C., in 1:36 of the second round.

The official timer was Fred "Tack" Clark and James Briley was the announcer.

Announcement was made that plans are under way to present the next amateur show in September.

Bowies Advance In City Doubles

Will Play Higginses For Championship

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bowie yesterday evening advanced to the finals of the City tennis tournament mixed doubles by defeating Dorothy Marie Willison and Jack Evans, 6-1, 6-3.

In another semi-final match Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Higgins eliminated Margaret Ann Ruppenthal and Phil Lucas, 6-3, 6-3.

Both matches being played on the Dingle courts. The winners will play the finals for the city mixed doubles championship on the Country club courts.

In the county tournament today Mrs. Hope Mills Bludworth and L. E. Van Sant will play Margaret Ruppenthal and Phil Lucas in mixed doubles at the Dingle at 6 o'clock.

At the same hour on the Garlitz courts Milton Gerson and Leo LaNeve will clash in a men's singles match.

Other county tournament matches will be played during the day.

Herbert Royer Joins VPI Coaching Staff

BLACKSBURG, Va., Aug. 13. (AP)—Athletic Director W. L. (Monk) Younger today announced the appointment of Herbert H. Royer, football and basketball coach at Logan High School, Logan, W. Va., as an assistant gridiron mentor at Virginia Tech.

Royer, a star quarterback at Marshall College for three seasons before his graduation in 1938, served as backfield coach at his alma mater before going to Logan. He had also attended Emory and Henry College.

Elks To Play Legion On Rolling Mill Field

The B. P. O. Elks-American Legion game in the Rocking Chair Softball League will be staged today on Rolling Mill field instead of Campobello.

Cumberland's Elks will play the Frostburg Elks Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in Frostburg in the second game of a series between the teams. Cumberland won the opener by the score of 5-4.

Short Gap Wins, 3-1

Short Gap defeated the Ridgeley American Legion in a Frankfort District Softball League game yesterday at Short Gap by the score of 3 to 1.

The only hits made by the winners were credited to Files and B. Brelsford. B. Thompson and L. Day banged out two hits each for Ridgeley. Score:

Pittsburgh City Parks Champion Wins At Mt. Lake

Joe Harmuth Rated Tourney Dark Horse

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 13 (AP) — Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh players reached the semi-finals of the 26th annual Western Maryland tennis tournament at Mt. Lake Park today, with the defending titlist—John Curtis of the nation's capital—still the man to beat.

Curtis, who already has two legs on the championship cup, reached the semi-final round by defeating Walter Woernle, Baltimore, 6-4, 6-4, and will meet Alex Keiles, Baltimore, next.

Keiles won two matches today, defeating Laural Whipkey, Huntington, W. Va., 6-2, 6-3, and his fellow townsman from Baltimore, Malcolm Fox, 6-2, 7-5.

However, the tournament was developing a dark horse—Joe Harmuth of Pittsburgh, who gained the semi-finals by ousting William Woernle, Baltimore, 6-2, 6-0, and Jack Potter, Fort Belvoir, Va., 6-1, 6-3. Potter earlier had eliminated Dan Sullivan, Baltimore, 6-3, 8-6. Harmuth is the Pittsburgh City Parks champ.

McLarey Perdew, 1946 Baltimore City champion, defeated Doyal Royal, Washington, 6-0, 6-4, and will meet Harmuth in the semi-finals.

Meanwhile, women's singles got under way as Mary Hughes, Wheeling, defeated Betsy Suaz, Washington, 6-2, 6-4; Cara Weber, Oakland, defeated Mary Anne Bassett, 6-0, 6-0, and Elizabeth Hughes Smith, Wheeling, W. Va., defeated Nancy Reeves, Youghiogheny Forest, near Oakland, 6-0, 6-0.

In men's doubles Curtis and Royal defeated Bill Glover and Arthur Cassell, Fairmont, W. Va., 6-1, 6-0; Perdew and Harmuth defeated Whipkey and Jack Weber, 6-2, 6-0; Alex Keiles, Baltimore, and Fox defeated Sullivan and Woernle, 5-7, 6-0, 6-4.

Cadillac Evens Up Junior Loop Series, Tops Redmen, 14-10

Cadillac squared its series with the Redmen for the championship of the Junior City Softball League by winning the second game yesterday at East Side field by the score of 14-10.

The score was tied at 9-9 and 10-10 and the final deadlock was broken in the 7th and final stanza when Cadillac scored four runs.

Freeland clouted a triple and two singles. Burke obtained three singles and "Bub" Frye banged a homer and single for the victors while "Sonny" Lease and Murray shared four of the Redmen's ten hits.

The third game of the best-of-five-games series will be staged on Monday at 6 p. m. at Fort Hill Field. Score:

CADILLAC	432 001 4—14 12 1
REDMEN	108 001 0—10 10 2

Moler and G. Burke. Eckard, Lease and Collins.

P.E. Concludes Season With Win Over Texcel

Potomac Edison concluded its 1947 campaign in the Rocking Chair Softball League with a three-game winning streak by turning back Texcel yesterday at Fort Hill field by the score of 11 to 10.

P. E. scored eight runs in the 5th and Texcel threw a scare into the opposition by chasing six runs across the platter in the 7th.

Minke with two doubles and Schoenadel with a double and single headed the P. E. batters. Stewart of Texcel smacked a homer, two-bagger and single. Score:

ON HITTING SPREE—Joe Langan, promising catcher of the Frostburg V.F.W. team of the Bi-State Baseball League, is on a record hitting spree at the present time. He's hit safely in 24 consecutive games for a new league record and his batting average is .436 for the 26 contests in which he has played to date. Joe has stepped to the plate 117 times and has banged out 51 hits. He's rated one of the best receivers in the 10-club circuit.

Dodgers Stretch Lead By Beating Boston's Braves

Sain, Taylor Batted Out In 10-5 Contest

BROOKLYN, Aug. 13 (AP)—Brooklyn stretched its National League lead to 3½ games over the idle St. Louis Cardinals today by combining 10 hits with four Boston errors for a 10-5 victory over the surging Braves.

The Dodgers, breaking out of a hitting slump, knocked Johnny Sain, the Braves' ace winner, out of the box in a four run first inning highlighted by Bruce Edkards's two-run double.

Harry Taylor, who had yielded a run in the first inning on Pee Wee Reese's error and Bob Elliott's single, was belted off the hill in the fifth when the Braves went out front on a four-run spree. Box:

BUCS GET FOUR HOMERS

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13, (AP)—Four home runs sparked the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 10-2 win over the Chicago Cubs today before a sparse crowd of 5,111.

Pirate Catcher Dixie Howell belted two of the circuit blows — his first and second of the season—to drive in six of the runs. Ralph Kiner's 29th round-tripper also was the 100th homer of the season for the Bucs. Billy Cox joined the home run parade with his ninth of the season. Box:

PHILS TRIM GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13—(AP)—The forlorn Philadelphia Phillies made it two in a row over the Giants today by whacking four New York hurlers for 14 hits and a 5-2 victory.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman was the Philadelphia hero as he stopped the hard-hitting visitors with six hits. He needed help from Charley Schanz in the ninth, however, after Bobby Thompson belted his 23rd homer of the year. Bill Rigney scored the New Yorkers' other tally with a homer—his 16th—in the second. Hagerstown Plans To Ignore Demand For Higher Purses

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 13—(AP)—The Hagerstown Fair Association voted unanimously today to continue racing Friday and Saturday, thus in effect ignoring a demand of the Horsemens Benevolent Protective Association for larger purses.

J. Richard Rauth, member of the Fair Board, said that only about 40 of the 80 owners and trainers with horses stabled here attended the meeting. Rauth said the board took this to mean that the other 40 would have sufficient entries, regardless of what those who attended the meeting did. Thursday's entry card was filled before the meeting.

Members of the HBPA met yesterday and Rober C. Hershey, Fair president, said they had demanded one $1,500 race Saturday and at lea two $1,200 purses daily. The eight-race program usually is made up of $1,000 purses with an occasional $1,200 event.

Hershey said wagering had fallen off 17 per cent, along with attendance.

Clifton W. White of Cumberland, president of Fairgo track which is scheduled to open for 10 days beginning Tuesday, said his track would retain the $1,000 minimum. Spokesmen for the HBPA indicated similar demands would be made on the Cumberland board. Purses of $1,200 and $1,500 also are offered at Cumberland.

UMPIRES ARE NAMED FOR BI-STATE GAMES

George Layman, umpire-in-chief of the Bi-State Baseball League, announced last night that umpires have been assigned for Sunday games, as follows:

Mt. Savage at Hyndman, Martin and Warnick.

Queen City at Westvaco, Kelly and Blair.

Barton at Romney, DiUbaldo and Law.

Lonaconing at Midland, Davis and Keister.

Amvets at Frostburg, Thompson and Dunn.

Umpires for the league's all-star game which will be staged Saturday in Hyndman at 2:30 p. m. will be Dunn, Davis, Thompson and Martin.

Allen Sheetz notched his 29th victory of the City Softball League season yesterday when he twirled the Amvets to an 11-2 triumph over the Concord Clothiers at Campobello. He has lost seven games.

Doyle George, lefty Lee and Sheetz paced the Amvets' attack with three hits each while D. Yates hit a homer and single for Concord.

Astor Cab stayed 4½ games back of the Amvets in the second half championship race by winning over Virginia Avenue Merchants via the forfeit route when the latter were unable to field a team.

Get 13 Runs In 3rd

In the wildest game of the day, North End Social and Athletic Club racked up 13 runs in the third inning and swamped Reed's Electricians by the score of 18 to 8 at Stitcher Feld. The victory put North End in a tie with Concord and V.F.W. for third place. Glen Kauffman belted a homer and single and Fradiska hit for the circuit and also got a single for the winners. Minnicks with a double and two singles, Porter with two hits and Elliott with a homer to his credit were the heavy stickers for Reed's.

V.F.W. put on a garrison finish to score four runs in the 7th inning and overcome the American Legion by the score of 6-5 at Community Park. Paul Whitford's triple with the bases loaded knotted the score and the latter came home on Brown's infield out. Pinch Hitter Jack Kreitzburg, John Morrissey and Charley Abe had walked before Whitford teed off. Basilio smashed a homer, double and single for the Legion while Abe and Morrissey of V.F.W. and C. Crabtree of the Legion collected two hits each.

Scaletta Stands Out

Scaletta's hitless and runless pitching after relieving Floyd Athey with the sacks loaded in the 5th highlighted the 9 to 6 victory scored by Lacy's Delicatets over the Maccabees at Taylor Field. Hardy paced the first half champions at the plate with two doubles and a single. Durbin "Pooch" Orndorff and "Sonny" Wilson hammered two-baggers while Cage and Harder of the Bees had two hits each. Washington Is Winner In Legion Tourney

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 13 (AP)—The Bunker Hill Post team from Washington, D. C., cut off an incipient ninth-inning rally at Morgantown by one run today and defeated the West Virginia Champions 4-2 in the opening game of American Legion Regional Junior Baseball play.

Norman Curren of Morgantown made half his team's hits and drove in both runs. Longest drive of the game was a triple to left center by Jack Spicer, Washington centerfielder.

Yankee Rookies Grab Spotlight In 8-2 Conquest

Berra, Clark, Raschi Help Sink Mackmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Jolting Joe DiMaggio joined ailing Tommy Henrich on the bench today but rookies Yogi Berra and Al Clark took up the slack to pace the American League leading New York Yankees to an 8-2 triumph over Philadelphia's Athletics.

The two recruits got three of the Yank's ten hits off a quartet of Philadelphia pitchers and drove in six runs between them to make it easy for another first-year man, Vic Raschi, to hang up his sixth victory without defeat in the majors this season. Clark sent home four tallies and Berra two. Box:

ROOKIE STARS—One of the outstanding rookie players in the major leagues this season is Dale Mitchell, brilliant centerfielder of the Cleveland Indians, shown above. Although most of the headlines have gone to Yogie Berra and Frank Shea of the Yankees Mitchell tops the American League rookie crop in batting with an average of .317.

Mitchell's .317 Leads American League Rookies

Most Of Headlines Go To Berra, Shea

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Dale Mitchell, Cleveland's brilliant center fielder, tops the American League rookie crop in batting with a fine .317 average although most of the headlines have gone to Yogi Berra and Frank Shea of the pennant-bound New York Yankees.

A graduate of the Oklahoma City Club with which he won the Texas League batting crown at .337 in 1946, Mitchell failed to impress Manager Lou Boudreau in early season. He was shipped back to the Tribe farm for more seasoning but never played a game in the Texas League. It turned out that Mitchell should not have been farmed out according to baseball law and he was recalled by the parent club.

Hit In 22 Straight

When Pat Seerey's strikeout habit became too monotonous, Boudreau inserted Mitchell in the lineup. Although he first was forced to play left field because Cat Metkovich was going like a ball of fire in center, he now has moved over to center, his natural position.

Included in his 80 hits are a 22-game hitting streak, the longest of the major league season. He has played in 68 games and would rate as the sixth hitter in the league if he had been at bat a few more times.

Sam Mele, Boston's right fielder, also is in the running for rookie-of-the-year honors with an average in the vicinity of .290. He has solved Joe Cronin's right field problem. Likewise Sam Dente, the Red Sox new third baseman, recently recalled from Louisville, has been showing to fine advantage.

Fain Hits Around .280

Connie Mack's new first baseman, Ferris Fain, is hitting around .280 and ranks with the cream of the new crop.

The lowly St. Louis Browns, who can find little to cheer about, have come up with two promising outfielders in Paul Lehner and Ray Coleman. Lehner, a consistent hitter and fleet center fielder, has oeen his own worst enemy, drawing the wrath of Manager Muddy Ruel and a fine and suspension for leaving the club several times without permission. Coleman started the season on the bench but seems to have taken over the right field job on his batting ability with a .278 average.

Washington's young third baseman Eddie Yost, without previous pro experience, has won a regular job, ousting Cece Travis. Eddie Robinson's hitting has been a disappointment for Cleveland after his fine record at Baltimore but he has been playing first base regularly.

Eddie Bockman of Cleveland has seen occasional action as a fill-in at third base and second and may figure prominently as a replacement for Ken Keltner in another year.

Jake Koelker Cops Decision In 3-Rounder

Vigilant Firemen Stage 7-Bout Card

KEYSER, W. Va., Aug. 13—Jack Klosterman, Cumberland welterweight, added another scalp to his growing list of victims tonight when he decisively defeated Clarence Clark of Keyser, former United States Marine champion, in the main five-round bout of an amateur show presented at the Keyser High School gymnasium by the Vigilant Hose and Reel Company in connection with the celebration of V-J Week here.

Approximately 400 persons witnessed the seven bout card arranged by Matchmaker "Eck" Miers.

3 Judge System Used

Paul "Sparrows" Kesner, former local professional boxer, refereed all of the matches, while the decisions were given by three judges, namely, Charles Miller, Ed Kenney and Fritz Wilderman. Miller is the son of a former boxer while Kenney and Wilderman are ex-scrappers.

Klosterman's experience, better condition, reach and boxing skill proved too much for Clark who was not in shape. It was a dull bout and the Diamond A.C. boxer grabbed the unanimous decision. The weights were: Clark 146, Klosterman 142.

Referee Kesner declared the 7th and last bout "no contest" and stopped Roy Rawlings, 148, St. Mary's A.C., Cumberland, and Denny Malone, 147, Keyser, in the third round for stalling and refusing to fight.

Koelker Wins, Lepley Loses

Jake Koelker, Diamond A.C.'s featherweight ace, decisioned Melvin Washington, 134, of the Royale A.C., of Cumberland; "Bunny" Malone, 137, of Washington-Smith Post, American Legion, Keyser, won the "duke" over Paul Lepley, 135, Diamond A.C., Cumberland; Bob Mendelsohn, 114, Diamond A.C., decisioned Earl Wilson, 115, St. Mary's A.C., Cumberland, and Jimmie Lynn, 110, St. Mary's A.C., Cumberland, scored a T.K.O. over Jack Deetz, of the Diamond A.C., in 1:36 of the second round.

The official timer was Fred "Tack" Clark and James Briley was the announcer.

Announcement was made that plans are under way to present the next amateur show in September.

Bowies Advance In City Doubles

Will Play Higginses For Championship

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bowie yesterday evening advanced to the finals of the City tennis tournament mixed doubles by defeating Dorothy Marie Willison and Jack Evans, 6-1, 6-3.

In another semi-final match Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Higgins eliminated Margaret Ann Ruppenthal and Phil Lucas, 6-3, 6-3.

Both matches being played on the Dingle courts. The winners will play the finals for the city mixed doubles championship on the Country club courts.

In the county tournament today Mrs. Hope Mills Bludworth and L. E. Van Sant will play Margaret Ruppenthal and Phil Lucas in mixed doubles at the Dingle at 6 o'clock.

At the same hour on the Garlitz courts Milton Gerson and Leo LaNeve will clash in a men's singles match.

Other county tournament matches will be played during the day.

Herbert Royer Joins VPI Coaching Staff

BLACKSBURG, Va., Aug. 13. (AP)—Athletic Director W. L. (Monk) Younger today announced the appointment of Herbert H. Royer, football and basketball coach at Logan High School, Logan, W. Va., as an assistant gridiron mentor at Virginia Tech.

Royer, a star quarterback at Marshall College for three seasons before his graduation in 1938, served as backfield coach at his alma mater before going to Logan. He had also attended Emory and Henry College.

Pittsburgh City Parks Champion Wins At Mt. Lake

Joe Harmuth Rated Tourney Dark Horse

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 13 (AP) — Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh players reached the semi-finals of the 26th annual Western Maryland tennis tournament at Mt. Lake Park today, with the defending titlist—John Curtis of the nation's capital—still the man to beat.

Curtis, who already has two legs on the championship cup, reached the semi-final round by defeating Walter Woernle, Baltimore, 6-4, 6-4, and will meet Alex Keiles, Baltimore, next.

Keiles won two matches today, defeating Laural Whipkey, Huntington, W. Va., 6-2, 6-3, and his fellow townsman from Baltimore, Malcolm Fox, 6-2, 7-5.

However, the tournament was developing a dark horse—Joe Harmuth of Pittsburgh, who gained the semi-finals by ousting William Woernle, Baltimore, 6-2, 6-0, and Jack Potter, Fort Belvoir, Va., 6-1, 6-3. Potter earlier had eliminated Dan Sullivan, Baltimore, 6-3, 8-6. Harmuth is the Pittsburgh City Parks champ.

McLarey Perdew, 1946 Baltimore City champion, defeated Doyal Royal, Washington, 6-0, 6-4, and will meet Harmuth in the semi-finals.

Meanwhile, women's singles got under way as Mary Hughes, Wheeling, defeated Betsy Suaz, Washington, 6-2, 6-4; Cara Weber, Oakland, defeated Mary Anne Bassett, 6-0, 6-0, and Elizabeth Hughes Smith, Wheeling, W. Va., defeated Nancy Reeves, Youghiogheny Forest, near Oakland, 6-0, 6-0.

In men's doubles Curtis and Royal defeated Bill Glover and Arthur Cassell, Fairmont, W. Va., 6-1, 6-0; Perdew and Harmuth defeated Whipkey and Jack Weber, 6-2, 6-0; Alex Keiles, Baltimore, and Fox defeated Sullivan and Woernle, 5-7, 6-0, 6-4.

Cadillac Evens Up Junior Loop Series, Tops Redmen, 14-10

Cadillac squared its series with the Redmen for the championship of the Junior City Softball League by winning the second game yesterday at East Side field by the score of 14-10.

The score was tied at 9-9 and 10-10 and the final deadlock was broken in the 7th and final stanza when Cadillac scored four runs.

Freeland clouted a triple and two singles, Burke obtained three singles and "Bub" Frye banged a homer and single for the victors while "Sonny" Lease and Murray shared four of the Redmen's ten hits.

The third game of the best-of-five-games series will be staged on Monday at 6 p. m. at Fort Hill Field. Score:

CADILLAC	432 001 4—14	12	1
REDMEN	108 001 0—10	10	2

Moler and G. Burke, Eckard, Lease and Collins.

P.E. Concludes Season With Win Over Texcel

Potomac Edison concluded its 1947 campaign in the Rocking Chair Softball League with a three-game winning streak by turning back Texcel yesterday at Fort Hill field by the score of 11 to 10.

P. E. scored eight runs in the 5th and Texcel threw a scare into the opposition by chasing six runs across the platter in the 7th.

Minke with two doubles and Schoenadel with a double and single headed the P. E. batters. Stewart of Texcel smacked a homer, two-bagger and single. Score:

TEXCEL	200 002 6—10	12	4
P. E.	030 080 x—11	8	1

Cooper and Kienhofer. Grimes and Hinkle.

Glenn Davis Suffers Injury To Right Knee In Drill At Evanston

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 13. (AP)—Glenn Davis, former ace Army halfback, hurt his right knee in a pre-srimmage warmup today and College All-Star team officials would not predict immediately how long it would keep "Mr. Outside" away from practice for the Aug. 22 Chicago Bears-All Star tilt.

The Claremont, Calif., Army shavetail, pulled the tendons around his knee cap when he pushed off to receive a forward pass while limbering up in Dyche Stadium.

All-Star officials said it was the worst injury he had received in his football career.

Top Golfers Play In Portland Open

Hogan Is Favorite In $10,000 Event

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 13. (AP)—Topped by defending champion Ben Hogan, most of the country's outstanding golf professionals set off here tomorrow in the first round of the third annual 72-hole Portland open tournament.

The $10,000 prize money event shaped up today as a wide open scramble although Hogan, the "little Mr. Big" of golf, possibly rated slight favoritism in view of his past performances on the scenic, stroke-exacting Portland Club course. He won the event here in 1945 with a sensational 261, a new P.G.A. record score for a par 72 course and 27 shots under par for the four-round test.

In winning last year's National P.G.A. title over the same layout, Hogan came from behind to knock over Ed Oliver in the finals.

Among the top hands firing for the first prize will be current P.G.A. Champion Jim Ferrier of San Francisco; U. S. Open title holder Lew Worsham, Washington, D. C., and such proven stars as Ed Furgol, Pontiac, Mich.; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., Clayton Haefner, Charlotte, N. C., Dick Metz, Chicago; Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles; George Payton, Hampton, Va., and Herman Keiser, Akron, O.

LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE GO SET FOR JAN. 16

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Lightweight Champion Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., and Bob Montgomer of Philadelphia have agreed to a 15-round return title match at Madison Square Garden Jan. 16, it was announced by the 20th Century Sporting Club today.

Montgomery and his manager, Joe Gramby, and Williams' manager, Frank Palermo, met with Sol Strauss, acting promoter, to arrange the date, and the signing will take place before the New York Commission within the next two weeks.

Horse Shoe Tourney Winners Announced

The finals in the horse shoe pitching tournament at the North End Playground were held last night during the Family Festival at the playground.

Winners of the tournament were James Clingan, singles; Sam Kennedy, junior singles, and James Clingan and Leo Briner, doubles. The tournament was sponsored by Robert Spike Herboldsheimer, chairman of older boy' activities, and was held on the new horse shoe court, recently built by Herboldsheimer.

Prizes for the tournament included two penknives, a regulation softball bat and softball.

Maher, Brownies' Scout, Got Start With Art Rooney

Will Conduct Tryout Camp Here Next Week

Johnny Maher, St. Louis Browns' scout, who will conduct a tryout camp for the American League team at Community Park, August 19 through 23, is noted for his activity in a wide variety of positions in the athletic world.

He has in the past 20 years been a life guard at a swimming pool, a track man in college, a sports editor, a professional football publicity director, a National Football League team business manager, a minor league baseball club owner, a major league club's farm team business manager, a physical training officer in the Air Corps and a major league baseball scout.

"My start in professional baseball and football really came in 1935," Maher relates. "It was a hot summer afternoon and Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates (now Steelers) of the National Football League hired me as publicity director for his football team.

"In those days pro football was still having growing pains. It was nowhere near as big and as popular as now. In fact, if I recall correctly, Ned Irish with the Giants and myself were the only full-time publicity men.

"I'll never forget Art Rooney's words when he gave me the job.

"'See that big fellow over there working with the tackling dummy,' Art said. 'He was a second string tackle at a small college you nor I nor the fans of Pittsburgh never heard of.

"'But Coach Bach says he's good. He's moving him to fullback. Now if Bach can make a back out of a second string tackle from a very small college, you should make him an All-American fullback by the time the season starts if you're a good publicity man.'"

JOE DENKENBERGER HOOKS OWL WHILE FISHING AT DEEP CREEK

Angler Introduces New Kind Of Sport

Joseph Denkenberger of 524 Necessity Street had an unusual experience recently while fishing at midnight on Deep Creek Lake.

He had cast his line containing a jitterbug plug while close to shore and all of a sudden there was a big splash up ahead of him.

It must be a whopper, thought Joe, but just about the time he had visions of a nice big fish meal when he returned home, his line suddenly took off and the pole almost went over his shoulder.

"Whoa," yelled Denkenberger, as he reeled in his line to get a look at this rare kind of fish that attempted to fly away after being hooked.

But to his amazement it was not a bass nor was it any other kind of fish.

It was an owl with a 36 inch wingspread.

The bird was released from its perilous position and brought to Cumberland and placed in a cage.

Joe's father took it to Kingwood, W. Va., with him.

It is assumed that the gurgling noise made by the jitterbug plug as it was pulled along the water attracted the attention of the owl and the not-so-wise bird swooped down and to his utter surprise grabbed the hook at the end of the line instead of a fish he thought he was getting.

Denkenberger feels that he should receive credit for introducing a new kind of sport at Deep Creek Lake—that of bagging owls with rod and reel.

Bromwich And Pails Will Oppose Czechs

MONTREAL, Aug. 13 (AP) — John Bromwich and Dinn Pails were named today as Australia's singles players for the Davis Cup interzone tennis finals against Czechoslovakia opening here tomorrow.

The official draw matched Pails, the Australian champion, against Jaroslav Drobn, ace of the Czech forces, in one of the opening singles matches and the veteran Bromwich against Bohous Cernik in the other.

Upset Is Scored By Cosmic Bomb

Whips Fervent By Two Lengths At Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Cosmic Bomb added another laurel to the William Helis Stable's chain of victories this season with an upset win over the Calumet Farm's 3 to 5 favorite, Fervent, in the $27,850 Drexel Handicap for three year olds at Washington Park today.

Shut out by Fervent at the top of the stretch, Cosmic Bomb returned under Jockey Ovie Scurlock to whip the favorite by tow lengths. Mrs. Albert Sabath's Say Blue also closed strongly in the mile event to take third, a neck behind Fervent.

Cosmic Bomb, carrying 121 pounds to Fervent's 126, was timed in 1:35 3-5, the fastest time for the distance recorded during the current meeting. The winner, scoring his first stake success of the season, paid $10.60, $4.20 and $3.20, and earned $18,850. Fervent paid $2.60 and $2.40, and Say Blue returned $4.00.

Maher, Brownies' Scout, Got Start With Art Rooney

Will Conduct Tryout Camp Here Next Week

Johnny Maher, St. Louis Browns' scout, who will conduct a tryout camp for the American League team at Community Park, August 19 through 23, is noted for his activity in a wide variety of positions in the athletic world.

He has in the past 20 years been a life guard at a swimming pool, a track man in college, a sports editor, a professional football publicity director, a National Football League team business manager, a minor league baseball club owner, a major league club's farm team business manager, a physical training officer in the Air Corps and a major league baseball scout.

"My start in professional baseball and football really came in 1935," Maher relates. "It was a hot summer afternoon and Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates (now Steelers) of the National Football League hired me as publicity director for his football team.

"In those days pro fotball was still having growing pains. It was nowhere near as big and as popular as now. In fact, if I recall correctly, Ned Irish with the Giants and myself were the only full-time publicity men.

"I'll never forget Art Rooney's words when he gave me the job.

"'See that big fellow over there working with the tackling dummy,' Art said. 'He was a second string tackle at a small college you nor I nor the fans of Pittsburgh never heard of.

"'But Coach Bach says he's good. He's moving him to fullback. Now if Bach can make a back out of a second string tackle from a very small college, you should make him an All-American fullback by the time the season starts if you're a good publicity man.'"

JOE DENKENBERGER HOOKS OWL WHILE FISHING AT DEEP CREEK

Angler Introduces New Kind Of Sport

Joseph Denkenberger of 524 Necessity Street had an unusual experience recently while fishing at midnight on Deep Creek Lake.

He had cast his line containing a jitterbug plug while close to shore and all of a sudden there was a big splash up ahead of him.

It must be a whopper, thought Joe, but just about the time he had visions of a nice big fish meal when he returned home, his line suddenly took off and the pole almost went over his shoulder.

"Whoa," yelled Denkenberger, as he reeled in his line to get a look at this rare kind of fish that attempted to fly away after being hooked.

But to his amazement it was not a bass nor was it any other kind of fish.

It was an owl with a 36 inch wingspread.

The bird was released from its perilous position and brought to Cumberland and placed in a cage.

Joe's father took it to Kingwood, W. Va., with him.

It is assumed that the gurgling noise made by the jitterbug plug as it was pulled along the water attracted the attention of the owl and the not-so-wise bird swooped down and to his utter surprise grabbed the hook at the end of the line instead of a fish he thought he was getting.

Denkenberger feels that he should receive credit for introducing a new kind of sport at Deep Creek Lake—that of bagging owls with rod and reel.

Bromwich And Pails Will Oppose Czechs

MONTREAL, Aug. 13 (AP) — John Bromwich and Dinn Pails were named today as Australia's singles players for the Davis Cup interzone tennis finals against Czechoslovakia opening here tomorrow.

The official draw matched Pails, the Australian champion, against Jaroslav Drobn, ace of the Czech forces, in one of the opening singles matches and the veteran Bromwich against Bohous Cernik in the other.

Upset Is Scored By Cosmic Bomb

Whips Fervent By Two Lengths At Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Cosmic Bomb added another laurel to the William Helis Stable's chain of victories this season with an upset win over the Calumet Farm's 3 to 5 favorite, Fervent, in the $27,850 Drexel Handicap for three year olds at Washington Park today.

Shut out by Fervent at the top of the stretch, Cosmic Bomb returned under Jockey Ovie Scurlock to whip the favorite by tow lengths. Mrs. Albert Sabath's Say Blue also closed strongly in the mile event to take third, a neck behind Fervent.

Cosmic Bomb, carrying 121 pounds to Fervent's 126, was timed in 1:35 3-5, the fastest time for the distance recorded during the current meeting. The winner, scoring his first stake success of the season, paid $10.60, $4.20 and $3.20, and earned $18,850. Fervent paid $2.60 and $2.40, and Say Blue returned $4.00.

Frostburg Elk Is Elected To District Post

Jenkins Is Third Vice President

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Aug. 13. — Announcement was made last night at the regular meeting of Fristburg Lodge, No. 470, B.P.O. Elks, that Harold Jenkins, immediate past exalted ruler of the lodge was elected third vice-president of the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia State Association at the association convention in Washington last week.

The Frostburg delegates to the convention made a report to the lodge last evening on the highlights of the convention. Frostburg Lodge, they reported, was commended for sending a group of boys to the Elk's Boy Camp at Camp Ritchie in July.

In an address delivered before the convention, Past Grand Exalted Ruler Barrett, Alexandria, Va., recommended that children of Elks be excluded from future camps, his idea being that the summer outing at Camp Ritchie should be a gift from Elks to boys from each community who, because of adverse conditions in their families, may not have the privilege of enjoying a summer outing with other boys of the state.

Delegates from Frostburg Lodge who attended the convention were Frank Keene, Fred Ash, William Bauer, Joseph Montana, John Durst, John Keller, DeWayne McAtee, Harold Jenkins, Gilbert Clise, D. I. Griffith, Edward Minnicks and Joseph Lyons.

Victory Legion Approves Plans For New Building

Will Ask Bids On Construction

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, Aug. 13—The membership of Victory Post No. 155, American Legion, at its August meeting last night in the Westernport city building unanimously voted that the building committee secure plans and specifications for the proposed Legion Home building and to advertise for bids for construction.

The building will be erected on the lot which the organization purchased from Frank B. McMillen and will be 60 by 100 feet to face Washington Street. It will be of fire proof material with the outside of brick backed with concrete blocks. The structure will be one story with architectural design providing for a second story at a later date. The plans and specifications are being prepared by Russ Minter, Cumberland.

Reports of the Maryland State Convention held last week at Baltimore were given by Okey Michael, commander; Howard Blackburn, John Hanna and Jerome Laffey. James E. Kenny and John Thomas were also delegates to the convention from Victory Post.

FHA Explained

The Federal Housing Administration program was explained last night at a meeting held at the Legion Home of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, Piedmont, American Legion, by H. I. Bond, Charleston, W. Va., a representative of the FHA program to a group of veterans and interested citizens.

There are 65 F.H.A. offices in the nation, Mr. Bond stated. The government does not lend the money to the party or parties desiring to build a home but guarantees as high as 90 per cent in some commitments to the bank, Loan Association or Insurance Company making these loans. He explained that one does not have to own the lot but have option on it. Loans are made for 20 to 25 years. The payment on a 20 year loan would be $5.50 per thousand a month and for the taxes and insurance which would be one-12th for each month.

The building must be located where utilities are available and if sewerage is not available, a septic tank must be provided. If there is no running water, a well that is approved by the health department will be approved. Underbuilding or overbuilding is not permitted, such as erecting a $10,000 house in a section where homes are valued at $4,000 or vice versa.

Loans can be made where two parties wanted to build a double house owning equally each side. Not over 10 per cent of the space of the evidence can be used for a business.

Asurplus on the loan could be reduced by paying on the capital as one pays on the unexpired debt at four and a half percent.

In making application for a loan one must submit two sets of specifications. One thing required in the plans is closet space.

Ray Burg, Piedmont, chairman of the Service committee, opened the meeting and presented Dr. Paul R. Wilson, chairman of the Housing committee, who explained to the group what work the committee had done in trying to solve the housing problems here.

At the conclusion of Mr. Bond's talk he answered questions and invited persons to bring their housing problems to him.

Preceding the meeting a dinner was served to the committee at the Legion home with Dr. Wilson presiding. Talks were given by Mr. Bond and T. H. "Pat" McGovran, Charleston, director of Department of Veterans Affairs. A moving picture of Boys' State at Jackson's Mill, W. Va., was shown.

Harry Roye, Jr., Piedmont, returned home from the Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, where he underwent an operation.

Garrett County High School Students Win Trips To National Judging

Five FFA Members Are Awarded Honor

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

The high schools of Accident and Grantsville, Garrett county, have been signally honored by five students who won Maryland State Championship awards during the past year in competition with other high school students associated with the Future Farmers of America, a national organization of boys taking vocational agriculture as part of their high school course.

Warren Rush and Donald Fratz, of Accident High School, won the Maryland Championship in the swine judging contest held at the Frederick Fair in September, 1946, in competition with boys from various sections of Maryland. They have been selected by the national office of the Future Farmers of America to go to Kansas City, Mo., October 20, to judge livestock in the American Royal Livestock Show.

Joseph Yommer, of Grantsville High School, won the Maryland Championship in the individual dairy cattle judging contest at the Frederick Fair, September, 1946, and Yommer and Sam Downey, also of Grantsville High School, working as a team, won the Maryland State Championship among all teams taking part in the dairy cattle judging event at the Frederick Fair last September. Their reward for bringing this honor to Garrett County will be a trip to the Springfield Agricultural Exposition, Springfield, Mass., where they will compete in the national contests.

Another Garrett county boy, Hobart Bowser, of Accident High School, will also go to the Springfield Exposition this fall for winning the Maryland Championship in the poultry judging contest held in April, 1947 at the University of Maryland, College Park.

The achievements of the Garrett County Future Farmers is noteworthy, as this is the first time in the history of contests sponsored by the Future Farmers of America in Maryland that representatives in the same county took state championships in contests among livestock and poultry judging teams and also an individual championship in the poultry judging contests.

Merle Garletts, of Grantsville High School faculty, trained the dairy judging team consisting of Yommer and Downey and Marvin Callis, of the Accident High School faculty, trained the livestock judging team consisting of Rush and Fratz.

Members of the two teams and their instructors left Tuesday to spend a week at the University of Maryland to take a special course in preparation for their appearances in Kansas City and Springfield.

Rush is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Delone Rush, Accident; Fratz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fratz, Accident; Bowser, also of Accident, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bowser; Yommer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Yommer, Jennings, and Downey is a son of Mrs. Earl Stark, Bittinger.

Shanghai, China, is considering wide use of helicopters to aid traffic.

Charter Filed By Corporation To Provide Hospital For Moorefield

Fund Campaign To Be Started

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Aug. 13—The charter for the proposed new hospital to serve Moorefield and the South Branch Valley area was filed in Clerk C. C. Wise's office today in the County Court.

The corporation will have its offices in Moorefield and has been chartered as a "non-stock, non-profit" corporation with the objects stated as "to aid in providing a superior type of medical service for the South Branch area counties." The objects are further stated "to establish, maintain and operate a modern hospital for the relief of human suffering. To relieve and to take care of the indigent, sick and infirm, with or without pay."

The charter also provides for the establishment of medical clinics for the use of the people.

The name of the proposed new hospital is "Valley View Hospital, Inc." and Dr. G. E. Hartle, Moorefield, is named as one of the incorporators. Another provision of the charter is that "in the event of the liquidation of the corporation, the assets of the corporation are to be transferred to three trustees who shall be authorized to maintain, establish and operate a non-profit, non-stock, hospital or medical institution."

A site of 15 and seven-tenths acres has already been donated to the organization for a hospital. The location is on the east side of U. S 220 opposite the Toll Gate School.

A campaign for funds for the erection of the new hospital will be started in the near future.

Water Supply Investigated

A committee from the Moorefield Lions Club requested the Town Council to investigate the possibilities of a new water system for Moorefield and submitted the report from the State Health Department showing that the water supply tested unsafe 16 times out of 36 tests. The Lions committee was made up of Dr. W. H. Maxwell, R. J. Bean, R. E. Fisher, Ervin Bowman and B. J. McWhorter.

The members of the council accepted the report and agreed that the situation was serious. An immediate effort will be made to secure engineers to recommend plans for a new water supply system.

John Brill, superintendent of the water system, reported the pumping facilities were taxed to capacity and that in the event of an emergency or a break down no reserve was available. Brill reported that the pumps were now working 15 and 16 hours each day.

The council decided not to extend water lines to out of town consumers until present facilities were expanded to take care of the additional demand.

The council, last night, granted a permit for the building of a restaurant to Amazella Washington near the B. and O. station. The petition for sewer service on North Franklin Street by residents there was granted.

The streets and alleys committee on the council will recommend surfacing of side streets in order of their importance at the next meeting. Streets high on the priority list are South Main to Henkel's Upper Addition and the street to

Jenkins Is Third Vice President

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Aug. 13. — Announcement was made last night at the regular meeting of Fristburg Lodge, No. 470, B.P.O. Elks, that Harold Jenkins, immediate past exalted ruler of the lodge was elected third vice-president of the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia State Association at the association convention in Washington last week.

The Frostburg delegates to the convention made a report to the lodge last evening on the highlights of the convention. Frostburg Lodge, they reported, was commended for sending a group of boys to the Elk's Boy Camp at Camp Ritchie in July.

In an address delivered before the convention, Past Grand Exalted Ruler Barrett, Alexandria, Va., recommended that children of Elks be excluded from future camps, his idea being that the summer outing at Camp Ritchie should be a gift from Elks to boys from each community who, because of adverse conditions in their families, may not have the privilege of enjoying a summer outing with other boys of the state.

Delegates from Frostburg Lodge who attended the convention were Frank Keene, Fred Ash, William Bauer, Joseph Montana, John Durst, John Keller, DeWayne McAtee, Harold Jenkins, Gilbert Clise, D. I. Griffith, Edward Minnicks and Joseph Lyons.

Victory Legion Approves Plans For New Building

Will Ask Bids On Construction

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, Aug. 13—The membership of Victory Post No. 155, American Legion, at its August meeting last night in the Westernport city building unanimously voted that the building committee secure plans and specifications for the proposed Legion Home building and to advertise for bids for construction.

The building will be erected on the lot which the organization purchased from Frank B. McMillen and will be 60 by 100 feet to face Washington Street. It will be of fire proof material with the outside of brick backed with concrete blocks. The structure will be one story with architectural design providing for a second story at a later date. The plans and specifications are being prepared by Russ Minter, Cumberland.

Reports of the Maryland State Convention held last week at Baltimore were given by Okey Michael, commander; Howard Blackburn, John Hanna and Jerome Laffey. James E. Kenny and John Thomas were also delegates to the convention from Victory Post.

FHA Explained

The Federal Housing Administration program was explained last night at a meeting held at the Legion Home of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, Piedmont, American Legion, by H. I. Bond, Charleston, W. Va., a representative of the FHA program to a group of veterans and interested citizens.

There are 65 F.H.A. offices in the nation, Mr. Bond stated. The government does not lend the money to the party or parties desiring to build a home but guarantees as high as 90 per cent in some commitments to the bank, Loan Association or Insurance Company making these loans. He explained that one does not have to own the lot but have option on it. Loans are made for 20 to 25 years. The payment on a 20 year loan would be $5.50 per thousand a month and for the taxes and insurance which would be one-12th for each month.

The building must be located where utilities are available and if sewerage is not available, a septic tank must be provided. If there is no running water, a well that is approved by the health department will be approved. Underbuilding or overbuilding is not permitted, such as erecting a $10,000 house in a section where homes are valued at $4,000 or vice versa.

Loans can be made where two parties wanted to build a double house owning equally each side. Not over 10 per cent of the space of the evidence can be used for a business.

Asurplus on the loan could be reduced by paying on the capital as one pays on the unexpired debt at four and a half percent.

In making application for a loan one must submit two sets of specifications. One thing required in the plans is closet space.

Ray Burg, Piedmont, chairman of the Service committee, opened the meeting and presented Dr. Paul R. Wilson, chairman of the Housing committee, who explained to the group what work the committee had done in trying to solve the housing problems here.

At the conclusion of Mr. Bond's talk he answered questions and invited persons to bring their housing problems to him.

Preceding the meeting a dinner was served to the committee at the Legion home with Dr. Wilson presiding. Talks were given by Mr. Bond and T. H. "Pat" McGovran, Charleston, director of Department of Veterans Affairs. A moving picture of Boys' State at Jackson's Mill, W. Va., was shown.

CHAMPION JUDGERS—Shown above are four Garrett County High School students who have won trips to compete in national livestock judging contests in Kansas City, Mo., and Springfield, Mass. The boys, who were awarded the honor for their championship judging in Maryland Future Farmers of America events, were trained by their instructors who are shown kneeling, Merle Garletts (left) Grantsville High School vocational instructor, and Marvin Callis (right) Accident High School vocational director. (Standing (left to right) are Sam Downey and Joseph Yommer, students at Grantsville High, who will compete at the Springfield, Mass., Agricultural Exposition, and Donald Fratz and Warren Rush, of Accident High School, who will attend the American Royal Livestock Show in Kansas City, Mo., in October.

Garrett County High School Students Win Trips To National Judging

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

The high schools of Accident and Grantsville, Garrett county, have been signally honored by five students who won Maryland State Championship awards during the past year in competition with other high school students associated with the Future Farmers of America, a national organization of boys taking vocational agriculture as part of their high school course.

Warren Rush and Donald Fratz, of Accident High School, won the Maryland Championship in the swine judging contest held at the Frederick Fair in September, 1946, in competition with boys from various sections of Maryland. They have been selected by the national office of the Future Farmers of America to go to Kansas City, Mo., October 20, to judge livestock in the American Royal Livestock Show.

Joseph Yommer, of Grantsville High School, won the Maryland Championship in the individual dairy cattle judging contest at the Frederick Fair, September, 1946, and Yommer and Sam Downey, also of Grantsville High School, working as a team, won the Maryland State Championship among all teams taking part in the dairy cattle judging event at the Frederick Fair last September. Their reward for bringing this honor to Garrett County will be a trip to the Springfield Agricultural Exposition, Springfield, Mass., where they will compete in the national contests.

Another Garrett county boy, Hobart Bowser, of Accident High School, will also go to the Springfield Exposition this fall for winning the Maryland Championship in the poultry judging contest held in April, 1947 at the University of Maryland, College Park.

The achievements of the Garrett County Future Farmers is noteworthy, as this is the first time in the history of contests sponsored by the Future Farmers of America in the same county took state championships in contests among livestock and poultry judging teams and also an individual championship in the poultry judging contests.

Merle Garletts, of Grantsville High School faculty, trained the dairy judging team consisting of Yommer and Downey and Marvin Callis, of the Accident High School faculty, trained the livestock judging team consisting of Rush and Fratz.

Members of the two teams and their instructors left Tuesday to spend a week at the University of Maryland to take a special course in preparation for their appearances in Kansas City and Springfield.

Rush is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Delone Rush, Accident; Fratz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fratz, Accident; Bowser, also of Accident, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bowser; Yommer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Yommer, Jennings, and Downey is a son of Mrs. Earl Stark, Bittinger.

Shanghai, China, is considering wide use of helicopters to aid traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cosner announce the birth of a daughter in Miners Hospital, Monday. Mrs. Cosner is the former Miss Esther Ward.

Charter Filed By Corporation To Provide Hospital For Moorefield

Fund Campaign To Be Started

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Aug. 13—The charter for the proposed new hospital to serve Moorefield and the South Branch Valley area was filed in Clerk C. C. Wise's office today in the County Court.

The corporation will have its offices in Moorefield and has been chartered as a "non-stock, non-profit" corporation with the objects stated as "to aid in providing a superior type of medical service for the South Branch area counties." The objects are further stated "to establish, maintain and operate a modern hospital for the relief of human suffering. To relieve and to take care of the indigent, sick and infirm, with or without pay."

The charter also provides for the establishment of medical clinics for the use of the people.

The name of the proposed new hospital is "Valley View Hospital, Inc." and Dr. G. E. Hartle, Moorefield, is named as one of the incorporators. Another provision of the charter is that "in the event of the liquidation of the corporation, the assets of the corporation are to be transferred to three trustees who shall be authorized to maintain, establish and operate a non-profit, non-stock, hospital or medical institution."

A site of 15 and seven-tenths acres has already been donated to the organization for a hospital. The location is on the east side of U. S 220 opposite the Toll Gate School.

A campaign for funds for the erection of the new hospital will be started in the near future.

Water Supply Investigated

A committee from the Moorefield Lions Club requested the Town Council to investigate the possibilities of a new water system for Moorefield and submitted the report from the State Health Department showing that the water supply tested unsafe 16 times out of 36 tests. The Lions committee was made up of Dr. W. H. Maxwell, R. J. Bean, R. E. Fisher, Ervin Bowman and B. J. McWhorter.

The members of the council accepted the report and agreed that the situation was serious. An immediate effort will be made to secure engineers to recommend plans for a new water supply system.

John Brill, superintendent of the water system, reported the pumping facilities were taxed to capacity and that in the event of an emergency or a break down no reserve was available. Brill reported that the pumps were now working 15 and 16 hours each day.

The council decided not to extend water lines to out of town consumers until present facilities were expanded to take care of the additional demand.

The council, last night, granted a permit for the building of a restaurant to Amazella Washington near the B. and O. station. The petition for sewer service on North Franklin Street by residents there was granted.

The streets and alleys committee on the council will recommend surfacing of side streets in order of their importance at the next meeting. Streets high on the priority list are South Main to Henkel's Upper Addition and the street to

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 13. — Just wonderful what a stage hit will do for an actress. When Mady Christians left here, jobs were few and far between, although she's always been a fine actress and always comes through with a great performance.

Orson Welles

Well, Mady, who made history on Broadway as mama, in "I Remember Mama", flies out here to play Joan Fontaine's mother in "Letter To an Unknown Woman"—and that isn't all. She's signed on a two-picture deal by William Goetz, and will also play Edward G. Robinson's wife in "All My Sons", the critics award play in October.

Joan's picture gets going August 25, and Mady, who has been playing in "I Remember Mama" in Brooklyn, gets here the 24th, just in time to go into the picture.

While I'm on the subject of "All My Sons", Irving Reiss, who some years ago was with me on "Hollywood Hotel" as a writer, gets the job as director. It was Irving who gave "The Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer" all those charming little directorial touches.

I don't believe for a minute the stories going around that Ann Miller is being groomed to take Judy Garland's spot at MGM in case Judy's illness is long drawn out. Judy is a singer. Ann is a dancer.

But the parade of musicals to boost the little Miller girl starts impressively. She goes into "Easter Parade", the super-special Irving Berlin picture featuring his wonderful music—old and new numbers.

Then Ann will be the "Belle" in "Belle of New York" for Arthur Freed, with stardom straight ahead. I'm inclined to agree with MGM that she can click with the force of a "new" stellar personality even though she has been on the screen for years.

Just one word in my column that Madeleine Carroll would be here next month to resume her movie career—and, boom, the bids start rolling in to Paramount to borrow her.

One of the first came from Harry Sherman who wants the beauteous blonde to co-star with Joel McCrea in Bret Harte's "Tennessee's Partner", one of the most famous western short stories ever written. In spite of the economy wave, Harry is budgeting near to $2,000,000 for the production—which may or may not tempt Para and Madeline.

My guess is that Paramount won't let her go to any outside producer until she has first made a "comeback" movie for them—but we'll see.

Another tragic motor accident which may make an invalid of Diana Lynn's thirty year old secretary, Aileen Horn, happened a few days ago. In a headlong collision in which Miss Horn's car was completely demolished, she received injuries to her spine which have partially paralyzed her. She is in a cast and it will be months before she is able, if ever, to work again. If only these needless accidents could be avoided.

The self-styled genius, Orson Welles arrived in London the day after Rita Hayworth left, and gave out a story to the British press that Hollywood will certainly appreciate.

He says that everything in Hollywood is wrong, that we don't understand him, and that he failed here because of Hollywood's interference and stupidity.

Well, Mr. Welles, you are the kind of American we wish would stay right in Europe. Perhaps we understand you too well—that's the trouble.

Welles also said a few things about Rita Hayworth. But, then, that's what you would expect from him. Americans who wrote from London were incensed because, as one of them said, Welles lost everyone money who had picture dealings with him.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The Burt Lancasters' baby is expected in November.

Norma Shearer, Monty Arrouge and Irving Thalberg, Jr., sail September 9 for Europe, but will be back for Christmas. Katherine Thalberg, her daughter, is staying here in school. Irving Thalberg, Jr., goes to school in Switzerland, and Norma, of course wouldn't let Katie be alone at Christmas, so they are returning for the holidays.

Eddie Moran, who has been so heartbroken ever since he and his wife parted, seemed very happy when he had dinner with Rochelle Hudson the other eve.

Ann Sheridan will receive the Varga painting of herself from Steve Hannagan this week. I am wondering if Ann and Steve will finally have the knot tied after she finishes "Good Sam". That's what I hear, but you can't get Ann to commit herself, and neither will Steve.

Such a happy telegram from Beatrice Joy, Sr., when her daughter, Leatrice Joy Hart, had a daughter. All I could think was that if Jack Gilbert had been alive, he would have been a grandfather. Think of that.

Garbo, who sailed Saturday, headed straight for Cannes and Switzerland. Valentina's husband, George Schlee, who was on the same boat, is also having a vacation at the French resort. Valentina, style designer, is in Paris.

Laraine Day is taking her children with her, when she goes to Paris to make that movie.

I don't know when I've heard a more talented young singer, than Dick Foote, who plays his own accompaniment on a guitar. He was at dinner the other evening and kept us all entertained. He's an actor in western pictures, and as far as I am concerned, should be a star in that type of movie.

John Carroll was out with Mildred Teal, a beautiful blonde. Where was Lucille Ryman, whom he was supposed to marry?

WARNING! ACT FAST ON PIN-WORMS

Pin-Worm infection usually spreads like wildfire. And it is now known that the ugly creatures, living and growing inside the human body, can cause real distress.

So don't take chances with Pin-Worms. And don't suffer a single needless minute from the miseries of the aggravating rectal itch or other troubles caused by the pests.

Get JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially recognized drug principle which has proved so wonderful in dealing with this infection. The small P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 13. — Just wonderful what a stage hit will do for an actress. When Mady Christians left here, jobs were few and far between, although she's always been a fine actress and always comes through with a great performance.

Orson Welles

Well, Mady, who made history on Broadway as mama, in "I Remember Mama", flies out here to play Joan Fontaine's mother in "Letter To an Unknown Woman"—and that isn't all. She's signed on a two-picture deal by William Goetz, and will also play Edward G. Robinson's wife in "All My Sons", the critics award play in October.

Joan's picture gets going August 25, and Mady, who has been playing in "I Remember Mama" in Brooklyn, gets here the 24th, just in time to go into the picture.

While I'm on the subject of "All My Sons", Irving Reiss, who some years ago was with me on "Hollywood Hotel" as a writer, gets the job as director. It was Irving who gave "The Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer" all those charming little directorial touches.

I don't believe for a minute the stories going around that Ann Miller is being groomed to take Judy Garland's spot at MGM in case Judy's illness is long drawn out. Judy is a singer. Ann is a dancer.

But the parade of musicals to boost the little Miller girl starts impressively. She goes into "Easter Parade", the super-special Irving Berlin picture featuring his wonderful music—old and new numbers.

Then Ann will be the "Belle" in "Belle of New York" for Arthur Freed, with stardom straight ahead. I'm inclined to agree with MGM that she can click with the force of a "new" stellar personality even though she has been on the screen for years.

Just one word in my column that Madeleine Carroll would be here next month to resume her movie career—and, boom, the bids start rolling in to Paramount to borrow her.

One of the first came from Harry Sherman who wants the beauteous blonde to co-star with Joel McCrea in Bret Harte's "Tennessee's Partner", one of the most famous western short stories ever written. In spite of the economy wave, Harry is budgeting near to $2,000,000 for the production—which may or may not tempt Para and Madeline.

My guess is that Paramount won't let her go to any outside producer until she has first made a "comeback" movie for them—but we'll see.

Another tragic motor accident which may make an invalid of Diana Lynn's thirty year old secretary, Aileen Horn, happened a few days ago. In a headlong collision in which Miss Horn's car was completely demolished, she received injuries to her spine which have partially paralyzed her. Special Programs To Mark V-J Day's Anniversary

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 — Special programs marking the second anniversary of V-J Day are to come out of the networks on Thursday.

One of them is an hour-long documentary by CBS under the title of "We Went Back" at 9 p. m. With Robert Montgomery as commentator, it will comprise a series of recorded interviews and sound effects obtained in a 50,000-mile tour of the former war areas, including the invasion routes.

At 9:30 MBS is to present "V-J Day Two Years After," a documentary in which Arthur Gaeth is to narrate a series of recordings depicting present-day Japan. Earlier at 3:45 MBS is to have a series of interviews in this country to obtain the average American thought about V-J day. . . . CBS at 5:15 in its My Opinion talks will have this theme: "How can we best maintain Peace?"

America's Town Meeting, assembled at Santa Barbara, Calif., for the weekly ABC broadcast at 8:30 is to ask "Have Women Failed As Homemakers?" The panel will include Ruth Hussey of the stage.

The MBS Martin Block party adds an element designed to aid National Guard recruiting when it goes on at 8:30. James Stewart of the movies and Jazz Piano Player Teddy Wilson will be the guests.

Two programs originate from Showhegan, Me., in connection with the premiere of a new movie. They are Betty Croker's of ABC at 10:25 a. m. and Winner Take All of CBS at 2:30 p. m.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"My husband never argues with me; he simply tries to 'atomize' the door."

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Mystery On The Light Side

The light touch in mystery stories is an elusive and almost self-contradictory quality, since comedy and bloodshed will curdle as quickly as hollandaise sauce unless mixed with extreme care. Over at N. B. C. there is now a program called "Mystery Without Murder" (10 p. m. E. D. T. Saturdays) in which an attempt has been made to dispense with the blood entirely and this hasn't worked out very well either.

Judy Canova

Hero of this whodunit is a private dick named Peter Gentle who got fed up with violence in the last war and accepts only non-violent assignments. In fact, he would rather have no assignments at all. Gentle plays a bull fiddle most of the time, drives his secretary (and a lot of his listeners) crazy with literary quotations, and refers to criminals as ruffians. He acts like a sissy but can, when aroused, fight like a basketful of wildcats. Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. used to do much better at this sort of thing in "The Mollycoddle' and "The Mark of Zorro," if there's anyone in the audience old enough to remember those days.

The show goes in heavily for quaintness of one sort and another. The characters for instance all have names suggestive of their natures or occupations. Mr. Gentle's secretary is named Amy Riddle, a hard-boiled gal is named Daisy Diamond, and there is even a comic triggerman named Rupert, who doesn't like any of his victims to hold hard feelings about it.

Since the rules of this show forbid him to exercise his profession, it's obvious there aren't going to be any victims. There are threats of violence; some of the characters are very tough indeed; and once in awhile bullets even fly but, of course, we are informed at the outset that no one is going to get hit. In getting away from one formula, the authors have created an even more hidebound formula.

There are only two other things you ought to know about Mr. Gentle. One, he doesn't make passes at blue-eyed babes and he's the only private eye on the radio who doesn't. Two, he doesn't bang that bull fiddle with the palm of his right hand; he plays it with a bow. A real intellectual.

In spite of that he isn't very funny. Incidentally, Miss Judy Canova, who isn't very funny either, will be back in that spot on August 30.

Also on the lighter side of the mystery industry are "Mr. and Mrs. North" who are back on the air (C.B.S. 8:30 p. m. E.D.T. Tuesdays) after a well-needed rest. There are no restrictions against the creation of corpses on this program; in fact, the Norths are never greatly surprised or at all shocked when corpses fall out of the clock. They've been around corpses in books, movies, plays and radio programs so many years that bodies have virtually no effect at all.

The Norths are a very much married young couple at whose door dark, laconic men are incessantly leaving mysterious packages. Thus involved, they go barking joyfully down the trail until they tree the culprit. It's a gay and energetic show but it's become a little monotonous.

Originally the Norths were quite a pair. Pamela North was feminine in all directions; she had a gift for irrelevance that amounted almost to genius. Out of the mass of significant fact she could pick out the one necessary detail. Now, she's Gracie Allen to her husband's George Burns, which isn't the same thing at all.

Special Programs To Mark V-J Day's Anniversary

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 — Special programs marking the second anniversary of V-J Day are to come out of the networks on Thursday.

One of them is an hour-long documentary by CBS under the title of "We Went Back" at 9 p. m. With Robert Montgomery as commentator, it will comprise a series of recorded interviews and sound effects obtained in a 50,000-mile tour of the former war areas, including the invasion routes.

At 9:30 MBS is to present "V-J Day Two Years After," a documentary in which Arthur Gaeth is to narrate a series of recordings depicting present-day Japan. Earlier at 3:45 MBS is to have a series of interviews in this country to obtain the average American thought about V-J day. . . . CBS at 5:15 in its My Opinion talks will have this theme: "How can we best maintain Peace?"

America's Town Meeting, assembled at Santa Barbara, Calif., for the weekly ABC broadcast at 8:30 is to ask "Have Women Failed As Homemakers?" The panel will include Ruth Hussey of the stage.

The MBS Martin Block party adds an element designed to aid National Guard recruiting when it goes on at 8:30. James Stewart of the movies and Jazz Piano Player Teddy Wilson will be the guests.

Two programs originate from Showhegan, Me., in connection with the premiere of a new movie. They are Betty Croker's of ABC at 10:25 a. m. and Winner Take All of CBS at 2:30 p. m.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"My husband never argues with me: he simply tries to 'atomize' the door."

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Mystery On The Light Side

The light touch in mystery stories is an elusive and almost self-contradictory quality, since comedy and bloodshed will curdle as quickly as hollandaise sauce unless mixed with extreme care. Over at N. B. C. there is now a program called "Mystery Without Murder" (10 p. m. E. D. T. Saturdays) in which an attempt has been made to dispense with the blood entirely and this hasn't worked out very well either.

Judy Canova

Hero of this whodunit is a private dick named Peter Gentle who got fed up with violence in the last war and accepts only non-violent assignments. In fact, he would rather have no assignments at all. Gentle plays a bull fiddle most of the time, drives his secretary (and a lot of his listeners) crazy with literary quotations, and refers to criminals as ruffians. He acts like a sissy but can, when aroused, fight like a basketful of wildcats. Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. used to do much better at this sort of thing in "The Mollycoddle' and "The Mark of Zorro," if there's anyone in the audience old enough to remember those days.

The show goes in heavily for quaintness of one sort and another. The characters for instance all have names suggestive of their natures or occupations. Mr. Gentle's secretary is named Amy Riddle, a hard-boiled gal is named Daisy Diamond, and there is even a comic trigger-man named Rupert, who doesn't like any of his victims to hold hard feelings about it.

Since the rules of this show forbid him to exercise his profession, it's obvious there aren't going to be any victims. There are threats of violence; some of the characters are very tough indeed; and once in awhile bullets even fly but, of course, we are informed at the outset that no one is going to get hit. In getting away from one formula, the authors have created an even more hidebound formula.

There are only two other things you ought to know about Mr. Gentle. One, he doesn't make passes at blue-eyed babes and he's the only private eye on the radio who doesn't. Two, he doesn't bang that bull fiddle with the palm of his right hand; he plays it with a bow. A real intellectual.

In spite of that he isn't very funny. Incidentally, Miss Judy Canova, who isn't very funny either, will be back in that spot on August 30.

Also on the lighter side of the mystery industry are "Mr. and Mrs. North" who are back on the air (C.B.S. 8:30 p. m. E.D.T. Tuesdays) after a well-needed rest. There are no restrictions against the creation of corpses on this program; in fact, the Norths are never greatly surprised or at all shocked when corpses fall out of the clock. They've been around corpses in books, movies, plays and radio programs so many years that bodies have virtually no effect at all.

The Norths are a very much married young couple at whose door dark, laconic men are incessantly leaving mysterious packages. Thus involved, they go barking joyfully down the trail until they tree the culprit. It's a gay and energetic show but it's become a little monotonous.

Originally the Norths were quite a pair. Pamela North was feminine in all directions; she had a gift for irrelevance that amounted almost to genius. Out of the mass of significant fact she could pick out the one necessary detail. Now, she's Gracie Allen to her husband's George Burns, which isn't the same thing at all.

"Perhaps I should leave you two alone!"

Market Muddles Through Another Session As Dealings Remain Slow

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(AP)—It was a case of muddling through for today's stock market with assorted special issues doing fairly well while many leaders stumbled and dealings, despite big blocks of low-quoted isues, sticking to around the recent lows.

At the start scant inclinations to extend Tuesday's comeback were exhibited. The ticker tape frequently idled. Advances of fractions to a point or so were well distributed at the close although numerous losses of as much persisted.

Of the day's total of 690,000 shares, the same as the day before, Packard Motors accounted for 140,400.

Master Electric added two points. A cheering income statement lifted International Paper 1⅛ at 47⅝. Norfolk and Western was up two at 239. Gains of a point or so were retained by Homestake Mining at 46¼, McIntyre Porcupine 54½, American Woolen 45⅞, Sun Oil 53½, Atlantic Refining 36½, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil 35⅛ and Glenn Martin 16¾.

Modest plus marks were shown for Chrysler, United States Rubber, Woolworth, J. I. Case, Boeing, Sperry, Consolidated Edison, Du Pont, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Dome Mines and Alaska Juneau.

On the offside were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester Caterpillar Tractor, American Telephone, Western Union "A", Anaconda, Kennecott, Air Reduction, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Philip Morris, West Indies Sugar, General American Transportation, Standard Oil (N. J.), Santa Fe, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio.

Improved in the Curb were Blum, Cities Service, Lake Shore, Pioneer Gold, Colonial Mills, Hollinger Gold and Mining Corporation of Canada. Turnover here was 140,000 shares, equalling that of yesterday.

The bond market went to sleep on its feet in one of the slowest trading sessions in the last seven years.

Sales of $2,290,000 were the smallest since $2,190,000 changed hands on June 9, which in turn was a low since August, 1940. Tuesday's business amounted to only $2,760,000.

United States governments in the over-the-counter market improved, the Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-72 gaining 2-32 of a point at 102 23-32 bid.

Reds Make Maps Of Own Country

LONDON — (AP) — Russian map makers are making a new topographical map of the Soviet Union. "This work is calculated to last several years," says Tass, the Soviet News Agency.

Scientists are reported going into Siberia, the Far East and "many other little explored and inaccessible places" to gather material.

C. OF C. NEGOTIATING FOR FACTORY IN DAVIS

By HELEN COLLETT

DAVIS, W. Va., Aug. 13—At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Davis this week, President Cleon W. Raese, reported on the progress made in trying to secure a factory for the town. A definite answer, he reported, will be received the latter part of this week. At the present negotiations are still being made.

A report was also made on the club efforts to obtain financial aid for the final construction of 10 miles of road from William, near Thomas, to the town of Bayard where at least half of the men of those two towns now work. They must at the present time travel 25 miles each way per day going by the way of Red House. If the 10 miles of road, which was surveyed 15 years ago and partially graded by WPA labor a few years ago, is constructed the men would save many hours of transportation.

The club is sponsoring the project and hopes to have it placed on the state list for completion early next year. The Davis Coal and Coke of Thomas have recently started the operation of a million dollar coal washing plant there and other work is employing men from Thomas and Davis in Bayard.

Following the discussion period, Dick Luzier, Parsons, briefly outlined his plans for the organization of a boys' sports club in Davis and was given the unanimous approval of the club. He told the club with its backing and financial help he will have the club organized within two weeks.

Funkhouser-Wilson Nuptials

Miss Pauline Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Wilson, Fort Run, and William Funkhouser, son of Mrs. Lizzie Funkhouser and the late Ray Funkhouser, were married Friday morning, August 8, by Rev. J. E. MsDonald at the Methodist Parsonage.

The bride wore an aqua street length dress with black accessories for her wedding, and a corsage of red rosebuds.

The couple attended Moorefield High School, with the bride graduating in 1945. She has been employed recently at Harrison's Cafe. Mr. Funkhouser is a farmer and dairyman.

Wedding Announced

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Pryllis Jean Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hamilton, Morgantown, to William Henry Cook in the First Presbyterian Church, Mannington, on Friday, July 29.

The bride's parents are former residents of Moorefield. Mr. Hamilton was connected with the State Department of Agriculture and Miss Phyllis attended Moorefield High School.

New Trooper Assigned

Trooper James Davis, West Virginia Department of Public Safety, has been assigned to the Moorefield detachment of the state police. Davis is a native of Arthurdale and joined the department recently. He completed two and a half years college work since his release from the Navy at the end of the war. Davis was a naval aviator and served with both the Third and Fifth Fleets in the campaign against Japan. Mrs. Davis accompanied the new trooper to Moorefield and the couple are residing in the McMechen Apartments.

Citizens of Moorefield are advised that the fire siren on the top of the South Branch Bank building will sound at 7:45 tomorrow night to summon residents of the town to witness at the Firemen's Hall a demonstration of the new resuscitator and inhaler which was given to the fire company by the employes of the Thompson Mahogany Company.

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Martin, left her home on Tuesday to go to the home of Kenneth Davis, where she was employed, on the east side of the mountain. She did not arrive at the Davis home and has not been seen since. Her mother stated she also planned to attend the Barrack reunion at Cross on Sunday, but was not there.

Her mother described her as 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighing 114 pounds, with chestnut brown hair and brown eyes and a fair complexion.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. John Keplinger, Keyser, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday afternoon at Potomac Valley Hospital. The mother is the former Miss Georgeanna Mills.

Patients at Potomac Valley Hospital include: Mrs. Maude Umstot, Mrs. Frances Whitlatch, Jeffrey Garlitz, infant son of Mrs. Mildred Garlitz, Keyser; and Jack Muir, Lonaconing.

"Perhaps I should leave you two alone!"

Market Muddles Through Another Session As Dealings Remain Slow

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(AP)—It was a case of muddling through for today's stock market with assorted special issues doing fairly well while many leaders stumbled and dealings, despite big blocks of low-quoted isues, sticking to around the recent lows.

At the start scant inclinations to extend Tuesday's comeback were exhibited. The ticker tape frequently idled. Advances of fractions to a point or so were well distributed at the close although numerous losses of as much persisted.

Of the day's total of 690,000 shares, the same as the day before, Packard Motors accounted for 140,400.

Master Electric added two points. A cheering income statement lifted International Paper 1⅛ at 47⅝. Norfolk and Western was up two at 239. Gains of a point or so were retained by Homestake Mining at 46¼, McIntyre Porcupine 54½, American Woolen 45⅞, Sun Oil 53½, Atlantic Refining 36½, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil 35⅛ and Glenn Martin 16¾.

Modest plus marks were shown for Chrysler, United States Rubber, Woolworth, J. I. Case, Boeing, Sperry, Consolidated Edison, Du Pont, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Dome Mines and Alaska Juneau.

On the offside were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester Caterpillar Tractor, American Telephone, Western Union "A", Anaconda, Kennecott, Air Reduction, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Philip Morris, West Indies Sugar, General American Transportation, Standard Oil (N. J.), Santa Fe, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio.

Improved in the Curb were Blum, Cities Service, Lake Shore, Pioneer Gold, Colonial Mills, Hollinger Gold and Mining Corporation of Canada. Turnover here was 140,000 shares, equalling that of yesterday.

The bond market went to sleep on its feet in one of the slowest trading sessions in the last seven years.

Sales of $2,290,000 were the smallest since $2,190,000 changed hands on June 9, which in turn was a low since August, 1940. Tuesday's business amounted to only $2,760,000.

United States governments in the over-the-counter market improved, the Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-72 gaining 2-32 of a point at 102 23-32 bid.

C. OF C. NEGOTIATING FOR FACTORY IN DAVIS

By HELEN COLLETT

DAVIS, W. Va., Aug. 13—At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Davis this week, President Cleon W. Raese, reported on the progress made in trying to secure a factory for the town. A definite answer, he reported, will be received the latter part of this week. At the present negotiations are still being made.

A report was also made on the club efforts to obtain financial aid for the final construction of 10 miles of road from William, near Thomas, to the town of Bayard where at least half of the men of those two towns now work. They must at the present time travel 25 miles each way per day going by the way of Red House. If the 10 miles of road, which was surveyed 15 years ago and partially graded by WPA labor a few years ago, is constructed the men would save many hours of transportation.

The club is sponsoring the project and hopes to have it placed on the state list for completion early next year. The Davis Coal and Coke of Thomas have recently started the operation of a million dollar coal washing plant there and other work is employing men from Thomas and Davis in Bayard.

Following the discussion period, Dick Luzier, Parsons, briefly outlined his plans for the organization of a boys' sports club in Davis and was given the unanimous approval of the club. He told the club with its backing and financial help he will have the club organized within two weeks.

Funkhouser-Wilson Nuptials

Miss Pauline Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Wilson, Fort Run, and William Funkhouser, son of Mrs. Lizzie Funkhouser and the late Ray Funkhouser, were married Friday morning, August 8, by Rev. J. E. McDonald at the Methodist Parsonage.

The bride wore an aqua street length dress with black accessories for her wedding, and a corsage of red rosebuds.

The couple attended Moorefield High School, with the bride graduating in 1945. She has been employed recently at Harrison's Cafe. Mr. Funkhouser is a farmer and dairyman.

Wedding Announced

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Pryllis Jean Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hamilton, Morgantown, to William Henry Cook in the First Presbyterian Church, Mannington, on Friday, July 29.

The bride's parents are former residents of Moorefield. Mr. Hamilton was connected with the State Department of Agriculture and Miss Phyllis attended Moorefield High School.

New Trooper Assigned

Trooper James Davis, West Virginia Department of Public Safety, has been assigned to the Moorefield detachment of the state police. Davis is a native of Arthurdale and joined the department recently. He completed two and a half years college work since his release from the Navy at the end of the war. Davis was a naval aviator and served with both the Third and Fifth Fleets in the campaign against Japan. Mrs. Davis accompanied the new trooper to Moorefield and the couple are residing in the McMechen Apartments.

Citizens of Moorefield are advised that the fire siren on the top of the South Branch Bank building will sound at 7:45 tomorrow night to summon residents of the town to witness at the Firemen's Hall a demonstration of the new resuscitator and inhaler which was given to the fire company by the employes of the Thompson Mahogany Company.

More Heat Due Today; Mercury Nears 100 Mark

Showers Predicted Here This Afternoon

Cumberland sweltered in temperature near the 100 mark again yesterday and while thundershowers are predicted for this section this afternoon they are expected to bring no relief from continued hot weather.

Mopping of sweaty brows is likely to continue since the weatherman says today will be continued warm and humid.

Maximum temperature readings in Cumberland yesterday ranged from 96 to 98 degrees, depending on where you were when you looked at the thermometer.

Up in Constitution Park were Robert R. Golden keeps the official weather records, a maximum of 96 was recorded at 4 p. m.

87 At 9 O'Clock

At Central Fire Station, a mark of 97 degrees was reported at the same hour and at 7 o'clock it still was 90. By 9, however, the mercury had fallen to 87.

The Western Maryland Railway reported the top mark of the day with 98 degrees at 6:30 p. m., but the sun was beating directly on the thermometer at the time and that was offered as a reason possibly accounting for the high report.

Despite the fact that official temperature recorded yesterday is two degrees lower than the top marks for the summer—98 recorded on June 11 and 12—Golden believes yesterday was the hottest day.

When the 98-degree marks were recorded, the official thermometer was kept on the roof of city hall and Golden said the heat reflected from the roof would be sufficient to increase the temperature recorded by the thermometer.

Since the latter part of June, the thermometer has been located on a grass plot in Constitution Park which does not reflect as much heat as the City Hall roof top, Golden related, and this factor probably accounts for the records of the June days being higher.

Rain Is Needed

Another 96-degree mark was registered on the thermometer at Constitution Park July 31, Golden said.

Despite the hot weather, crops in the area have not yet begun to suffer, according to Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, but he said there is a need for some rain.

It seems drier in the Potomac River Valley than elsewhere, he said, adding that corn is wilting a little on the uplands.

To add to the "hot weather miseries," hay fever time is here again and sufferers yesterday were getting an advance but mild idea of what is facing them after August 15, the date hay fever usually begins in earnest.

Ragweed was said to have had an ideal growing season with plenty of pollen ready to tickle the throat and nostrils and bring watery eyes to the susceptible for the next four to six weeks.

On the lighter side, City Commissioner Myers G. Light is jokingly advocating an ordinance making it illegal for men to wear coats on days when the temperature goes above 90.

Local Woman Hurt In Taxi Accident

Miss Ann Kenney, 22, 617 North Centre Street, was treated in Memorial Hospital late yesterday afternoon for a possible head injury suffered, she told attaches, when the taxicab in which she was riding crashed on Wineow Street. She was advised to return today for X-rays. Police said they had no report of the accident.

Van Parsons, 8, 427 Cumberland Street, was treated in Memorial yesterday for a cut on the right leg after he fell from a scooter and Deborah Smith, 2, Braddock Road, when she hit her head while playing.

Mrs. Mary C. Atkinson, 38, wife of Clarence O. Atkinson, Route 4, Christie Road, underwent an emergency operation in Memorial late Monday night after a chicken bone lodged in her throat. She was able to leave the hospital the next day.

Woodmen Clubs Plan Annual Picnic Sunday

The annual family basket picnic for Woodmen of the World camps of Western Maryland and nearby West Virginia will be held Sunday at Smouse's Beach, off Baltimore Pike, George E. Sommerkamp, chairman, announced yesterday.

Some 500 guests are expected to attend the outing sponsored by Mountain City Camp No. 6, this city. Buses will leave Woodmen's hall at 10 a. m., 12 noon and 4 p. m. for the picnic site.

Head camp officers have been invited to attend the picnic and the dance which will be held by the camp Saturday night.

$1,147 Allocated For Soil Conservation Use

The State Soil Conservation Committee yesterday allocated $1,147 in state funds to Allegany Soil Conservation District for the fiscal year ending next June 30, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Baltimore.

Garrett District was allocated $1,178 and Washington $1,927.

Dr. T. B. Symons, committee chairman and director of the University of Maryland Extension Service, said the funds will be used by the districts primarily to defray operating costs of machinery.

Plan Open House

The Clifford B. Sisler Post No. 9451, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Oldtown, will sponsor an open house for residents of that area tonight from 6 to 11 o'clock at the post home.

Friday night an open membership meeting will be held at the home with all veterans of World Wars I and II invited.

Union Alters Plan To Use Officials For Picket Duty

The threat of Local 654, Retail Clerks Union, AFL, to call a work stoppage at the Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company this morning apparently ran afoul of this city's picketing ordinance when plans for using four AFL officials as pickets was abandoned in favor of picketing by clerks employed in the store.

The union yesterday applied for permits for four men, C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 654; John L. Saum, Baltimore, field representative of the Retail Clerks Union; William Krapf, resident of Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, and Mike Roth, international representative of the AFL Meat Cutters Union.

Two of the men presented dues cards as required by the ordinance but police officials yesterday refused to issue permits since they "did not work at the store" in which the work stoppage is threatened.

Saum reported last night that at a special meeting in the union hall, 19 employes of the Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company store voted 100 per cent for a work stoppage Friday morning providing the company did not meet the union contract demands by tonight. He said the 19 employes represented at least 90 per cent of the store employes.

Employes of the store, Saum added, are going to picket. He did not disclose the number of permits to be sought but said it would be more than the four originally sought.

Officials of the store last night declined to comment on the situation.

Maryland Veteran Service Officers Make Year's Report

According to a report from the Maryland Veterans Commission, Baltimore, service officers during the last fiscal year ending in July in the state arranged for ex-servicemen of both wars to draw over $296,000 in compensations and pensions and offered consultation and guidance to 20,873 veterans and members of their families.

In back pay, $196,753 was secured for service personnel following their discharge and 19,093 terminal leave cases were handled.

The state officers worked 1,306 death pension claims and filed for 1,135 burial allowances. Two hundred ten body dispositions of veterans who died in service hospitals and institutions were arranged by the commission.

In the GI insurance conversion mechanics, $183,974 in insurance was secured and 1,821 persons contacted the commission representatives in regards to insurance claims and conversion advice.

The officers arranged for 610 hospital and domiciliary cases and made 738 vocational rehabilitation appointments.

In an effort to relieve the housing problem for ex-service men, the state group enabled 2,440 to find quarters. Other aids were 929 employment cases handled and 155 men placed in on-the-job training programs.

Other services rendered were 137 death claims for dependent parents of deceased veterans, gratuity pay, power of attorney grants, affidavits and notary public services and aid with ex-GI's involved in court cases.

Thomas F. Conlon, third floor, Liberty Trust Company building, is the assistant state service officer in this area.

Collins Is Held On Bond Of $500

George W. Collins, 25, Route 4, is being held in the County Jail under $500 bond pending outcome of the injuries suffered by two young men Tuesday night when the motorcycle they were riding was struck by an automobile State Police said was driven by Collins.

Ten Men Accepted In Marine Reserve

Enlistees included William O. Barb, 206 Beall Street; William P. Linn, 447 Goethe Street; Elwood A. Swanger, 15 Laing Avenue, Calvin A. Rummer, Valley Road, Roland L. Bolyard, 535 Yale Street.

Richard L. Davis, 328 Cecelia Street; Orma W. Phillips, Jr., 116 North Spruce Street; James H. Robinette, Ridgeley, W. Va.; Charles O. Calhoun, 437 Waverly Terrace, and Robert M. Dye, Midland.

FLOOD CONTROL—This view of dredging operations of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company some 200 to 300 yards below the Blue Bridge has caused some comment that it may be a flood control hazard. However, river authorities as well as officials of the company point out that the piles of rock do not create a hazard and undoubtedly would be washed away by high water. Over a period of some 15 years more than 100,000 cubic yards of stone, gravel and sand have been dredged from the river, and the operation has resulted in lowering the river bed from eight inches to two feet below the dam, thus giving water more room to flow. Rather than being a flood menace, river authorities believe the operation is one that improves flood protection.

Local Guard Units Leave Saturday For Camp Ritchie

Will Spend Week In Training Area

Officers and enlisted men of Headquartes Company and Company C, 1st Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard, will leave the State Armory at 8:30 a. m. Sunday, for a week of instruction at Camp Albert C. Ritchie, Cascade, Md., with other units of the 29th Division.

The local units will travel in trucks furnished by the Second Army. Captain Robert Matlick will command Company C and Capt. Robert Powell will command Headquarters Company. Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, regimental executive officer, and Maj. Howard H. Dickey, Battalion commander will also attend camp.

Capt. Matlick said last night at Company C drill that approximately 40 members of his unit will participate in the training period. Capt. Powell, whose unit drills tonight, expects an equal number of Headquarters personnel to attend.

The camp this year, according to Brig. Gen. Henry C. Evans, deputy commander of the 29th Division, will be principally a "training in training" session, since most of the men attending will be called upon to train new members who will enlist in the expanding Maryland National Guard in months ahead.

Special demonstrations in new and modern weapons and Infantry small arms have been arranged by trained crews. Classes in various phases of the military are heavily scheduled and each unit will spend a day on the rifle range.

When the companies arrive in camp Sunday, special church services are to be held including Mass for Catholic troops. For the first time in the history of Camp Ritchie, Guardsmen will be quartered in barracks. Previously areas were assigned for pitching tents. During the war, however, the Federal government used the camp as an Intelligence School of the Armed Forces and extensive building resulted. When the camp was returned to the State, all the new buildings remained.

A number of members of both local units, unable to attend the full week of the training period, plan to visit the camp for a day or two during the session.

Italian Campaign Filming Coming Here

The third of a series of seven illustrated lectures on World War II will be presented in the City Hall auditorium August 21, at 8 p. m. Maj. Allen W. Johnson, senior quartermaster instructor, State of Maryland, will deliver the lecture entitled "The First Phase of the Italian Campaign".

He will explain briefly events leading up to the campaign and the remainder of the presentation will be a sound film compiled from official sources.

Col. Carleton Coulter, Jr., senior instructor for Maryland will accompany Maj. Johnson and all members of the 208 Composite group are invited to attend. The meeting is also open to the public.

Refuse Wage Offer

Wayne Ritchie, president of Luke Local 676, Paperworkers of America, CIO, said last night that Harry Scott, area director, had informed him that employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company plant at Williamsburg, Pa., had rejected a company wage offer at the first of two meetings of Local 677 there.

Members of the Luke local on Tuesday rejected the offer and instructed the negotiators to "get a good contract" by August 20, when the present agreement expires, after adopting a "no contract, no work" rule. Similar action, Ritchie said, was taken by the local at Covington, Va., Monday.

Dredging Operation In Potomac Viewed As Flood Control Plan

River Bottom Is Lowered By Work

A flood control plan, though somewhat smaller than that proposed by the Army Engineers to protect Cumberland, is underway in the Potomac River and has, in fact, been going on for upwards of 15 years.

Contrary to the impression that perhaps is created when an onlooker sees the rather large piles of stone in the river about 300 yards south of Blue Bridge, the stones do not create a flood menace.

That is the opinion of river authorities as well as of officials of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company which is dredging the river bottom for sand and gravel used in making what is known as "aggregate" for mixing concrete.

In the opinion of one river authority, the dredging operation carried on for some 15 years by Metger Brothers and for the past two years by the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, has succeeded in lowering the river bed below the dam eight inches.

Company officials believe sincerely that they have lowered the bottom as much as two feet.

More Room For Water

They figure that over a period of 15 to 17 years considerably more than 100,000 cubic yards of stone, sand and gravel have been dredged from the river bottom.

With this much stone and gravel removed, water logically has that much more room to flow. An onlooker can see for himself that most of the water falling over the dam now flows down the deeper side of the channel, leaving much of the original river bottom exposed.

The operation works something like this:

A 65-foot boom with a two-cubic-yard bucket, dredges stone, gravel and sand to a depth of eight to ten feet before the river bottom becomes solid rock and piles it in a heap averaging 700 to 800 cubic yards.

While this pile drains and dries for a day or two, a power shovel lifts stone, gravel and sand from a second pile, loads it on to trucks which haul it to the company's rebuilt plant in Ridgeley where it is scrubbed, washed, crushed and screened in preparation for use.

Some of the gravel deposit you walk on or see in and around Cumberland. It has been used in local sidewalks and buildings and the Henderson Avenue viaduct was built of concrete mixed with aggregate taken from the river bottom.

Company officials and river authorities expressed the belief that the stone piled in the river would not cause a flood hazard even if high water should arrive before it could be removed.

Keep Check On River

Employes of the company keep a check on the river and usually know when high water is coming. In that event, they make every effort to remove all the stone and their equipment so it will not be washed away.

Washing away would mean a loss of time and money.

If high water should come without warning, they believe along with river authorities, that the stone would wash away as soon as the flood gates were opened.

Numerous Ridgeley residents have frequently expressed the belief the dredging operation will help their community in case of high water and the same opinion applies to Cumberland.

"We're looking for no credit," says George K. Steiner, general manager of the company, "but if it's doing any good we're glad of it."

Local Co-Op Will Pay Six Per Cent Dividend On Stock

Board, Committee Members Elected

Members of the Cumberland Service, Southern Co-Operative, who elected two board directors and two Advisory Committee members last night, were informed that they will receive a six per cent dividend on stock and a 2.6 per cent refund on purchases of the past year.

Joseph Pollock, Route 4, this city, and Paul Greise, Route 3, this city, were elected to the board, while Mrs. Roy Shryock, Oldtown, and Mrs. Ralph Buser, Oldtown, are the new committee members.

Costs Average $55.38

According to Morgan the wholesale cost of the supplies averaged $55.38. He explained that the gross margin of $5.16 had been sufficient to pay operating costs and permit a refund on purchases of 2.6 per cent on the dollar. The remaining profit out of the gross margin represents $1.23 on each $5.16, he stated, of which the refund will be made.

Morgan told the approximately 275 members who attended the meeting that the board of directors had recently voted to pay the six per cent dividend on all outstanding co-operative stock.

The dividends and refunds will be paid in voting membership stock, Morgan said, but the certificates are cashable at face value if the bearer so desires.

"We are at the peak of inflation," the local manager declared, "although we desire to provide better facilities and services, we feel that it is prudent and wise to refrain from hasty action. From the best advice available to us, we believe that our patience will be rewarded by obtaining facilities and equipment at lower costs within a relatively short time.

"I feel sure that I express the sentiment of your board of directors, and of our membership, in saying that we should conserve our financial strength rather than to dissipate it at this high inflationary point," Morgan declared.

Says Co-Op Under Attack

R. J. Jaquette, district manager of the Southern States Co-Operative, told attending members that "co-operatives all over the nation are under attack." In some incidents, he declared, those who seek to destroy farmer-owned and controlled co-ops are deliberately misrepresenting the facts.

Meetings between Affiliate and District managers are being planned, according to Morgan, in preparation for the annual meeting.

Holdover members of the Board of directors include W. H. Johnson, James Mittenberger, Marshal Porter, J. William Loar and William Shumaker. The board will elect a president soon.

Holdover members of the Advisory Committee include Mrs. Charles Harvey, Mrs. Robert Pinault, Mrs. Marton Gordon and Mrs. Harry Johnson.

Masses Announced For Tomorrow

Rev. Lawrence J. Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, has announced that masses celebrating the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary into Heaven will be held at 5:30 a. m., 7 a. m., 8 a. m., 9 a. m., 10 a. m., and 12:10 p. m tomorrow The Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow the 9 o'clock mass.

Friday will not be a fast day as today, the eve of the Feast, will be observed as a day of fast, Father Kilkenny stated.

Freight Drivers Will Vote On New Proposal

Drivers for eight local trucking firms will meet Sunday at 10 a. m. in Teamsters Hall, North Mechanic Street, to vote on a contract proposal made by the firms yesterday.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters Union, which represents the drivers, said he will recommend acceptance of the offer.

Attorneys Argue Bowling Green Tax District Law

Three Residents Challenge Validity

The validity of an act establishing the Bowling Green area as a special tax district was argued in Circuit Court here yesterday before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, with attorneys instructed to file briefs after which the Court will hand down a written opinion.

Court action was brought by Howard Painter, W. L. Maddocks, and Stephen Brown, three residents of Bowling Green, against Samuel S. Smith, Calvin R. Ayres, J. Frederick Walton, George T. Steigerwald, Clement C. May, Evans L. Feltner, Ernest E. McCullough, Harold E. Northup and Ellsworth F. Brewer, as the Board of Managers of Bowling Green.

W. Earle Cobey and C. William Gilchrist represent the defendants and John M. Robb is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Three Major Issues

Attorneys confined their arguments to three major points. (1) Whether or not the title of the act properly describes the act. (2) The kind of corporate body created. (3) Were proper steps taken to create a taxing area or district according to the statute.

Cobey told the Court that under the act 10 days notice was to be given by posting five announcements. The act also provided that the election should be held the first Monday in May. The bill was not signed by the Governor until about April 26, and notice of its signing was not received here until April 28. Notices were published immediately, Cobey said, and copies were distributed to each residence in Bowling Green. The first Monday in May fell on May 5, so actually only seven days notice were given, Cobe admitted, but he argued that since ever residence was notified, the sponsors had more than complied with the law in order to hold the election at the prescribed time.

Outline Purpose

Cobey and Gilchrist also argued that the act was intended to provide a corporation with a minimum of corporate powers, to avoid the expense of setting up a municipality and a municipal form of government. The intent is to provide an organized group which can enter into contracts for light, water, sewers or other improvements of mutual benefit to residents, and to raise funds under a tax system at a minimum cost.

The bill, Cobey said, is patterned after similar measures in Montgomery and other countites some of which have been in operation for more than 30 years.

It was also brought out that a public meeting, with 170 persons attending, was held three days before the referendum on the bill, and that almost twice that number voted for and against the measure with the majority favoring its adoption.

Robb charges that the bill is defective and that insufficient notice was not given. The hours of election, from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. were attacked, as it was claimed many residents work at industrial plants or railroads and could not vote.

Alleges Other Violations

Among violations which Robb charged are:

Violation of Section 29, Article 3, of the Constitution of Maryland in that the said act incorrectly describes its purposes.

Violation of Section 8 of the Declaration of Rights of Maryland and the Constitution in that it delegates legislative authority to the said Board of Managers and to said County Commissioners by provision of Section 7 of said act that said board, with approval of County Commissioners, may adopt regulations therein and to provide penalties for violations.

Violation of Article 16 of the Constitution of Maryland in that it provides for an election and for the exercise of certain powers and authority before the first day of June, 1947, at which time said act could only become effective notwithstanding it purports to be made

NLRB To Hold Vote In American Stores

Details of the National Labor Relations Board election to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday to determine the bargaining agent for employes of the American Stores, Inc., of this area were received here yesterday by union officials.

Mike Roth, Meat Cutters Union field representative, said employes of the stores, except managers and supervisors, would be able to vote for the AFL or no union in the election. Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union, petitioned for the vote.

Workers in Salisbury, Meyersdale, Hyndman, Pa.; Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Luke and Westernport, Md., and Piedmont and Keyser, W. Va., will cast ballots Tuesday, August 19. Scheduled for Wednesday are stores in Cumberland, Everett and Bedford, Pa.

Festival Is Planned

The Police Department announced yesterday that an alley between First and Second Streets will be roped off tonight from 6 to 11 o'clock to permit children to ride ponies during the festival sponsored by the South End Playground Association.

Deadline To File For State Police Job Is August 22

August 22 is the deadline for applicants to file application for careers with the Maryland State Police, according to Karl F. Steinmann, executive chairman of the Maryland State Police Recruiting Committee.

Steinmann said the State Employment Commissioner's office will accept applications up to and including that date. He added that a check at the employment commissioner's office disclosed that 423 applications have been sent in and these applications are now in the process of screening.

A number of applicants have not returned application blanks, and Steinmann reminded that they must be turned in before August 22.

Young men interested in a career with the State Police may secure application blanks from the employment commissioner or from any State Police Barracks, fill them in and return them to the employment commissioner at 22 Light Street, Baltimore.

First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, commanding officer of Barracks C, LaVale, and Trooper First Class William F. Baker, recently attended a meeting in Baltimore in behalf of the recruiting campaign.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore was the principal speaker and Col. Beverly Ober, superintendent of the State Police, also made an address.

The meeting was attended by two men from each State Police barracks in the State.

Kelly Vacations To Be Scheduled Late This Month

Virtually all production at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will be halted the last week of August in order to provide for employe vacations and some necessary mechanical changes, it was announced here last night.

The plant, except for several departments, will close down August 25 and will resume operations September 2, a plant spokesman said, adding that the shutdown will affect most of the 2,200 production workers of the plant.

Some 2,200 employes are entitled to about 3,000 weeks of vacation and the present plan is reported the only practical way to grant the vacations without disrupting work schedules.

The halt in production will provide a week's vacation for employes entitled to one week's vacation. The other week for workers who receive two weeks of vacation will be worked out with foremen in order of seniority preference within the department.

The plant schedules vacations during nine months of the year, but in actual practice about 90 per cent of the workers desire vacations during three months of the year, it was reported.

The company will resume contract talks with negotiators of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers Union, CIO, tomorrow.

Company officials termed recent progress on the contract changes as fair and confirmed that the company has made an offer on the severance pay issue.

Forget-Me-Not Drive To Start

The annual Forget-Me-Not drive of Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, 113 South Centre street, will get under way today and will continue until August 21, John E. Hoffman, chairman of the drive and publicity director, announced last night.

The "Forget-Me-Not" is the flower, he said, which helps the Disabled Veteran in the hospital and at home. Approximately 25 boys and girls will help to sell the flower on the streets here. This is a state-wide drive in Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Caldwell, 87 East Main Street, Frostburg, announce the birth of a son in Miners Hospital yesterday.

Veteran Sued For Unkind Remark To Diggs Child

Playmates Shun Him, Boy Says

An unusual damage suit, the first of its kind recalled here, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday claiming $5,000 damages for a remark made to an 11 year old boy, which according to the declaration, has caused him to be shunned by his playmates, held up to ridicule and abuse and excluded generally from society.

Filed by Edwin M. Horchler, attorney, the suit is brought against Joseph Helmstetter, Franklin Street, by Donald S. Diggs, infant, through his mother and friend, Mrs. Beulah C. Diggs.

Horchler outlines in the declaration for the Court that on Sunday, August 3, 1947, Helmstetter, in the presence of several other boys, told young Diggs that he had a venereal disease.

Since then, it is claimed, the remark has caused Donald Diggs "great mental anguish and great humiliation," and he is being shunned by all his playmates.

Horchler said the situation has become almost intolerable in the neighborhood for the entire Diggs family, and while they own their home on Shriver Avenue, have even considered moving to another section of the city or elsewhere.

The attorney declared that Helmstetter is a discharged Army veteran, who reputedly served in the Medical Corps. Because of this, many people seem to believe any statement of this character that he makes.

Horchler declared the family record of the Diggs shows no evidence of venereal disease, and examinations and blood tests taken of the Diggs boy by competent physicians, show he does not, and has not had a venereal disease.

The attorney said Court action was taken to attempt to remedy the situation, and that the family desires the case given wide publicity, because they feel that in this way, the attitude of people toward them and more particularly toward an impressionable child will become normal again.

AGF Band Arrives Today For Concert

The convoy carrying the members of the 208th Army Ground Force Band will arrive in Cumberland today for the concert to be presented at the Constitution Park tonight at 8 o'clock.

The band of 80 enlisted men and three officers, which represents the ground elements of the U. S. Army, will present a two-hour program in the amphitheater ranging from popular music to symphonic band arrangements.

Included in the concert will be the presentation of several numbers by the Soldiers' Chorus, comprised of members of the band.

Capt. Chester E. Whiting, director, will conduct Mozart's Overture to "Marriage of Figaro", Gershwin's "Liza" and a novelty drum arrangement of "Cheri-Cheri-Bim".

The concert here is the first of a series to be made by the organization on a tour to the midwest. The 208th Composite Group, Organized Reserve Corps, is sponsoring the affair.

Henry W. Price, manager of the Potomac Edison Company, stated that bus service from downtown Cumberland will be available to the park before and after the concert.

Two Maryland Girls In Miss America Pageant

Two Maryland girls will be contestants in the Miss America Beauty Pageant at Atlantic City, N. J., next month, it was disclosed yesterday, although only Miss Jean Dixon, this city will be officially "Miss Maryland."

Miss Peggy Wilson, of Chevy Chase, will represent the nation's capital as "Miss Washington". She was chosen from nine finalists in a talent and beauty contest on the stage of Loew's Capitol Theater.

Blonde, blue-eyed, five feet, three inches tall, Miss Wilson is 19 years old and is a student at Chevy Chase-Bethesda High School. She is attending the summer session of the school and will finish up her credits for graduation this month. She hopes to go on to modeling school this fall.

Injured State Trooper Improves

State Trooper George Coddington, injured Tuesday night when a jack fell from a moving truck and struck him on the left arm, was reported improving in Memorial Hospital yesterday.

Meanwhile, the driver of the truck, listed by State Police as Floyd Whorton, 30, Flintstone, was released from jail on bond of $101.45 for a hearing when Coddington is sufficiently improved. Whorton is charged with reckless driving.

Model Railroad Club Plans Meeting Thursday

The Model Railroad Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the adult's lounge of Central YMCA. All who are interested in HO gauge railroads are invited to attend.

The group of some 18 model railroad fans have met twice here but have not elected permanent officers since they wish to explore the possibilities of a permanent location before completing their organization.

Frederick Asks Help On Bicycle Ordinance

The Frederick Rotary Club has written to Mayor Thomas S. Post for information on the Cumberland bicycle ordinance with the expressed desire of establishing a bicycle ordinance in Frederick.

The information is being prepared and will be forwarded to Charles W. Ross, III, a member of the Frederick Club.

Lane Orders Probe Into Handling Of Occupational Disease Claims

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 13—(AP)—Governor Lane today ordered an investigation into a complaint by a Cumberland Textile Workers Union that occupational disease compensation claims were being handled unfairly.

He directed Emanuel Gorfine, chairman of the State Industrial Accident Commission, to begin the inquiry after Attorney General Hall Hammond informed the chief executive that the Medical Board for Occupational Diseases, the agency complained of, was legally under Gorfine's group.

The Governor said he had told Gorfine to use the attorney general's staff "insofar as possible" in the investigation.

The action was taken after an inquiry was requested by William Boyd Coleman, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO).

Coleman wrote the Governor the board was operating in a "one-sided manner," and alleged it had ridiculed physicians representing workers and failed to act on at least six cases of a skin disease allegedly contracted by union members.

Members of the Medical Board for occupational diseases has declined to comment on the allegations.

Study Begins Today Of Stream Pollution In Western Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 13 (AP) — The first preliminary study of pollution in Western Maryland streams, with chief emphasis on the Potomac River, will start tomorrow under the supervision of Paul W. McKee, executive secretary of the Water Pollution Control Commission.

McKee left with field experts Guy E. Lerner and John G. Walters on a tour which included a side trip to Antietam Creek, where a high fish mortality has been reported which may be due to pollution.

McKee said the study would go probably as far as Luke, and Big Savage, working down the Potomac River to Cumberland.

"We will visit industries and coal mines and interview as many people and take as many samples as we can in this preliminary trip."

He said the study had been planned by the Commission and was given greater impetus by a resolution of the Maryland League of Sportsmen which called for a special survey in the area.

The group will return Monday to Annapolis, McKee said.

More Heat Due Today; Mercury Nears 100 Mark

Showers Predicted Here This Afternoon

Cumberland sweltered in temperature near the 100 mark again yesterday and while thundershowers are predicted for this section this afternoon they are expected to bring no relief from continued hot weather.

Mopping of sweaty brows is likely to continue since the weatherman says today will be continued warm and humid.

Maximum temperature readings in Cumberland yesterday ranged from 96 to 98 degrees, depending on where you were when you looked at the thermometer.

Up in Constitution Park were Robert R. Golden keeps the official weather records, a maximum of 96 was recorded at 4 p. m.

87 At 9 O'Clock

At Central Fire Station, a mark of 97 degrees was reported at the same hour and at 7 o'clock it still was 90. By 9, however, the mercury had fallen to 87.

The Western Maryland Railway reported the top mark of the day with 98 degrees at 6:30 p. m., but the sun was beating directly on the thermometer at the time and that was offered as a reason possibly accounting for the high report.

Despite the fact that official temperature recorded yesterday is two degrees lower than the top marks for the summer—98 recorded on June 11 and 12—Golden believes yesterday was the hottest day.

When the 98-degree marks were recorded, the official thermometer was kept on the roof of city hall and Golden said the heat reflected from the roof would be sufficient to increase the temperature recorded by the thermometer.

Since the latter part of June, the thermometer has been located on a grass plot in Constitution Park which does not reflect as much heat as the City Hall roof top, Golden related, and this factor probably accounts for the records of the June days being higher.

Rain Is Needed

Another 96-degree mark was registered on the thermometer at Constitution Park July 31, Golden said.

Despite the hot weather, crops in the area have not yet begun to suffer, according to Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, but he said there is a need for some rain.

It seems drier in the Potomac River Valley than elsewhere, he said, adding that corn is wilting a little on the uplands.

To add to the "hot weather miseries," hay fever time is here again and sufferers yesterday were getting an advance but mild idea of what is facing them after August 15, the date hay fever usually begins in earnest.

Ragweed was said to have had an ideal growing season with plenty of pollen ready to tickle the throat and nostrils and bring watery eyes to the susceptible for the next four to six weeks.

On the lighter side, City Commissioner Myers G. Light is jokingly advocating an ordinance making it illegal for men to wear coats on days when the temperature goes above 90.

Local Woman Hurt In Taxi Accident

Miss Ann Kenney, 22, 617 North Centre Street, was treated in Memorial Hospital late yesterday afternoon for a possible head injury suffered, she told attaches, when the taxicab in which she was riding crashed on Wineow Street. She was advised to return today for X-rays. Police said they had no report of the accident.

Van Parsons, 8, 427 Cumberland Street, was treated in Memorial yesterday for a cut on the right leg after he fell from a scooter and Deborah Smith, 2, Braddock Road, when she hit her head while playing.

Mrs. Mary C. Atkinson, 38, wife of Clarence O. Atkinson, Route 4, Christie Road, underwent an emergency operation in Memorial late Monday night after a chicken bone lodged in her throat. She was able to leave the hospital the next day.

Woodmen Clubs Plan Annual Picnic Sunday

The annual family basket picnic for Woodmen of the World camps of Western Maryland and nearby West Virginia will be held Sunday at Smouse's Beach, off Baltimore Pike, George E. Sommerkamp, chairman, announced yesterday.

Some 500 guests are expected to attend the outing sponsored by Mountain City Camp No. 6, this city. Buses will leave Woodmen's hall at 10 a. m., 12 noon and 4 p. m. for the picnic site.

Head camp officers have been invited to attend the picnic and the dance which will be held by the camp Saturday night.

$1,147 Allocated For Soil Conservation Use

The State Soil Conservation Committee yesterday allocated $1,147 in state funds to Allegany Soil Conservation District for the fiscal year ending next June 30, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Baltimore.

Garrett District was allocated $1,178 and Washington $1,927.

Dr. T. B. Symons, committee chairman and director of the University of Maryland Extension Service, said the funds will be used by the districts primarily to defray operating costs of machinery.

Plan Open House

The Clifford B. Sisler Post No. 9451, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Oldtown, will sponsor an open house for residents of that area tonight from 6 to 11 o'clock at the post home.

Friday night an open membership meeting will be held at the home with all veterans of World Wars I and II invited.

Union Alters Plan To Use Officials For Picket Duty

The threat of Local 654, Retail Clerks Union, AFL, to call a work stoppage at the Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company this morning apparently ran afoul of this city's picketing ordinance when plans for using four AFL officials as pickets was abandoned in favor of picketing by clerks employed in the store.

The union yesterday applied for permits for four men, C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 654; John L. Saum, Baltimore, field representative of the Retail Clerks Union; William Krapf, resident of Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, and Mike Roth, international representative of the AFL Meat Cutters Union.

Two of the men presented dues cards as required by the ordinance but police officials yesterday refused to issue permits since they "did not work at the store" in which the work stoppage is threatened.

Saum reported last night that at a special meeting in the union hall, 19 employes of the Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company store voted 100 per cent for a work stoppage Friday morning providing the company did not meet the union contract demands by tonight. He said the 19 employes represented at least 90 per cent of the store employes.

Employes of the store, Saum added, are going to picket. He did not disclose the number of permits to be sought but said it would be more than the four originally sought.

Officials of the store last night declined to comment on the situation.

Maryland Veteran Service Officers Make Year's Report

According to a report from the Maryland Veterans Commission, Baltimore, service officers during the last fiscal year ending in July in the state arranged for ex-servicemen of both wars to draw over $296,000 in compensations and pensions and offered consultation and guidance to 20,873 veterans and members of their families.

In back pay, $196,753 was secured for service personnel following their discharge and 19,093 terminal leave cases were handled.

The state officers worked 1,306 death pension claims and filed for 1,135 burial allowances. Two hundred ten body dispositions of veterans who died in service hospitals and institutions were arranged by the commission.

In the GI insurance conversion mechanics, $183,974 in insurance was secured and 1,821 persons contacted the commission representatives in regards to insurance claims and conversion advice.

The officers arranged for 610 hospital and domiciliary cases and made 738 vocational rehabilitation appointments.

In an effort to relieve the housing problem for ex-service men, the state group enabled 2,440 to find quarters. Other aids were 929 employment cases handled and 155 men placed in on-the-job training programs.

Other services rendered were 137 death claims for dependent parents of deceased veterans, gratuity pay, power of attorney grants, affidavits and notary public services and aid with ex-GI's involved in court cases.

Thomas F. Conlon, third floor, Liberty Trust Company building, is the assistant state service officer in this area.

Collins Is Held On Bond Of $500

George W. Collins, 25, Route 4, is being held in the County Jail under $500 bond pending outcome of the injuries suffered by two young men Tuesday night when the motorcycle they were riding was struck by an automobile State Police said was driven by Collins.

Ten Men Accepted In Marine Reserve

Enlistees included William O. Barb, 206 Beall Street; William P. Linn, 447 Goethe Street; Elwood A. Swanger, 15 Laing Avenue, Calvin A. Rummer, Valley Road, Roland L. Bolyard, 535 Yale Street.

Richard L. Davis, 328 Cecelia Street; Orma W. Phillips, Jr., 116 North Spruce Street; James H. Robinette, Ridgeley, W. Va.; Charles O. Calhoun, 437 Waverly Terrace, and Robert M. Dye, Midland.

FLOOD CONTROL—This view of dredging operations of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company some 200 to 300 yards below the Blue Bridge has caused some comment that it may be a flood control hazard. However, river authorities as well as officials of the company point out that the piles of rock do not create a hazard and undoubtedly would be washed away by high water. Over a period of some 15 years more than 100,000 cubic yards of stone, gravel and sand have been dredged from the river, and the operation has resulted in lowering the river bed from eight inches to two feet below the dam, thus giving water more room to flow. Rather than being a flood menace, river authorities believe the operation is one that improves flood protection.

Local Guard Units Leave Saturday For Camp Ritchie

Will Spend Week In Training Area

Officers and enlisted men of Headquartes Company and Company C, 1st Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard, will leave the State Armory at 8:30 a. m. Sunday, for a week of instruction at Camp Albert C. Ritchie, Cascade, Md., with other units of the 29th Division.

The local units will travel in trucks furnished by the Second Army. Captain Robert Matlick will command Company C and Capt. Robert Powell will command Headquarters Company. Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, regimental executive officer, and Maj. Howard H. Dickey, Battalion commander will also attend camp.

Capt. Matlick said last night at Company C drill that approximately 40 members of his unit will participate in the training period. Capt. Powell, whose unit drills tonight, expects an equal number of Headquarters personnel to attend.

The camp this year, according to Brig. Gen. Henry C. Evans, deputy commander of the 29th Division, will be principally a "training in training" session, since most of the men attending will be called upon to train new members who will enlist in the expanding Maryland National Guard in months ahead.

Special demonstrations in new and modern weapons and Infantry small arms have been arranged by trained crews. Classes in various phases of the military are heavily scheduled and each unit will spend a day on the rifle range.

When the companies arrive in camp Sunday, special church services are to be held including Mass for Catholic troops. For the first time in the history of Camp Ritchie, Guardsmen will be quartered in barracks. Previously areas were assigned for pitching tents. During the war, however, the Federal government used the camp as an Intelligence School of the Armed Forces and extensive building resulted. When the camp was returned to the State, all the new buildings remained.

A number of members of both local units, unable to attend the full week of the training period, plan to visit the camp for a day or two during the session.

Italian Campaign Filming Coming Here

The third of a series of seven illustrated lectures on World War II will be presented in the City Hall auditorium August 21, at 8 p. m. Maj. Allen W. Johnson, senior quartermaster instructor, State of Maryland, will deliver the lecture entitled "The First Phase of the Italian Campaign".

He will explain briefly events leading up to the campaign and the remainder of the presentation will be a sound film compiled from official sources.

Col. Carleton Coulter, Jr., senior instructor for Maryland will accompany Maj. Johnson and all members of the 208 Composite group are invited to attend. The meeting is also open to the public.

Refuse Wage Offer

Wayne Ritchie, president of Luke Local 676, Paperworkers of America, CIO, said last night that Harry Scott, area director, had informed him that employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company plant at Williamsburg, Pa., had rejected a company wage offer at the first of two meetings of Local 677 there.

Members of the Luke local on Tuesday rejected the offer and instructed the negotiators to "get a good contract" by August 20, when the present agreement expires, after adopting a "no contract, no work" rule. Similar action, Ritchie said, was taken by the local at Covington, Va., Monday.

Lane Orders Probe Into Handling Of Occupational Disease Claims

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 13—(AP)—Governor Lane today ordered an investigation into a complaint by a Cumberland Textile Workers Union that occupational disease compensation claims were being handled unfairly.

He directed Emanuel Gorfine, chairman of the State Industrial Accident Commission, to begin the inquiry after Attorney General Hall Hammond informed the chief executive that the Medical Board for Occupational Diseases, the agency complained of, was legally under Gorfine's group.

The Governor said he had told Gorfine to use the attorney general's staff "insofar as possible" in the investigation.

The action was taken after an inquiry was requested by William Boyd Coleman, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO).

Coleman wrote the Governor the board was operating in a "one-sided manner," and alleged it had ridiculed physicians representing workers and failed to act on at least six cases of a skin disease allegedly contracted by union members.

Members of the Medical Board for occupational diseases has declined to comment on the allegations.

River Bottom Is Lowered By Work

A flood control plan, though somewhat smaller than that proposed by the Army Engineers to protect Cumberland, is underway in the Potomac River and has, in fact, been going on for upwards of 15 years.

Contrary to the impression that perhaps is created when an onlooker sees the rather large piles of stone in the river about 300 yards south of Blue Bridge, the stones do not create a flood menace.

That is the opinion of river authorities as well as of officials of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company which is dredging the river bottom for sand and gravel used in making what is known as "aggregate" for mixing concrete.

In the opinion of one river authority, the dredging operation carried on for some 15 years by Metger Brothers and for the past two years by the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, has succeeded in lowering the river bed below the dam eight inches.

Company officials believe sincerely that they have lowered the bottom as much as two feet.

More Room For Water

They figure that over a period of 15 to 17 years considerably more than 100,000 cubic yards of stone, sand and gravel have been dredged from the river bottom.

With this much stone and gravel removed, water logically has that much more room to flow. An onlooker can see for himself that most of the water falling over the dam now flows down the deeper side of the channel, leaving much of the original river bottom exposed.

The operation works something like this:

A 65-foot boom with a two-cubic-yard bucket, dredges stone, gravel and sand to a depth of eight to ten feet before the river bottom becomes solid rock and piles it in a heap averaging 700 to 800 cubic yards.

While this pile drains and dries for a day or two, a power shovel lifts stone, gravel and sand from a second pile, loads it on to trucks which haul it to the company's rebuilt plant in Ridgeley where it is scrubbed, washed, crushed and screened in preparation for use.

Some of the gravel deposit you walk on or see in and around Cumberland. It has been used in local sidewalks and buildings and the Henderson Avenue viaduct was built of concrete mixed with aggregate taken from the river bottom.

Company officials and river authorities expressed the belief that the stone piled in the river would not cause a flood hazard even if high water should arrive before it could be removed.

Keep Check On River

Employes of the company keep a check on the river and usually know when high water is coming. In that event, they make every effort to remove all the stone and their equipment so it will not be washed away.

Washing away would mean a loss of time and money.

If high water should come without warning, they believe along with river authorities, that the stone would wash away as soon as the flood gates were opened.

Numerous Ridgeley residents have frequently expressed the belief the dredging operation will help their community in case of high water and the same opinion applies to Cumberland.

"We're looking for no credit," says George K. Steiner, general manager of the company, "but if it's doing any good we're glad of it."

Local Co-Op Will Pay Six Per Cent Dividend On Stock

Board, Committee Members Elected

Members of the Cumberland Service, Southern Co-Operative, who elected two board directors and two Advisory Committee members last night, were informed that they will receive a six per cent dividend on stock and a 2.6 per cent refund on purchases of the past year.

Joseph Pollock, Route 4, this city, and Paul Greise, Route 3, this city, were elected to the board, while Mrs. Roy Shryock, Oldtown, and Mrs. Ralph Buser, Oldtown, are the new committee members.

Earl Morgan, Jr., manager of the local service, in his annual report, declared that purchases of farm supplies through the Cumberland Store during the past year totaled $156,074 representing an average of $60.54 cost per ton.

Costs Average $55.38

According to Morgan the wholesale cost of the supplies averaged $55.38. He explained that the gross margin of $5.16 had been sufficient to pay operating costs and permit a refund on purchases of 2.6 per cent on the dollar. The remaining profit out of the gross margin represents $1.23 on each $5.16, he stated, of which the refund will be made.

Morgan told the approximately 275 members who attended the meeting that the board of directors had recently voted to pay the six per cent dividend on all outstanding co-operative stock.

The dividends and refunds will be paid in voting membership stock, Morgan said, but the certificates are cashable at face value if the bearer so desires.

"We are at the peak of inflation," the local manager declared, "although we desire to provide better facilities and services, we feel that it is prudent and wise to refrain from hasty action. From the best advice available to us, we believe that our patience will be rewarded by obtaining facilities and equipment at lower costs within a relatively short time.

"I feel sure that I express the sentiment of your board of directors, and of our membership, in saying that we should conserve our financial strength rather than to dissipate it at this high inflationary point," Morgan declared.

Says Co-Op Under Attack

R. J. Jaquette, district manager of the Southern States Co-Operative, told attending members that "co-operatives all over the nation are under attack." In some incidents, he declared, those who seek to destroy farmer-owned and controlled co-ops are deliberately misrepresenting the facts.

Meetings between Affiliate and District managers are being planned, according to Morgan, in preparation for the annual meeting.

Holdover members of the Advisory Committee include Mrs. Charles Harvey, Mrs. Robert Pinault, Mrs. Marton Gordon and Mrs. Harry Johnson.

The newly elected members of both groups were installed following the election.

Masses Announced For Tomorrow

Rev. Lawrence J. Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, has announced that masses celebrating the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary into Heaven will be held at 5:30 a. m., 7 a. m., 8 a. m., 9 a. m., 10 a. m., and 12:10 p. m tomorrow The Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow the 9 o'clock mass.

Friday will not be a fast day as today, the eve of the Feast, will be observed as a day of fast, Father Kilkenny stated.

Freight Drivers Will Vote On New Proposal

Drivers for eight local trucking firms will meet Sunday at 10 a. m. in Teamsters Hall, North Mechanic Street, to vote on a contract proposal made by the firms yesterday.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters Union, which represents the drivers, said he will recommend acceptance of the offer.

Attorneys Argue Bowling Green Tax District Law

Three Residents Challenge Validity

The validity of an act establishing the Bowling Green area as a special tax district was argued in Circuit Court here yesterday before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, with attorneys instructed to file briefs after which the Court will hand down a written opinion.

Court action was brought by Howard Painter, W. L. Maddocks, and Stephen Brown, three residents of Bowling Green, against Samuel S. Smith, Calvin R. Ayres, J. Frederick Walton, George T. Steigerwald, Clement C. May, Evans L. Feltner, Ernest E. McCullough, Harold E. Northup and Ellsworth F. Brewer, as the Board of Managers of Bowling Green.

W. Earle Cobey and C. William Gilchrist represent the defendants and John M. Robb is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Three Major Issues

Attorneys confined their arguments to three major points. (1) Whether or not the title of the act properly describes the act. (2) The kind of corporate body created. (3) Were proper steps taken to create a taxing area or district according to the statute.

Cobey told the Court that under the act 10 days notice was to be given by posting five announcements. The act also provided that the election should be held the first Monday in May. The bill was not signed by the Governor until about April 26, and notice of its signing was not received here until April 28. Notices were published immediately, Cobey said, and copies were distributed to each residence in Bowling Green. The first Monday in May fell on May 5, so actually only seven days notice were given, Cobe admitted, but he argued that since ever residence was notified, the sponsors had more than complied with the law in order to hold the election at the prescribed time.

Outline Purpose

Cobey and Gilchrist also argued that the act was intended to provide a corporation with a minimum of corporate powers, to avoid the expense of setting up a municipality and a municipal form of government. The intent is to provide an organized group which can enter into contracts for light, water, sewers or other improvements of mutual benefit to residents, and to raise funds under a tax system at a minimum cost.

The bill, Cobey said, is patterned after similar measures in Montgomery and other countites some of which have been in operation for more than 30 years.

It was also brought out that a public meeting, with 170 persons attending, was held three days before the referendum on the bill, and that almost twice that number voted for and against the measure with the majority favoring its adoption.

Robb charges that the bill is defective and that insufficient notice was not given. The hours of election, from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. were attacked, as it was claimed many residents work at industrial plants or railroads and could not vote.

Alleges Other Violations

Among violations which Robb charged are:

Violation of Section 29, Article 3, of the Constitution of Maryland in that the said act incorrectly describes its purposes.

Violation of Section 8 of the Declaration of Rights of Maryland and the Constitution in that it delegates legislative authority to the said Board of Managers and to said County Commissioners by provision of Section 7 of said act that said board, with approval of County Commissioners, may adopt regulations therein and to provide penalties for violations.

Violation of Article 16 of the Constitution of Maryland in that it provides for an election and for the exercise of certain powers and authority before the first day of June, 1947, at which time said act could only become effective notwithstanding it purports to be made

NLRB To Hold Vote In American Stores

Details of the National Labor Relations Board election to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday to determine the bargaining agent for employes of the American Stores, Inc., of this area were received here yesterday by union officials.

Mike Roth, Meat Cutters Union field representative, said employes of the stores, except managers and supervisors, would be able to vote for the AFL or no union in the election. Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union, petitioned for the vote.

Workers in Salisbury, Meyersdale, Hyndman, Pa.; Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Luke and Westernport, Md., and Piedmont and Keyser, W. Va., will cast ballots Tuesday, August 19. Scheduled for Wednesday are stores in Cumberland, Everett and Bedford, Pa.

Festival Is Planned

The Police Department announced yesterday that an alley between First and Second Streets will be roped off tonight from 6 to 11 o'clock to permit children to ride ponies during the festival sponsored by the South End Playground Association.

Deadline To File For State Police Job Is August 22

August 22 is the deadline for applicants to file application for careers with the Maryland State Police, according to Karl F. Steinmann, executive chairman of the Maryland State Police Recruiting Committee.

Steinmann said the State Employment Commissioner's office will accept applications up to and including that date. He added that a check at the employment commissioner's office disclosed that 423 applications have been sent in and these applications are now in the process of screening.

A number of applicants have not returned application blanks, and Steinmann reminded that they must be turned in before August 22.

Young men interested in a career with the State Police may secure application blanks from the employment commissioner or from any State Police Barracks, fill them in and return them to the employment commissioner at 22 Light Street, Baltimore.

First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, commanding officer of Barracks C, LaVale, and Trooper First Class William F. Baker, recently attended a meeting in Baltimore in behalf of the recruiting campaign.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore was the principal speaker and Col. Beverly Ober, superintendent of the State Police, also made an address.

The meeting was attended by two men from each State Police barracks in the State.

Kelly Vacations To Be Scheduled Late This Month

Virtually all production at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will be halted the last week of August in order to provide for employe vacations and some necessary mechanical changes, it was announced here last night.

The plant, except for several departments, will close down August 25 and will resume operations September 2, a plant spokesman said, adding that the shutdown will affect most of the 2,200 production workers of the plant.

Some 2,200 employes are entitled to about 3,000 weeks of vacation and the present plan is reported the only practical way to grant the vacations without disrupting work schedules.

The halt in production will provide a week's vacation for employes entitled to one week's vacation. The other week for workers who receive two weeks of vacation will be worked out with foremen in order of seniority preference within the department.

The plant schedules vacations during nine months of the year, but in actual practice about 90 per cent of the workers desire vacations during three months of the year, it was reported.

The company will resume contract talks with negotiators of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers Union, CIO, tomorrow.

Company officials termed recent progress on the contract changes as fair and confirmed that the company has made an offer on the severance pay issue.

Forget-Me-Not Drive To Start

The annual Forget-Me-Not drive of Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, 113 South Centre street, will get under way today and will continue until August 21, John E. Hoffman, chairman of the drive and publicity director, announced last night.

The "Forget-Me-Not" is the flower, he said, which helps the Disabled Veteran in the hospital and at home. Approximately 25 boys and girls will help to sell the flower on the streets here. This is a state-wide drive in Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Caldwell, 87 East Main Street, Frostburg, announce the birth of a son in Miners Hospital yesterday.

Study Begins Today Of Stream Pollution In Western Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 13 (AP) — The first preliminary study of pollution in Western Maryland streams, with chief emphasis on the Potomac River, will start tomorrow under the supervision of Paul W. McKee, executive secretary of the Water Pollution Control Commission.

McKee left with field experts Guy E. Lerner and John G. Walters on a tour which included a side trip to Antietam Creek, where a high fish mortality has been reported which may be due to pollution.

McKee said the study would go probably as far as Luke, and Big Savage, working down the Potomac River to Cumberland.

"We will visit industries and coal mines and interview as many people and take as many samples as we can in this preliminary trip."

He said the study had been planned by the Commission and was given greater impetus by a resolution of the Maryland League of Sportsmen which called for a special survey in the area.

The group will return Monday to Annapolis, McKee said.

Veteran Sued For Unkind Remark To Diggs Child

Playmates Shun Him, Boy Says

An unusual damage suit, the first of its kind recalled here, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday claiming $5,000 damages for a remark made to an 11 year old boy, which according to the declaration, has caused him to be shunned by his playmates, held up to ridicule and abuse and excluded generally from society.

Filed by Edwin M. Horchler, attorney, the suit is brought against Joseph Helmstetter, Franklin Street, by Donald S. Diggs, infant, through his mother and friend, Mrs. Beulah C. Diggs.

Horchler outlines in the declaration for the Court that on Sunday, August 3, 1947, Helmstetter, in the presence of several other boys, told young Diggs that he had a venereal disease.

Since then, it is claimed, the remark has caused Donald Diggs "great mental anguish and great humiliation," and he is being shunned by all his playmates.

Horchler said the situation has become almost intolerable in the neighborhood for the entire Diggs family, and while they own their home on Shriver Avenue, have even considered moving to another section of the city or elsewhere.

The attorney declared that Helmstetter is a discharged Army veteran, who reputedly served in the Medical Corps. Because of this, many people seem to believe any statement of this character that he makes.

Horchler declared the family record of the Diggs shows no evidence of venereal disease, and examinations and blood tests taken of the Diggs boy by competent physicians, show he does not, and has not had a venereal disease.

The attorney said Court action was taken to attempt to remedy the situation, and that the family desires the case given wide publicity, because they feel that in this way, the attitude of people toward them and more particularly toward an impressionable child will become normal again.

AGF Band Arrives Today For Concert

The convoy carrying the members of the 208th Army Ground Force Band will arrive in Cumberland today for the concert to be presented at the Constitution Park tonight at 8 o'clock.

The band of 80 enlisted men and three officers, which represents the ground elements of the U. S. Army, will present a two-hour program in the amphitheater ranging from popular music to symphonic band arrangements.

Included in the concert will be the presentation of several numbers by the Soldiers' Chorus, comprised of members of the band.

Capt. Chester E. Whiting, director, will conduct Mozart's Overture to "Marriage of Figaro", Gershwin's "Liza" and a novelty drum arrangement of "Cheri-Cheri-Bim".

The concert here is the first of a series to be made by the organization on a tour to the midwest. The 208th Composite Group, Organized Reserve Corps, is sponsoring the affair.

Henry W. Price, manager of the Potomac Edison Company, stated that bus service from downtown Cumberland will be available to the park before and after the concert.

Two Maryland Girls In Miss America Pageant

Two Maryland girls will be contestants in the Miss America Beauty Pageant at Atlantic City, N. J., next month, it was disclosed yesterday, although only Miss Jean Dixon, this city will be officially "Miss Maryland."

Miss Peggy Wilson, of Chevy Chase, will represent the nation's capital as "Miss Washington". She was chosen from nine finalists in a talent and beauty contest on the stage of Loew's Capitol Theater.

Blonde, blue-eyed, five feet, three inches tall, Miss Wilson is 19 years old and is a student at Chevy Chase-Bethesda High School. She is attending the summer session of the school and will finish up her credits for graduation this month. She hopes to go on to modeling school this fall.

Injured State Trooper Improves

State Trooper George Coddington, injured Tuesday night when a jack fell from a moving truck and struck him on the left arm, was reported improving in Memorial Hospital yesterday.

Meanwhile, the driver of the truck, listed by State Police as Floyd Whorton, 30, Flintstone, was released from jail on bond of $101.45 for a hearing when Coddington is sufficiently improved. Whorton is charged with reckless driving.

Model Railroad Club Plans Meeting Thursday

The Model Railroad Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the adult's lounge of Central YMCA. All who are interested in HO gauge railroads are invited to attend.

The group of some 18 model railroad fans have met twice here but have not elected permanent officers since they wish to explore the possibilities of a permanent location before completing their organization.

Frederick Asks Help On Bicycle Ordinance

The Frederick Rotary Club has written to Mayor Thomas S. Post for information on the Cumberland bicycle ordinance with the expressed desire of establishing a bicycle ordinance in Frederick.

The information is being prepared and will be forwarded to Charles W. Ross, III, a member of the Frederick Club.
